

would attend their daily services, and would attend three confessions, &c. Though priests are sworn to keep the secrets of the confessional, and will deny on oath their knowledge of facts which they learn from confession, yet these priests openly acted on the very abundant information derived from this source. They were in the confessional from six in the morning till six in the evening. They compelled parents and others in whose houses there were Bibles, to swear they would destroy them, and withdraw their children from the schools. They preached three times a day, and kept up for several weeks a constant and fanatical excitement among the people. The priests themselves threatened some of the parents, that unless they withdrew their children from the school, their houses would be burned down! The consequence has been that the schools have been scattered. Some of the children, indeed, have learned so much of Bible truth as to be able to brave the anger both of priests and parents, and several of them are living in the Rectory, who have been expelled from their own home by their own priest-ridden parents because they would not go to mass. The clergyman of the parish has been hooted by an excited mob in the streets. The readers and the schoolmaster share the same odium. Some of the readers, indeed, have been beaten by the people, who have been receiving their directions from the Romish Jesuitical pulpit and confessional.

As a specimen of the young people attending the school at Cong, and who have suffered, it may be, permanent and unspeakable damage from the dispersion of the school, we may select the following case as described some months ago by an eye-witness:—

Among the group of beggars at the town above referred to (Cong), there was one smart little ragged fellow, whom we shall not easily forget. He might be about seven or eight years of age. His rags perhaps drew our attention before his intelligent, unwashed face. The wind had a free passage through almost any and every part of his tattered attire. He wore a pair of trousers rapidly going into shreds. You might have supposed them to have been his father's—if he had had a father—but you soon learned that he had none. The trousers had been shortened to suit the child's legs by a very simple process. Over his back was hung a tattered waistcoat, which, for size, was a great coat to him, and partly struggling to keep this covering of rags about him, appeared his arms, which, like his head and feet, were bare.

Wishing to know a little of what was within that strange exterior, we asked if he could take us to a school at some distance, which we desired to visit. "Yes," he replied, "indeed and I can show you the way," looking quietly up through his rather rudely-cut sandy hair, which revealed a good, erect, and promising forehead. The following conversation then ensued:—

"What is your name, my little fellow?"—"Mike Conolly, Sir."

"Have you got a mother, Mike?"—"No, Sir; my mother is dead."

"Poor little fellow—and what did she die of?"—"She died, Sir, of the hunger."

"Is your father living, Mike?"—"No, Sir; he died of the faiver."

"Do you remember of their dying?"—"Sure, and I do, Sir."

"And was it very sore on your body?"—"No, it wasn't very sore, but you would be getting waik, Sir."

"Did any others die in your house except your father and mother?"—"Yes, Sir."

"Did you see any of them die, Mike?"—"Sure, and I did, Sir."

"And who takes care of you now, when your mother is dead?"—"I have nobody to take care of me at all, Sir."

"Where, then, do you go at night, Mike?"—"Mrs. — sometimes takes me in, for God's sake."

"And when she does not take you in, at night, where do you go?"—"I lay my head down on a stone, Sir, and fall asleep."

"When you lay your head down on the stone, Mike, do you think God sees you, and thinks about you?"—"Never a bit of me knows, Sir."

"Has anybody told you about God and Jesus Christ, Mike?"—"Yes, Sir."

"And who is Jesus Christ?"—"Sorro a bit of me knows, Sir."

"But why, Mike, don't you go to the school?"

"Cause they call me names, and call me a jumper, if I go to the school."

We happen to know something of the subsequent history of this interesting orphan boy. He was clothed and admitted into the school, was regularly attending the Protestant Church, and was, indeed, conducting himself with most promising regularity and assiduity as a pupil, till the arrival of those Jesuits. Now he has disappeared; and none of the friends of the school can find him, in order to give him guidance or warning. This entire series of facts we leave to the reflection of those who know this great principle, that when liberty is assailed at one point in a great country it is everywhere assailed.—Glasgow Constitutional.

JUDSON'S CHEMICAL EXTRACT OF

CHERRY AND LUNGWORT,

FOR THE CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Spitting of Blood, Night Sweats, Asthma, Liver Complaints, and CONSUMPTION.

DEATH can and has been prevented in thousands of cases by this nature's own remedy.

Judson's Chemical extract of Cherry and Lungwort. This medicine unlike most of the patent remedies of the day is the result of the careful study and experiments of a scientific and experienced Physician. The two principal ingredients have long been known and celebrated.

Wild Cherry Bark.—When the strength of this is properly extracted is the best medicine known for curing the worst Coughs and other Pulmonary diseases, it loosens the phlegm and enables the sufferer to expectorate easily, and alone will cure the worst cold or cough, which if neglected always leads to Consumption.

