Poetry.

THE PASS OF DEATH.

It was a narrow pass,
Watered with human tears,
For death had kept the outer gate
Almost six thousand years.
And the ceaseless tread of a world's feet
Was ever in my ears—
Thronging, jostling, hurrying by,
As if they were only born to die.

A stately king drew dear,
This narrow pass to tread,
Around him hung a gorgeous robe,
And a crown was on his head:
But death, with a look of withering scorn,
Arrested him and said:
"In humbler dress must the king draw near,
For the crown and the purple are useless here."

Next came a man of wealth,
And his eye was proud and bold,
And he bore in his hand a lengthy scroll,
Telling of sums untold;
But death, who careth not for rank,
Careth as little for gold—
"Here that scroll I cannot allow,
For the gold of the richest is powerless now."

Another followed fast,
And a book was in his hand,
Filled with the flashes of burning thought
That are known in many a land;
But the child of genius quailed to hear
Death's pitiless demand,—
"Here that book cannot enter with thee,
For the bright flash of genius is nothing to me."

Next came a maiden fair,
With that eye so deeply bright,
That stirs within you strange sweet care,
Should you meet on a summer night;
But death, ere the gentle maid passed through,
Snatched away its light—
"Beauty is power in the world," he saith,
"But what can it do in the Pass of Death?

A youth of sickly mien
Followed in thoughtful mood,
Whose heart was filled with love to God
And the earley brotherhood;
Death felt he could not quench the heart,
That lived for other's good,—
"I own," cried he, "the power of love,
I must let it pass to the realms above!"

Children's Column.

For the Religious Intelligencer.

BOSTON, Dec., 17th 1856.

Dear Brother,—I promised to write a few lines for the boys' and girls' corner of your paper; I now address myself to that pleasant task.

I would first remind you, my young readers, that though you see but a small portion of this vast world we live in, you must, always remember that it is very large, and that God governs it.

You rise on a summer's morning and see the bright sun peering above the horizon; and the dewy grass glisteniug in his golden rays; and see the sheep grazing in the field, and hear the bell of the gentle cow tinkling away over the hills, the pigs squealing to be fed, and the dog barking at the cat in an apple tree or on the fence: all these are familiar sights about your home, and I hope you love it. But you may see a thousand just such sights as these in other places, and yet those places would not appear like home to you. What is the reason they would not? Because your friends are not there to assist and guide you; your brothers and sisters, and play-mates are not there to cheer you with their company, and so, with all their pleasantness, these places would not appear like home to you unless your friends were there.

Bye-and-bye you must leave all these and what will you do then for some one to protect and cheer you, and be a friend to you in this wide world? I'll tell you, read your Bible, and you will find there, that you may have "a friend that sticketh closer than a brother;" and you may enjoy the protection of Him who has promised to be a "father to the fatherless and the widow's God." And without the friendship of these, I would not give much for all the other friendships in the world. What is it then that makes us enjoy home so much? It is not fine houses, nor beautiful hills and vales, nor pleasant sights. No, but it is our friends that make home dear to us. We must leave them all however in a little time; soon death will call for us, and we shall want then to find a home in heaven; but heaven will be no home for us, if we do not find friends there. Now Jesus Christ lives in heaven, he is the "friend that sticketk closer than a brother," then try to obtain his friendship, and when you die you will be sure to find a home in heaven.

The Earnest Listener.

A pious clergyman had a careless and idle son, who left his home, went on board a vessel, and sailed to a foreign land. His sorrowful parents could only pray for him, and send him good advice when they wrote to him. The ship which contained their boy reached a distant port, and was there waiting to take in a fresh cargo, when the sailors went on shore and brought back with them a little native boy, who could play some curious kinds of music. He amused them for a long time, but at last he said, 'You must now take me on shore.' The sailors told him that he must not go yet. Oh, indeed I cannot stay any longer,' replied the boy, 'and I will tell you why. A kind Christian missionary has come to the village where I live. From him I have learned all I know about Jesus Christ, in whom I now wish to believe. This is about the hour when he meets us under the shade of a tree, to tell us more; I want to go to hear him.' The sailors were quite overcome by the boy's cries, and at once rowed him ashore.

