

Latest from Europe!

FRANCE.

The Emperor of the French held his customary levee on New Year's day, the Papal Nuncio heading the diplomatic body in their congratulations. The Emperor expressed his thanks for the good wishes conveyed to him by the Papal Nuncio on behalf of the diplomatic body, and observed that he was happy to see around him the representatives of all the Powers. "They," continued the Emperor, "can testify to my desire to live with them in those relations of friendship which are so necessary to the security of the present and the future." The Patrie states that the Emperor, in subsequently conversing with several Ministers, took occasion to express his regret at the absence of General Concha, the Spanish Ambassador, and to utter a hope that the relations of France and Spain might be considered as re-established on the best footing.

ITALY.

Victor Emmanuel's New Year's-day levées promise to be as remarkable as those of the Emperor of the French. At the late levée, the King spoke with boldness and energy. He entreated the Parliament to put trust in him, and hoped that the ensuing year would be a happier one than that just past. What his Majesty means by happiness is expressed in the wish that the Southern provinces may be pacified, and then "the national cause would be fully triumphant." He concluded by saying that the spirit of the army was excellent and wholly Italian, and "with it and a concordant nation the world might be defied."

We read in the Movimento of Genoa:—"The Sardinia, having on board Garibaldi, has arrived at Caprera. The general's litter was lowered on to a boat, and thence removed on the shore. The general, who had not suffered in the passage, beheld his rocks again with pleasure. The two medical attendants and M. Occhipinti carried the litter in their arms to the dwelling, and deposited it in the small room of the ground floor of the old house. Thus Garibaldi, after four months' troubles, again saw his dear Caprera."

TURIN, 5 (Evening).—A circular of the Minister of the Interior published to-day directs the prefects to push forward the formation of 220 battalions of the mobilised National Guard, and not to defer it later than the 20th inst., at which date all the operations necessary for carrying out this measure will have been completed.

NAPLES, JAN. 5.—Yesterday evening some individuals belonging to the lower class of the population endeavoured to get up a demonstration, and raised cries hostile to the government. About fifteen of them were arrested, among whom were two curates, some priests, and a colonel formerly in the Bourbon service. Documents were found upon the latter, relating to a revolutionary conspiracy.

A petard was thrown down and exploded near the house of the General of the National Guard, but without doing any damage. The population remained perfectly quiet.

PRUSSIA.

The Common Councilmen of Berlin have the privilege of sending a congratulatory address to the King on New Year's-day, and last Thursday they availed themselves of it. As the Ministers had their doubts about the discretion of these civic worthies, they asked to be furnished with the draft of the address, that they might examine it before presentation to his Majesty. The Councilmen would not submit to the censorship, however, and the address was sent direct to the King. It informs his Majesty, in language as plain as may be used to a king, that he is wrong in the conflict with the Parliament, and ends with a prayer that he may turn over a new leaf with the new year, and "enter upon a course leading to peace and conciliation." The Common Councilmen are likely to get small thanks from the King for their congratulations.

CHINA.

The news from China is threatening. The rebels are again believed to be in force in the neighbourhood of Shanghai; and in a battle at another place they were defeated, with a loss of 2,000 men, by the auxiliary force under the command of General Ward's successor.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Five hundred citizens of Leipzig have sent a silver laurel crown to Garibaldi as a Christmas present.

A NEW YANKEISM.—Our best generals, writes a New York correspondent, have turned out "scalliwags."

THE PRINCE OF WALES.—It is officially announced that the marriage of the Prince of Wales will take place early in March. The Princess Alexandra is to arrive at Gravesend in the Victoria and Albert, and will be met by his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. The party will then proceed to London, and will be conveyed in her Majesty's carriages with military escort through the metropolis to Windsor Castle. In the course of the year levées will be held on the part of Majesty by the Prince of Wales, and drawing-rooms by one of the Royal princesses, or, after her marriage, by the Princess of Wales. Shortly after their marriage the Royal pair will hold an evening reception at St. James' Palace, when those who are invited will have an opportunity of offering their congratulations to their Royal Highnesses.

A recent statistical table of the comparative number of murders in the different countries of Europe shows that in England there are 4 in every million of inhabitants; in Belgium, 17; Sardinia, 20; France, 31; Austria, 36; Bavaria, 68; Lombardy, 45; Rome, 100; Sicily, 90; and in Naples, 200. In the Vandois valleys murder is almost unknown.

COMMISSION TO INQUIRE INTO THE WORKING OF THE PENAL SYSTEM.—A commission has been appointed by government to inquire into the working of the laws relating to penal servitude, especially as connected with their efficiency or otherwise as a means of preventing outrages on persons and protecting property.

SPEAKING AGAINST TIME.—At a meeting held at Willis's-rooms recently, the Bishop of Oxford said that of all the terrible things in the world it was to have to speak against time. (Laughter.) On one occasion when there was a rather troublesome gentleman at a meeting he had attended, the committee said to him, "Speak on, we entreat you, until the police come!"—(great laughter)—so he went on speaking against time until at last there was a twitch at his coat and a whisper in his ear—"The police are come!"—on which his speech came, he could assure them, to a very speedy termination.

One Bottle Did It.

REV. S. B. MORLEY, Abbeboro', Mass., writes—"The effect of Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer has been to change the 'crown of glory' belonging to old men to the original hue of youth. This was done by a single bottle. Others of my acquaintances have used it with same effect. The Zybalum I regard as an invaluable dressing for the hair."

Sold by druggists everywhere. Depot, 198 Greenwich st., New York.
