

Four Days Later from Europe.
ARRIVAL OF THE "BALTIC."

New York, July 6.
The Collins' Steamship Baltic, Capt. Comstock, from Liverpool 25th June, 1 P. M., arrived at her dock in this port at 10 o'clock this morning.
The ship Unicorn, from Liverpool for Boston, was abandoned June 7, in lat. 39, lon. 51, crew rescued by the Jane E. Walsh, Havana, and taken into Falmouth June 24.
Prussian papers re-assert that Queen Victoria will certainly visit Berlin in September next. No intimation to that effect has transpired as yet in London.

The Prussian government has made offers to the Argentine Republic, of a treaty of commerce and navigation, and negotiations will shortly be entered upon to give it effect.

Italy.—The Refugees in Modena, Reggio, Parma, and Tuscany, intend to present an address to Count Cavour, and have struck a medal in his honor.

It is current that the Sardinian government has just issued a note in reply to that of Austria, and denies the imputation of fostering revolution, but expresses a fear it may break out if existing governments do not place themselves at the head of Italian nationality.

DENMARK.—SOUND DUES.—From Berlin, June 21. It is stated that owing to the mediation of Russia, an arrangement had been entered into between Denmark and the United States, in virtue of which a provisional Toll Convention will remain in force till June, 1857, and the Sound Dues will be collected under this Convention as formerly.

The town of Kars has been surrendered to the Turks, and the Turkish troops had evacuated the fortress of Redoubt Kales.

The demolition by the Russians, of the fortification of Ront and Ismail, is confirmed. Workmen are employed, under engineer officers, in leveling the walls, and sending the stones to Odessa. The Russians say that the fortifications they are destroying were built by themselves, and that they will give up the fortress to the Turks in the same condition it was when captured by Suwaroff.

Advices from Parma state that the Grand Duchess, while attempting to leave her residence, was arrested by Austrian military authorities, and obliged to return to her capital. On remonstrating, she was told the government of Parma had called in Austrian troops, and it was necessary that the Sovereign should remain to command their acts.

A letter from Malta, of June 18th, states that the Anglo-Italian legion is disbanded, and a part of them will go to Genoa, where they are engaged by the revolutionary party, whose agents have long been active at work among them, and supplying them with money. These agents openly declare that preparations are going on in Piedmont most satisfactorily, and the Germans are secretly countenancing them. Mazzini's agents at Malta say everything is ripe at Naples for a great movement.

Sir J. Packington has written to the London Daily News, stating that the policy of erecting the Bay Islands into a British Colony, was adopted by the administration of Lord John Russell. The preparation of a Commission for the Bay Islands was directed by his (Sir J. Packington's) predecessor, Earl Grey, 1852, and all that remained to be done when he (Packington) took office, was to sign the Warrant and a Despatch to the Governor of Jamaica, both of which documents were already made out. Sir J. Packington is, therefore, only responsible to the extent of not having arrangements completed by his predecessors in office.

Affairs in the East.—The Thabor brings intelligence from Constantinople to the 15th inst. 55,000 French troops, 10,000 Turks, 9,000 English, and 7,000 Sardinians, had already left the Crimea. There were 17,000 more Tartars about to emigrate to the Dobruksa. Many of them would enter the Turkish army, and 8,000 were to be employed on the lateral canal of the Danube. The Circassian Deputation was about to return, the Divan having refused to recognize their nationality in consequence of the Treaty of Paris.

Intelligence of the 16th, from Constantinople, states that 2,500 regular troops have been sent to Marasch, in order to punish the guilty and ensure tranquillity. The Porte has resolved to re-organize its army, which is to consist, in time of peace, of 100,000 men of whom 35,000 will be Christians.