The clergyman's thoughtless son was struck with the words of the little heathen boy. He felt condemned by them. 'Here am I,' he said to himself, 'the son of a minister in England, knowing far more about Jesus Christ than that poor boy, and yet caring far less about him! That little fellow is now earnestly listening to the word of life, while I am living quite careless obout it!' In great distress of mind he retired that night to his hammock; but his father's instructions came back to his thoughts, and they reminded him how he might seek and find that salvation which he so much needed. He became a real Christian; and great was the joy in his English home when the happy tidings reached his parents.

Are there none of our young readers to whom the desire of this heathen boy to hear more of Christ should come with equal force? With so many more ways than he had of knowing Jesus Christ his Son, how children in our land show half his eager desire for religious knowledge, or are so sincerely desirious to believe in the Saviour.—Juv. Miss. Herald.

'Begun Crooked.'

One cold morning last week, I heard the following conversation between the child and a friend who spent the previous night with the family to which she belonged. Said the girl to the visitor.—'Were you cold last night?' The visitor pleasantly replied, that 'it was very cold when he put his feet down in the bed, and he had to lie very crooked all night-' Immediately the child replied, 'That was because you begun crooked.' Probably most persons understand the truth and fitness of the remark, who have slept in a cold room and 'spare bed,' on a winter's night. But the remark, so expressive as originally applied, is capable of a still wider application, and is suggestive of some moral lessons. Look at the youth who is irregular in his habits, and crooked in all the paths which he marks for his feet, and who is even now so near destruction as to be past recovery. He has lost his regard for his parents, lost his self-respect, lost the confidence of his friends, lost all reverence for sacred things, and has approached to the very verge of ruin. And as you look do you ask the cause of all this? We answer He began crooked. There are straight men; the Bible calls them upright men—so erect in all their moral bearings, that a plumb line would touch them all the way from head to feet. These began straight and have continued as they began. Very much depends upon the beginning. And you may know, when you see in any department of life crooked men and crooked women, it is because they began crooked.—Zion's Hearld.

Varieties.

LIQUOR SELLERS' TRIUMPHS.—A man named Locke residing in Blakersfield, Vt., in a fit of intoxication a few days ago, brutally murdered his aged mother-in-law with an axe, inflicting seventeen mortal blows upon her person. He then choked his sister-in-law until he supposed life was extinct, retired to the barn, and committed suicide by hanging. He had no quarrel previously with the deceased, and his conduct cannot be accounted for, except that he had for several days been drinking liquor freely. What a forcible illustration of the unmitigated lie, that liquor won't hurt any body that lets it alone. —Crusader.

"Why," said a country clergyman to one of his flock, "do you always sleep in your pew when I am in the pulpit, while you are all attention to every stranger I invite?"

"Because sir, when you preach, I am sure all's right; but I can't trust a stranger without keeping a good look-out."

It is stated that the wife of one of the most distinguished physicians of Paris, wears a ring made of iron that was extracted from the blood taken from her husband during some disease with which he was afflicted. But this is not more remarkable than the set of jewelry a lady wears, which was produded perfect by the sweat of her husband's brow.

FASHION.—If God were in love with fashions, he were never better served than in this age, for our world is like a pageant, where every man's apparel is better than himself. Once Christ said that soft clothing is in the king's courts, but now it is crept into every house. Then the rich glutton jetted in purple every day; but now the poor unthrift jets as brave as the glutton, with so many circumstances about him, that if ye could see how Pride would walk herself if she did wear apparel, she would even go like many in the streets; for she could go braver, nor look stouter, nor mince finer, nor set on more laces, nor make larger cuts, nor carry more trappings about her, than our ruffians and wantons do at this day. How far are these fashions altered from those leather coats which God made in Paradise! If their bodies did change forms so often as their apparel changeth fashions, they should have more shapes than they have fingers and toes.—Gol. Rule.

THE languages and dialects spoken in the world amount to 3,023, of which 587 are in Europe, 896 in Asia, 276 in Africa, and 1,264 in America. How much is to be done to "preach the gospel to every creature!"

WHOLESALE MURDER.—At the battle of Leipsic, which lasted three days, Napoleon lost two Marshals, twenty Generals, and about 60,000 men killed, wounded and missing. The allies lost 7,790 officers and 49,000 men. At the battle of Waterloo the allies lost 16,636 men, and the French about 30,000. About 300,000 men were killed in the various battles of the world in 1855.

