TRURO.—Brief notices such as the following, have a world of meaning in them which gladden the heart of Christians, even as in the words of our Lord in Luke xv. 7, 10:

Yesterday, before Communion I gave the hand of fellowship to eight, five of whom I baptized in the morning. The spirit still lingers to be gracious. Help me to praise.

THE HOLY SPIRIT VIEWED IN REGARD TO HUMAN AGENTS.—Water springing up through the earth's strata tastes of the various ingredients of the soil through which it has passed—chalybeate, saline, &c., and hence its peculiar and medicinal properties, as at Bath, Buxton and elsewhere. So the Holy Spirit, although using men as His agents, "Does not destroy the personalities of each." Their several prophecies taste, so to speak, of the mental and other peculiarities by which one man is distinguished from another. The hopefulness of Isaiah, the despondency of Jeremiah, and the sternness of Ezekiel, formed the natural substratum through which the Holy Spirit flowed. Man, as he is, is the organ upon which the Holy Spirit discourses sweet music. "Holy men spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost."—F. B. Proctor.

CAPTAIN ROOD of the steamship, Edgar Stewart, has just brought to our notice a most remarkable case of a young lady who was a passenger with him some little time ago, who was on her way home "to die as she expressed herself," as she had been told by her physician that there was no hope of her recovery, that she was in an advanced stage of consumption, and recommended her to get home.

The captain seeing that she was very sick and having a very severe cough, gave her a bottle, that he had on board of Puttner's Syrup Hypophosphites, which at once relieved her cough, and gave her much comfort. When she got home she continued the bottle and found that it had done her so much good, that a messenger was despatched to the captain to get the patient half a dozen bottles.

The patient has been taking it for some time and has improved in a most astonishing manner, so that she is now able to attend to her duties, and enjoys better health than she has for over two years.

This is not the first charitable act of Captain Rood, and who always looks after the interest of the passengers committed to his care, and says, "I always recommended your Syrup, as I could do it with the utmost confidence from the personal experience I have had with it, and I consider my medicine chest not complete without Puttner's Syrup Hypophosphites."

We are informed that a portion of each issue of the Digby Courier is hereafter to be printed in French.

F. Lewis was arrested at Peterborough, Ont., charged with stealing a six per cent. Canadian bond and cashing it. F. Lewis was at one time clerk in the Receiver-General's office, and was superannuated two or three years ago. He must have stolen the bond while he was in the department, kept it in his possession, and only recently forged and cashed it. Sale for the bond was obtained in London, England. It was a Government detective who made the capture. The bonds in question fall due the 1st January, 1885.

British Columbia. A despatch from Victoria on Friday last says: The astounding discovery has been made that the mails which left Victoria March 21 and 24 for the East and Europe never reached their destination. Robbery is assigned as the cause. The pecuniary loss will be heavy. Last December two mails from Canada and England for Victoria via the Northern Pacific were stolen.

A strange discovery was made at the Parliament buildings at Toronto on Wednesday last. It appears that a son of one of the caretakers was playing around the eastern end of the buildings in which are situated the Crown lands offices containing all the records of the department from the earliest settlement of the Province. From the ventilators under the window lighting the Commissioner of Crown Lands Office he saw a roll of paper protruding. He at once pulled it out and two dynamite cartridges of the most powerful kind were discovered. A wire and a fuse was attached and though the connection has not yet been traced to the battery, there is not the slightest doubt that they were ready for explosion at a very short notice on a suitable opportunity occurring. The mingled consternation and excitement was very great, and the word was immediately passed round the buildings of the find being made. Government officials were at once on the scene and the situation was deemed so grave as to demand an instant search of the whole of the buildings, when, under the steps approaching to the Speaker's chambers two more cartridges were found in a similar position and placed there with the same deadly purpose. Again the arrangements were completely the same, dynamite was in two cartridges, the wire was attached and the preparations had been made for the attachment, which lay a short distance from the cartridges. This demonstrated that the miscreants had been disturbed in their foul purpose and compelled to suddenly abandon it. The safe containing the records of the Registrar-General's Department is in proximity to the place where the destructive agent was discovered. The cartridges found are about six inches long by an inch and a half in diameter. They weigh between a quarter and half a pound. They are called "Etna No. 2," and are manufactured by the Etna Powder Company of Chicago.

The Halifax Morning Chronicle remarks on this so-called sensation:

In this instance it may turn out that some patriotic Torontonians have been endeavoring to settle the knotty question of the erection of new Parliament buildings. If the dynamites succeed in blowing up the old buildings without hurting anybody, Toronto should feel grateful to them.

A telegram from Dayton, Ohio says: the most destructive cyclone ever known in this part of the country passed over the southern part of Montgomery and Greene counties destroying everything in its course. Authentic statements show that the cyclone was formed by the union of two light storm clouds from the south and north-west, which immediately assumed the form of a water spout, rising and descending like waves of the sea, and destroying everything in its pathway, fully one-eighth of a mile wide, the storm moving over the country like an immense cloud of smoke, while everywhere in its course the air was filled with trees and ruins of houses. Forests were mowed down like weeds, and fences destroyed for miles.