Sir COLIN CAMPBELL'S FAREWELL TO HIS SOLDIERS.—The Highland Regiments in the Crimea gave a banquet to Sir Colin Campbell on the 9th, at Kamara. On that occasion the brave old General delivered the following touching speech:—

"Soldiers of the Forty-second, Seventy-ninth, and Ninety-third I am old and infirm, and I have passed the early and perilous part of this War! I have now to take leave of you; in a few hours I shall be on board ship—never again to see you as a body. A long farewell! I am now old, and shall not be called to serve any more; and nothing will remain to me but the memory of my campaigns, and of the enduring, hardy, generous soldiers with whom I have been associated—whose glory will long be kept alive in the hearts of our countrymen. When you go home, as you gradually complete your term of service, each to his family and his cottage, you will tell the story of your immortal advance in that victorious echelon up the heights of Alma, and of the old Brigadier who led you, and who loved you so well. Your children and your children's children will repeat the tale to other generations, when only a few lines of history will remain to record all the enthusiasm and discipline which have borne you so stoutly to the end of this War. Our native land will never forget the name of the Highland Brigade; and in some future War, that nation will call for another one to equal this, which it never can surpass. Though I shall be gone, the thought of you will go with me wherever I may be, and will cheer my old age with a glorious recollection of dangers confronted and hardships endured. A pipe will never sound near me without carrying me back to those bright days when I was at your head, and wore the bonnet which you won for me, and the honorable mention on my breast, many of which I owe to your conduct. Brave soldiers! kind comrades! farewell!"

Arrival of General Williams at Dover.

Dover, Monday, 10.47 a.m.—General Sir William Williams, of Kars, arrived in Dover harbour in the Queen, special mail steam-ship, at 10 a.m. He was received at the landing-place by Colonel Streetfield, the commandant of the garrison; Capt. M'Ilhain, naval superintendent of the port; Colonel Lake, his late companion in arms; and by the Mayor and Corporation of Dover. The gallant General, who was looking extremely well, was welcomed by the immense crowds of fashionably-dressed people who had assembled on every accessible point to welcome his arrival with the greatest enthusiasm. The whole route from the quay to Birmingham's Royal Ship Hotel was a complete ovation. The Corporation of Dover invited him to lunch, and presented an address to the gallant officer. The following is General Williams's reply to the address:—

"Mr. Mayor, Ladies and Gentlemen, I assure you that I feel most deeply the honour you have done me. I feel it the more perhaps in consequence of this day being the anniversary of the day when General Mouravieff appeared before Kars (cheers). For myself, I thank God for having preserved me through so many dangers, and that it has been my fortune to serve the Queen in such a manner. (Cheers.) In addressing an assembly of my countrymen on landing upon British soil, I have more than one duty to perform; and the first is to allude to those brave men who surrounded me in the hour of extreme distress, who were indefatigable in discharging their duty under the trying circumstances in which they were placed, and who supported me in every trying situation, and who, from the first moment of entering the place, were the last, were my friends and counsellors (loud cheers). I have another duty to perform, in doing which I turn to our former enemies, now our friends, the Russians. When necessary obliged me to go into the camp of General Mouravieff, I went to a brave man, who received with a kindness and a high-mindedness I shall never forget in my life. General Mouravieff is a man of the olden time. He is a stern man, but I believe that, if there be an honest man on earth, it is he. In Kars he found a half-starved, half-clothed man. He fed and clothed them. Nor was he less attentive to the wants of those in whom the seed of disease were sown, and in whom famine had more than half accomplished its deadly work. (Loud cheers.) I must also allude to you, in passing through Russia, from one end of the empire to the other, I have experienced in no small degree a friendship and charm of Russian society. When I arrived at St. Petersburg the Emperor received me in so kind a manner that nothing could have exceeded it. (Hear.) The King of Prussia and the young Prince, who is at present in England, and who is soon to be allied to England by ties more close and binding than at present, met me at the head of the troops and treated me with the greatest possible consideration. (Cheers.) The kindness and consideration were repeated when I arrived among our glorious and brave allies, the French. (Hear, hear.) God grant that that alliance may hold good for many years to come! (Loud and protracted cheering.)

The day before yesterday I was presented to the Emperor, from whom some time since I had the distinguished honour of receiving the cross of Commander of the Legion of Honour. I was sorry that, having sent it to England, I was unable to wear it upon my breast upon that occasion, and I expressed that regret to the Emperor, and explained the reason, upon which his Majesty immediately rose from his seat and said, 'I will get you another.' In a moment he brought me the star of Grand Master of the Order, with which he presented me. (Loud cheers.) Mr. Mayor, Ladies and Gentlemen, I thank you most heartily for your kind expression, and for the consideration with which you have listened to me. (Cheers.)