John H. Mears, the companion of the late Dr. Gardner in his stupendous frauds upon the United States, was killed the other day in Mexico. Since he obtained his share of the plunder he has been a wanderer in that country, and had lost all his money. He had finally sunk into a pedler of small wares, and was robbed, and murdered while pursuing the traffic.

MISSIONARIES IN THE PACIFIC.—There are on the islands of the Pacific Ocean, in connection with the London, Church, Wesleyan, and American Missionary Societies, 119 missionaries, 45,929 communicants, 239,900 professed Protestants, and 54,708 pupils. The largest single Protestant church in the world is on one of these islands. Christian missions have had their greatest triumphs among the heathen of this ocean world.—N. Y. Ob.

MARLBORO HOTEL, BOSTON.—JOHN A PARKS Proprietor.—This house is very pleasantly situated on Washington Street, and location very central. It has recently been refitted and furnished, and is now the best temperance house in town. There is social worship morning and evening in the parlors, where all who choose may be present. It is a house where the traveller will find a pleasant home.

Steam Sash and Door Factory,
HARDING STREET.

JOHN H. STUART & CO. would respectfully inform his friends and the public generally, that they have recently taken the Steam Sash Factory in Harding street lately occupied by CLARKE & McALPINE, and formerly by JOHN K. TURNBULL, where they have on hand a large stock, and are continually manufacturing all kinds of DOORS, SASHES, and WINDOW Frames, which upon inspection, will be found of a superior quality, and as such they will be warranted, as it is the determination of the Subscribers to furnish their Patrons with such work as will reflect credit upon themselves and the establishment, and do away with the prejudice that exists against Machine Work. Parties contemplating building will find that they can obtain Doors and Sashes of a superior quality at our establishment far cheaper than they can get them made by hand. Joiners doing business in the country can have Sashes glazed or unglaze, packed to order in such a manner as will ensure their safety.

Remember the stand, Harding street, opposite the South-west corner, Queen's square, and give us a call.

Turning of all kinds executed with despatch. Jig Sawing done. Jig Saws to let by the hour.

Golden Ball Marble Establishment,
Corner of Union and Sydney Streets,
SAINT JOHN N. B.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his friends in St John, and the public generally throughout the British Provinces, that he has removed his MARBLE CUTTING ESTABLISHMENT on Union Street, to a building lately erected by himself on the GOLDEN BALL CORNER, where he is prepared to carry on business on a more extensive scale, in the execution of Monuments, Tomb Tables, Head Stones, Centre Tables, and every description of ORNAMENTAL WORK required in his line of business.

Purchasers would do well to call and examine the style of work and prices before purchasing elsewhere; as the Subscriber has fitted up steam power, by which he is enabled to sell at lower prices than such articles can be obtained for in this City, or from the United States. The marble, also, is of the best quality, and the workmanship is as good as can be produced in the Province.

Chimney Pieces can be furnished to suit purchasers. Ten per Cent. discount made for Cash.

Enclosing a certificate.

MESSRS. FELLOWS & CO.—GENTS.—I made the examination of the Worm Lozenges as you desired, and found only the product mentioned in your note, which was of course expected, but which was not the less interesting to me. You have made an excellent choice of ingredients and the preparation is a tempting one, and must meet with a large sale from its merits. I enclose a document which you may publish.

Truly yours,
A. A HAYES,

CERTIFICATE.

I have analysed the WORM LOZENGES prepared by Messrs. FELLOWS & Co., and find that they are free from Mercury and other metallic or mineral matter.

These Lozenges are skillfully compounded, pleasant to the taste, safe—yet sure and effective in their action.
Respectfully,

THE ANGLO SAXON MEDICINE is the only sure remedy in the cure of Dyspepsia in its worst stages. Indigestion, Billious and Liver Complaints. Consumption has been cured by this celebrated medicine, and advice.—Ample testimony on hand, cannot fail to convince the most scrupulous of the value and efficiency of the Anglo Saxon Medicine. The Albion Liniment has no competitor in all diseases where external application is required—no matter what the disease is—it has not as yet failed. A single trial will convince the most sceptical of its value. Please read the following respectable testimony:—

To DR. BENJAMIN LEARY,

DEAR SIR—I strained my Chest on a raft which I was running from Woodstock to Fredericton, and when I arrived at the latter place I was wholly unable to do any manner of labour; and was under serious apprehension of not being able to do anything for a long period of time. But being persuaded to try a bottle of your Albion Liniment, I procured one from Smith and Atherton, and did not apply more than one half of it on my chest before I was completely cured. The cure was to quick, and the relief so sensible, that I can recommend it to all who may be in the same condition that I was. Your most obedient servant,
Fredericton, June 8, 18 9. D A. I OYT.