Lungwort.—This is a plant the virtues of which are known to but few, it has been said by the most learned men of all times, that "nature has provided a remedy for each and every disease," and the discoveries that are daily made, go to prove its truth. Lungwort is doubtless the remedy designed by nature for Consumption. Its healing properties are truly wonderful, and the rapidity with which it cures the worst cases of Ulcerated Lungs, soothing and subduing all irritation, almost immediately, is a proof of its adaptation to this disease.

These two articles combined with other purely vegetable ingredients, form a medicine that is certain to cure the worst cases of Consumption if taken before the sufferer is entirely prostrated. Do not be discouraged, a trial can do no harm, but will convince the most sceptical of its real worth.

Thousands of Consumptive persons have been deceived repeatedly in buying medicines which were said to be infallible cures, but which have proved only palliatives, but this medicine is not only palliative but a cure for ulcerated lungs. It contains no deleterious Drugs, and one trial will prove its astonishing efficacy better than any assertions or certificates in curing consumption and all the diseases of the Lungs and Liver, such as Spitting of blood, Coughs, pain in the side and chest, night sweats, &c. &c.

Caution.—To protect our own as well as the interest of the Consumptive sufferer, we are obliged to caution all to find the signature of COMSTOCK & BROTHER on the wrapper, without this it is a worthless counterfeit. Remember this.

Azor's Oriental Turkish Wine, the great Remedy for General Debility, Weakness, Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia, Bilious Diseases, a certain preventive of Fevers, &c. &c. This WINE is the most pleasant and effectual remedy for any of the above complaints, and for many others not mentioned, that has ever been discovered. It is so agreeable to the taste that any one taking it soon prefers it to any Wine; while its action on the stomach and bowels is prompt and efficient, cleansing them thoroughly, and thus by keeping the organ in which the basis of the blood is formed, in a healthy and pure state, necessarily keeps the blood pure and healthful. It is a stimulant without reaction, unlike all alcoholic preparations, which leave the partaker in a state of prostration. THIS WINE sends a gentle and agreeable feeling through every nerve, and its tonic properties are such that it will restore the weak and debilitated to their natural STRENGTH AND VIGOR. It is composed of the Pure Wine of many of the most tonic and rare Plants in the Materia Medica, the recipe for which was obtained from a celebrated Turkish "Hakim,"—Physician—and one bottle is equal to ten of any Sarsaparilla or Blood Purifier ever before known. Then give this Oriental Wine a trial; it will speak for itself better than any recommendation or certificate; and he who tries it once will never be without it. Nothing can equal it as a Diet Drink in hot climates, or on Shipboard, and no Traveller should be without it.

Caution.—Find the name of Comstock & Brother, and the Stamp of the Turkish Flag, on the label and cork of each bottle. WITHOUT this it cannot be genuine.

All orders should be addressed to COMSTOCK & BROTHER, No. 2, St. Peter's Place, New York.

Comstock's Vermifuge.—This is the most extraordinary remedy for Worms ever used; it effectually eradicates Worms from both Adults and Children. It cannot harm the most delicate infant or strongest adult, and never fails to completely root out and destroy all kinds of Worms. The cost, 25 cts. per bottle, puts it within reach of all, and all parents who are without it are wantonly exposing the lives of their children to those fell destroyers of youth, "Worms." Look for the name of Comstock & Brother, proprietors, on the Wrapper of each Bottle.

Deafness.—Use Dr. LAZZETTE ACCOUSTIC OIL, for the cure of Deafness. Also, all those disagreeable noises, like the buzzing of insects, falling of water, whizzing of steam, which are symptoms of approaching deafness. Persons who have been deaf for twenty years, and were subject to use ear trumpets, have after using one bottle, been made well.

Caution.—All of the above named are sold only by Comstock & Brother, 2 St. Peter's Place, directly in rear of the Astor House, one door from Broadway Street, and one block from Broadway, N. York, to whom all orders must be directed. Also sold by J. F. Seccord, S. L. Tilley, G. P. Everett, T. M. Reed, and G. C. Garrison, St. John; and by one Agent in every town.

GENERAL LEATHER AND FINDING STORE.—Constantly on hand—a large supply of Foreign and Domestic SUEDE LEATHER, Upper Kips, Calf Skins, Kids, Moroccoes, Bindings and Linings—plain and fancy; Buckskins for tender feet.

Also,—India Rubber for Congress Boots, Shank Lesters, Patent Screws, Cramps, Lasts, Boot Trees, &c. &c. WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

N. B.—Liberal advances made on all kinds of Leather, of the best quality of country manufacture.

26, North Side of King Street.
