Poetry.

ONE BY ONE.

One by one the sands are flowing,
One by one the moments fall;
Some are coming, some are going,
Do not strive to grasp them all.

One by one thy duties wait thee,
Let thy whole strength go to each,
Let no future dreams elate thee,
Learn thou first what these can teach.

One by one (bright gifts from heaven)
Joys are sent thee here below,
Take them readily when given,
Ready, too, to let them go.

One by one thy griefs shall meet thee,
Do not fear a thronging band;
One will fade as others greet thee,
Shadows passing through the land.

Do not look at life's long sorrow;
See how small each moment's pain,
God will help thee for to-morrow,
Every day begin again.

Every hour that fleets so slowly
Has its task to do or bear,
Luminous the crown and holy,
If thou set each gem with care.

Do not linger with regretting,
Or for passion, hours despond;
Nor, the daily toil forgetting,
Look too eagerly beyond.

Hours are golden links, God's token,
Reaching heaven, but one by one;
Take them, lest the chain be broken
Ere the pilgrimage be done.

Varieties.

The fable of the Wandering Jew.

The legand of a Jew ever wandering and never dying, even from the crucifixion of Jesus to this day, has spread over many European countries. The accounts, however, as in all fables, do not agree. One version is this: When Jesus was led to death, oppressed by the weight of the cross, he wished to rest himself near the gate before the house of a shoemaker named Ahasueras. This man, however sprang forth and thrust him away. Jesus turned towards him saying, 'I shall rest, but thou shalt move on untill I return.' And from that time, he has no rest, and is obliged incessantly to wander about. Another version is that given by Mathias Parisiensis, a monk of the thirteenth century: When Jesus was led from the tribunal of Pilate to death, the doorkeeper, named Cartafilius, pushed him from behind with his feet, saying, 'Walk on Jesus, quickly, why dost thou tarry?' Jesus looked at him gravely and said, 'I walk on, but thou shalt tarry till I come.' And this man, still live, wanders from place to place in constant dread of the wrath to come. A third legend adds that this wandering Jew falls sick every hundred years, but recovers and renews his strength; hence it is, that even after so many centuries, he does not look much older than a septuagenarian. Thus far the legends. Not one of the ancient authors makes even mention of such an account. The first who reports some such thing is a monk of the thirteenth century, when, as is known, the world was filled to disgust with pious fictions. However the story has spread far, so that it has become a proverb, 'He runs about like a wandering Jew.' There are not wanting persons who assert to have seen the wandering Jew. But when their evidence is examined by the test of historical credibility, it is found that some imposter had made use of this fable to impose upon simple-minded people for some purpose of his own. However, the legend is not altogether untrue; there is a wandering Jew who roves about Europe throughout every country, who falls sick every century, but invariably recovers again, and re-appears in his former shape. This imperishable being is—prejudice against the Jews.—Jewish Chronicle.

Caution to Females.

"There are such things as works of the day, and works of the night—works of light and works of darkness. No Christian men nor women should have any fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness. They should walk in the light, and work while it is called to-day. There is no reason why the preliminaries of marriage should all be settled under the cloud of night, as if courtship were a work of darkness—a thing for men and women to be ashamed of—a work that the 'prince of darkness' had a special hand in.

I say then, 'No night-walking;' and I say to every light hearted and light headed thing, though she be a woman at mill or factory, or any other employment—I say 'no night walking—no wooing when bats and owls and beetles are abroad—no strolling into fields—no sauntering by burn-sides, no diving into dark places, when the world has gone to bed. Ye honest working women, as ye value your innocence, your peace of mind, your reputation—keep good hours at night—early hours. Learn to have so much self-regard as to keep you from committing yourself to any senseless youth, who will rob you and your father's house of rest, of peace, or happiness.'

How could I leave my kind father's hall,
When he reads the Word and sings
His evening psalm, and folds us all
Beneath the Almighty's wings?
Forsake my God to stray with thee?
No, night walking's not for me.

—Golden Rule.

He don't look like it.

A man is known by his looks, and by the company he keeps.

The tobacco smoker and chewer is known by his looks, his breath and general contour. It is impossible to conceal the facts, "Ye shall know them by their fruits." The difference between a tobacco monger, and one of pure breath, clean mouth, a quick, lively, cheerful, healthy visage is seen at the first glance—even at a distance. The tobacco slave, aside from a black, dirty mouth and teeth, a stenchified breath, carries a gross, sottish, sensual, degrading, sallow aspect, and evident decay of vitality, and noble intelligence, and quickness of apprehension. "Murder will out."