GRANVILLE, Nova Scotia, July 8d., 2856

DR. BENJAMIN LEARY, Sir.—This is to certify that I have been afflicted with Rheumatism, in different parts of my body, for two months. After trying different remedies, could find no relief; but after trying one bottle of your Almon Liniment, I am perfectly cured, and am able to attend to my business; and I can recommend it to those afflicted with Rheumatic pains in their various forms. I remain, Dear Sir,
Yours most Respectfully,
CAPTAIN WILLIAM H. GILLIATT.

PROFESSOR WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.
IT HAS WORKED MIRACLES!

THAT ALL THE BALD AND GRAY CAN BE RESTORED TO THEIR ORIGINAL GROWTH, and color so far as locks and whiskers are concerned does not admit of doubt; besides, it will cure every possible disease of the scalp, whether developed as dandruff itching or in the shape of cutaneous eruptions—even scald-head—and in no possible case will it fail of curing as if by magic, nervous or periodical head-ache, and if used twice a week by the young regularity, it will preserve the color, and keep the hair from falling, to any imaginable age. Read and judge.

Millford, Worchester Co., Mass., Nov. 1855.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir; I take pleasure in bearing voluntary testimony to the magic effects of your wonderful Hair Restorative. As far back as 1836, my hair commenced falling off, until the top of my scalp became bald and smooth as glass, and it has continued to fall for a great many years, notwithstanding I have used many celebrated preparations for restoration. Seeing your advertisement I was induced to give your article a trial, and to my utter astonishment, found, after a few applications, that my hair became firmly set, and assumed a glossy and beautiful appearance; and by the time I had used a quart bottle, my bald head was covered over with a young and vigorous growth of hair, which is now from one to two inches in length, and growing fast.
Yours, truly, HENRY GOODRICH.

CHARLESTOWN, Mass., Aug. 9, 1855.

GENTS:—Nothing but a duty and sympathy that I feel to communicate to them that are afflicted as I have been, would induce me to give this public acknowledgement of the benefit I have received from Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. When I first commenced using it, my hair was quite grey, and is now entirely bald. I have now used the Restorative about five months, and my hair is entirely changed to its original color, brown, and the new hair is over three inches in length on the spots where it was bald. I have also been much gratified at the healthy moisture and vigor of the hair, which before was very dry, and it has ceased to come out as formerly. Respectfully yours, &c., Mrs. R. A. STODDARD.

From Mrs. Ingalls, a well known nurse in Boston.

BOSTON Oct. 15th, 1856.

GENTS:—At your request, and being so highly pleased with the effects of the Restorative, I am free to state that my hair had become quite thin, and entirely white. I have for the past five years been in the habit of using dye, but hearing of the extraordinary effects of this article, I was induced to try it. My hair has been restored to its original thickness, and also to its former color, which is light brown.
Yours respectfully, MRS. INGALLS.

The following is from the Pastor of the Orthodox Church, Brookfield.

BROOKFIELD, Mass., Jan. 12, 1855.

Prof. WOOD—Dear Sir—Having made trial as your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effects have been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff, and a constant tendency to itching, with which I have been troubled from my childhood, and has also restored the hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article, which has done anything like the same pleasure and profit. Yours, truly, J. K. BRAGG.

WHAT IS IT FOR—THE WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE?—Its question asked daily by hundreds. We answer without hesitation or fear of contradiction, that it is the only article known which will do all it promises for the human hair. It will renew its growth—it will stop its falling—it will restore its natural color! It is not a Hair Dye, but a speedy and efficacious Restorative.

PERRY DAVIS'
VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER
The Most Popular Medicine in the World.

OPINIONS OF THE FREE.

