

same parties. Simple justice surely demands that an opportunity should be afforded for the explanation or defence to appear simultaneously with the charge.

We are pleased to learn that the Rev. J. E. Goucher baptized six persons on Lord's Day last. These with two others were received into fellowship in the evening.

Mr. P. Monaghan is agent for "The Canadian," an International Journal, published in Boston, for $2 a year.

The Morning Chronicle asks, "Go to Ottawa or not?" and after discussing the question, appears to think that—there is much to be said on both sides.

TEMPERANCE IN THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND.—We learn from the Church Chronicle that at a late meeting of clergymen at Hubbard's Cove "interesting papers &c., on 'Temperance in connection with the Church' were read by Rev. Messrs. Hodgson and Stamer." After full discussion the following recommendation was adopted:

"That the Church as the body of Christ possesses within herself the requisite means of a Temperance Reformation; and it is recommended that the Baptismal Pledge with its system of lay-co-operation be fairly tried by the members of this Rural Deanery. The means to which attention is particularly drawn are—exhortation on the Baptismal Promise at the Administration of Baptism, afterwards in Public Catechizing, Confirmation classes, and instruction for the Holy Communion. Much might also be done by exhorting Sponsors to their duty in watching over those for whom they have become responsible."

If there had been no 'great civil-war' in the United States we should in all probability have one very shortly. The quarrel between President Johnson and the Senate is now nearly come to a point. The fact of their having to smart so severely for the late war, will probably be the only thing to deter them from another appeal to arms. They will probably endeavour to find some other means of getting rid of their present difficulty. Friday next is appointed for the President to appear before the Senate for trial under impeachment for high crimes and misdemeanors. Whether he will or not remains to be seen. If he refuses it is possible that an attempt will be made to arrest him; which he will doubtless endeavour to resist. It is said that the President will have the same counsel on his trial as Mr. Jefferson Davis has at his, which will also probably come off this month.

NEW YORK.—Many of our readers will be gratified to learn that the labors of our brother Angell are being successful in his new sphere. We find the following notice in the N. Y. Examiner:

"A quiet work of grace has been progressing, for the last few weeks, in the Sixth Street Church of the city. Rev. Henry Angell, pastor. On the first Sabbath in this month nine persons received the hand of fellowship, and five persons have since been buried with Christ in baptism in the presence of a crowded congregation. Others are awaiting baptism, and many are inquiring what they must do to be saved."

In the same paper we find the following:

Dr. Armitage says: "It may interest your readers to know that the Rev. A. B. Earle closed his labors with the church of which I am pastor last Sabbath evening. He has been with us nearly five weeks, and his labors have been accompanied with a large blessing. I have never had an opportunity of toiling side by side with our brother till now, and although his method of presenting truth is so different from my own, I shall esteem it a great privilege to pass through another siege with him, whenever the providence of God may open the way." The meetings referred to have resulted in the baptism of 39 persons, and the conversion of a considerably larger number. Dr. Armitage will now conduct the meetings, preaching every evening.

He was 25 years of age, and a native of New Brunswick. The jury in their verdict express their opinion that the scaffold known as the "Yankee scaffold," is not safe, and they suggest that wrought nails should be used instead of cut nails in all kinds of scaffolding.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

ENGLAND.—London, March 2.—The "Times" is confident the Ministry is now complete. The following are the changes:—Earl Derby is succeeded by Benjamin Disraeli, Chelmsford, Lord Chancellor, is succeeded by Hugh Cairns, Spencer Walpole, Chancellor of the Exchequer, is succeeded by G. W. Hunt. Mr. Disraeli has called a private meeting of the Tory members of Parliament.

March 3.—Mr. Train was again arrested this evening as he was about to deliver a lecture at the Round, as alleged, for debt. The audience was very indignant, and demanded their money at the door. A serious disturbance was threatened at one time, but the crowd finally dispersed.

March 5.—In the House of Commons this evening Mr. Disraeli appeared for the first time since the resignation of Lord Derby. Upon entering he was received with loud cheers from both Government and Opposition benches. Mr. Disraeli soon after rose, and after giving notice of the introduction of certain measures relating to Ireland and Scotland, referred to the retirement of Earl Derby, saying his colleagues were loth to sever their connection with such a leader. No language could express their estimate of the character and career of such a chief, and they all most earnestly hoped for his restitution to health and power. Mr. Disraeli then proceeded to say Her Majesty had been pleased to intrust to him the task of forming a Government, and he could not decline so gracious an offer accompanied as it was by the generous support of his colleagues. In domestic affairs the policy of Lord Derby during the last two years of his administration would be followed by the ministry, and in foreign affairs the policy of Lord Stanley would be adhered to. This would be a policy of peace, not one of isolation, but one of generous sympathy and regard for our own interests and that of other nations.