OBITUARY NOTICE.

Died, at Sussex, on the 3d of June, Mr. Gifford Seard, aged 66 years, believing firmly in the God in whom he had been enabled to trust, and that he would bring him off conqueror in, and through him that had loved him. He was born on the Saint John river, where he lived at home with his father for twenty-one years; at which time he asked his father's liberty to look out a living for himself. After getting that liberty, he started up the same river towards Wakefield, where he lived about a year; after which he came to Norton, on the Kennebec, and lived there some three or four years, and then removed about ten miles up that river, to the lower part of the parish Sussex; where he remained until some two or three months before his death. He experienced religion under the labours of Elder J. Gunter, and was baptized by him about six or seven years ago. From that time he believed it was necessary that God's people should live in sacredness to their Head. During his last illness, which was about a year, and particularly just before his death he felt the Lord's presence very near him, and exhorted others to seek an interest in Jesus. Nearly his last words were that he was going to glory, and calling on the name of the Lord to be with him through the valley and shadow of death. The deceased was much esteemed as a man, and beloved as a Christian. He was a large circle of friends and acquaintances, and a large number of his children and grandchildren.

DREADFUL OCCURRENCE.—On Sunday evening last the dwelling house of Wm. Pender, Senr., near Jerusalem, Q. C., was consumed by fire, and melancholy to relate three persons were burned to death; a man about 50 years of age, a lad about 6 years, and a girl of about 9 years. Several others narrowly escaped. We have not heard how the fire originated. The above is all the information we have yet obtained.

THE GREAT RESTORATIVE.

PREPARED AND CURED BY DR. M'LANE, LIVER PILL.

Dr. M'LANE, of Philadelphia, writes to the proprietors that he had suffered greatly from a severe and protracted attack of Fever and Ague, and was completely restored to health by the use of the Liver Pills alone. These Pills unquestionably possess great tonic properties, and can be taken with great advantage for many diseases requiring invigorating remedies; but the Liver Pills act pre-eminently as a means of restoring a disordered Liver to healthy action; hence the great celebrity they have attained. The numerous for saleable diseases arising from a disordered Liver, which so long baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians of the United States, are now rendered easy of cure, thanks to the study and perseverance of the distinguished physician whose name this great medicine bears—a name which will descend to posterity as one deserving of gratitude. This invaluable medicine should always be kept within reach; and on the appearance of the earliest symptoms of diseased Liver, it can be safely and usefully administered.

For Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. M'LANE'S Celebrated Liver PILLS, manufactured by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa. There are other Pills purporting to be Liver PILLS, now before the public. Dr. M'LANE'S genuine Liver PILLS, also his celebrated Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine without the signature of

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry

Not only cures every species of lung complaint, but it exerts a very powerful influence on a DISORDERED LIVER. In this complaint it has, undoubtedly, proved more efficacious than any remedy hitherto employed, and in numerous instances when patients had endured long and severe suffering from the disease, without receiving the least benefit from various remedies, and when mercury has been resorted to in vain, the use of this Balsam has restored the liver to a healthy action, and in many instances effected permanent cures, after every known remedy had failed to produce this desired effect.

None genuine unless signed I. BUTTS on the wrapper.

Valuable Freehold Property.

FOR SALE IN LOTS.

THAT very valuable Property immediately adjacent to the Government Grounds, of Cadet Heights, and within eighty rods of the Western boundary of the City of St. John, has been laid out in Building Lots, by Deputy C. L. Surveyor Whipple, each lot commanding an excellent view of the Bay of Fundy, and many of them having also a view of the harbour and City of St. John.

Inclining to the South, and therefore having the more direct benefit of the sun's rays and the warm Southern breezes, while they are protected by higher Ground from the Northern blasts, they are probably the most desirable and healthy Lots in the vicinity of the City.

Being easily approached by excellent roads, requiring no excavation or filling in, and having a soil well adapted for Gardening purposes, many of the expenses originally entailed on the purchasers of lots in the vicinity of the city are saved to the purchasers of these Lots.

Intending purchasers can be furnished with every information respecting the property, and also have an opportunity to examine the plan, by applying at the store of