We take pleasure in referring to the virtue of Davis's Pain Killer. We have used it and found it valuable. The sale of this article in the United States is beyond all precedent, as the office will show.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Davis's Vegetable Pain Killer. We first heard of this medicine during a visit to the New England States, and being struck with the novelty of it, were induced to make some inquiry about it; and were surprised to learn that it was kept in the houses of most of the inhabitants of the villages where we stopped, to be used in sudden attacks of pain, burns, scolds, &c., and it spoken of in terms of high commendation by druggists and physicians.—Philadelphia Eagle.

Perry Davis's Pain Killer.—It is a remedy for us to speak favorably of this article, but for burns and pleasure universally to be a good and safe remedy for burns and other pains of the body. It is valuable not only in colds in the winter, but for various summer complaints, and should be in every family. The casualties which demands it may come unawares.—Chris. Advocate

Valuable Medicine.—The sale of this remarkable and truly valuable preparation, Perry Davis's Pain Killer, is constantly and rapidly increasing. During the past year the demand for this great remedy has been altogether unprecedented. Scarcely a week passes by during which we do not hear of some remarkable cure having been performed, within the circle of our acquaintance, by the use of Perry Davis's Pain Killer.—Prov. Gaz. Advertiser.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM INDIA.

Messrs Perry Davis & Son,—I am happy to be able to add that your medicine is getting more and more into note, and consequently the demand for it increasing. The sales at most of the various sub-Agencies are very satisfactory, especially in Maulmain and Dinapore; in fact, wherever European Regiments are located the sales are extensive. A party in Agra will send for a supply for his personal use and that of his friends, says the demand for it is great, and receives the appointment of an Agent there.

Mr. Toone, of Barrack pore, writes under date of 20th October: "This will certify that my son, 19 years of age, was taken suddenly ill in the night, with severe pain in the stomach, followed by Cholera. Found no relief until I gave him a teaspoonful of the Pain Killer, diluted with a warm water; but after the expiration of a few moments, he brought it up, when I repeated the dose, which partially relieved him. followed it with a third dose, when he fell asleep, and on waking next morning he was quite fresh. I consider it a most valuable medicine to be always at hand.
I remain yours, &c.
J. L. CARRAU, Calcutta.

We are glad to learn that Perry Davis's Pain Killer is having so large a sale in our city. We have ever reason to believe it to be an almost never failing cure for pain, and as such is a medicine no family should be without.—Montreal Pilot.

DAVIS'S PAIN KILLER.

This unparalleled preparation is receiving more testimonials of its wonderful efficacy in removing pain than any other medicine ever offered to the public, and these testimonials come from persons of every degree of intelligence and every rank of life. Physicians of the first respectability, and perfectly conversant with the nature of diseases and remedies, have recommended this as one of the most effectual in the line of preparations for the extinction of pain. The Pain Killer is used internally and externally, according to the nature of the complaint. It has been found to be an excellent remedy for sudden Colds, Coughs, Fever and Ague, Asthma and Phthisic, Pain in the Head, Kidney Complaints, Piles, Rheumatic Complaints, Bruises and Sores, Severe Burns, Cankers, Bites and Ringworms, Weak Stomach and General Debility, Painter's Colic, Broken Breastal Bowel Complaint and Dysentery, Cholera, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Toothache, &c.

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.—DR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, Mass., has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds, a remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOR, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humour). He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its virtue, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humors in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruption of the skin.

Two to three bottles warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Reader, I peddled over a thousand bottles of this in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effect of it in every case. So sure as water will extinguish fire, so sure will this cure humor. I never sold a bottle of it but that sold another; after a trial it always speaks for itself. There are two things about this herb that appears to me surprising; first, that it grows in our pastures, in some places quite plentiful, and yet its value has never been known until I discovered it in 1845—second, that it should cure all kinds of humor.

In order to give some idea of the sudden rise and great popularity of the discovery, I will state that in April, 1853, I peddled it, and sold about six bottles per day: in April, 1854, I sold over one thousand bottles per day of it.

Some of the wholesale Druggists who have been in business twenty and thirty years, say that nothing in the annals of patent medicines was ever like it. There is a universal praise of it from all quarters.

In my own practice I always kept it strictly for humors—but since its introduction as a general family medicine, great and wonderful virtues have been found in it that I never suspected.

Several cases of epileptic fits—a disease which was always considered incurable, have been cured by a few bottles. O, what a mercy if it will prove effectual in all cases of that awful malady—there are but few who have seen more of it than I have.

I know