Such a policy would never lessen the influence or the dignity of England. Based as it was upon esteem and respect, the domestic policy of the new Government would be a liberal one. (Cheers and laughter) He regretted the necessity of continuing the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus in Ireland, but as Lord Derby had said on a public occasion, such action was only a safeguard against such action. He said that the grievances of Ireland should be treated with tender regard for that country. After a few more explanations, not of general importance, Mr. Disraeli resumed his seat amid applause.

Mr. Bourrier, the Member for Kilmantock, said the policy of Lord Derby, referred to by the Premier, was uncertain; it meant the retention of office only the new Government would meet with serious opposition.

In the House of Lords to night the Earl of Malm said the subject of Irish grievances would come up for discussion on Tuesday next. After announcing the change in the Government, he added that its policy would remain unaltered.

Earl Russell declared no confidence could be placed in a policy which was always saying one thing and meaning another. He said the Liberal members had given their support to Lord Derby on his pledge to bring about a reduction of the franchise, but none had in reality been made. Such a mode of educating a party was unprecedented.

7th.—In the House of Commons last evening, Mr. Shaw Lefevre called up the question of the Alabama claims, and made a long and eloquent speech on the subject, urging the settlement of the question on the plan proposed by the American Government. He regarded the breaking out of the war between England and the States as extremely unlikely; but all needless irritation should be shunned. Lord Stanley praised the pacific tone of Mr. Lefevre, and warmly complimented Mr. Adams for the conciliatory spirit he displayed. He thought England had been entirely neutral, but no neutrality would have pleased America. What the United States wanted was neutrality coupled with warm sympathy and support. He denied that the United States Government claimed or could claim that the necessary recognition of the South was violation of the law but only that it was unfriendly, rash and unprecedented. He concluded by advising the appointment of a mixed commission for the proper adjustment of the question. John Stuart Mill, W. E. Gladstone, Mr. Foster and others took part in debate.

March 8.—Nearly all the leading journals have editorial articles on the Debate in Parliament on Friday night on the Alabama Claims.

The Times says the debate must convince the United States that England wishes to state the law in this case, in the American sense; and that the failure of Great Britain to refer the Alabama Claims to arbitration, is due to no desire to avoid her just obligations. Mr. Seward has only to get Lord Stanley in a like spirit to end the misunderstanding.

PRUSSIA.—Berlin, March 2.—The Zollverein convention assembled in the city to-day. Count Von Bismark was present, and in a brief speech welcomed the delegates. It is given out that the deliberations of the convention will be exclusively confined to commercial subjects.

The Prussian Minister of State has been authorized to confiscate the estate of the ex-King of Hanover.

A Choice Library of Music.

THE UNITED STATES MUSICAL REVIEW, published by J. L. Peters, 200 Broadway, New York, is before us, and merits the attention of all lovers of music. It is a mammoth monthly magazine, sheet music size, containing over seven hundred pages of musical news, reviews, and choice art items, every line of which is readable, and we should say, invaluable to all musicians. This alone is well worth a year's subscription, which is only $2. The publishers, however, do not stop here, for, in addition to the above, each number contains four pieces of choice new music by the best writers in America, thus giving a select library of new music at such a low rate that even the poorest may indulge in what has hitherto been considered a luxury.

The music in the REVIEW is of the best, as the following select list will testify, all of which has appeared within its pages during the last six months: 'Nora O'Neil,' 'Katty McFerran,' 'You've been a friend to me,' and 'Kiss me good-bye, darling,' all by Will. S. Hay; 'Good-bye, but come again,' and 'Do you think the moon could have seen us?' by J. R. Thomas; 'Ally Ray,' and 'Little Brown Church,' by William S. Pitts; 'Maribell,' by Danks; 'Let the dead and the beautiful rest,' 'Break, break, O Sea,' etc.

Also Kinkel's Heavenly Thoughts and 'Maiden's Blush Schottische,' Mick's 'Damask Rose' and 'White Rose March,' and several other choice pieces, amounting in all to $9 at retail prices.