Mark the professor, a minister, or layman, besotted, stufied, saturated with the vile Indian weed, this foul, poisonous, dirty, filthy narcotic, How does he look? Like a man, a child of God, with soul vividly alive, sparkling holiness? Are his affections pure, elevated? Does he, can he, exhibit Christ? Alas, alas, for broken bones, shorn locks! He may see, but through a glass, very darkly—he sees men as trees walking. Dead, dead, dead! What! preach, pray, exhort, glory with a plug of pigtail in his teeth, a breath unapproachable, disgusting, offensive, from sensual indulgence! Talk about holiness, sanctification, and still a slave to lust. Tell it not—publish it not.—Golden Rule.

RELIGIOUS PARTIES.—Feastings called religious are becoming more and more frequent. Concerning these, Christ has given us directions. "When thou makest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind, and thou shalt be blessed, for they cannot recompense thee."

To suppose Christ, by example or precept, ever sustained intemperance, luxurious habits, extravagance in any form, vain, foolish or trifling conversation, is little better than blasphemy. Every particle of the New Testament inculcates temperance, sobriety, economy, simplicity, purity, the entire coming out from the world, its spirit, customs, fashions, follies, amusements, its honors, acts, pleasures. Nothing is plainer, more self-evident, than that Christians are solemnly bound to come out and keep out of all worldly customs, to live soberly, righteously and Godly in this present world—abounding always in the work of the Lord. Is God glorified by pic nics, oyster-suppers, tea parties, soirees, luxurious holidays, feasts? Do they lead to revivals, holiness of heart, salvation or sanctification? Is the policy Godly, or worldly? Can we, as stewards of God, dispose of his money thus, when millions are perishing for lack of comfort and spiritual food?—Golden Rule.

A Welsh Sermon.

The Rev. John Jones, former vicar of Llansoy, was an eccentric but earnest preacher. After ministering many years amongst his parishioners; he was impressed with the idea that they had made little way in spiritual life; so one morning he opened his discourse to them in the following fashion:

"My friends, I have been so many years your minister, with the awful reflection at this moment that were I to ask my heart the question, Have I been the means of converting a single soul, I could not answer it to my own satisfaction. See, then, how either I or you shall stand in the great day of account—I, if I have not done my duty by you—you, if you have not profited by my advice. For myself, unless you show more signs of spiritual life, I shall disown you on that great day. When the books are opened, and the Archangel calls out in the face of the countless multitude, 'John Jones,' I shall not answer, for there are many John Joneses. He will then call out 'the Rev. John Jones,' but still I shall not answer, for there are many more Reverened John Joneses than me. He will then the third time cry out, 'John Jones vicar of Llansoy,' and then, my friends, I cannot help answering, and I will reply, 'Here me.' 'John Jones, where are the sheep that I gave you to tend?' and then I fear I must reply, 'Sheep I have none, Lord, for all proved to be goats.'"

TRUE WORSHIP.—"The singers in the public congregation should praise God in their hearts, or they cannot escape the sin of taking his name in vain. Their work is professedly a part of the work prescribed, and it must needs be a mockery if it be not an act of religion. We cannot, therefore, regard it as anything short of a most grievous and dangerous inconsistency, when the House of God is desecrated by a choice of music, and a style of performance, which are rather suited to the opera than the Church,—when the organist and the choir seem to be intent only on exciting the admiration of the audience by the display of their artistic skill; and the entertainment of the concert-room is taken as a substitute for the solemn praises of that Almighty Being who readeth the hearts, and trieth the reins of the children of men."

Paragraphs.

FAMILY GOVERNMENT.—An eccentric clergyman, lately alluding in his pulpit to the subject of family government, remarked that it is often said, "That now-a-days there is no such thing as family government. But it is false, all false! There is just as much family government now as there ever was—just as much as in the days of our fathers and grandfathers. The only difference is that the old folks did the governing then, now it is done by the yonng ones!"

Above all things, my son, said Chief Justice Cole, avoid litigation, especially in small matters. If a man meets you in the street, and claims the coat you have upon your back, threatening to commence a law suit for its recovery, strip it off, and give it to him lest in defending the coat you may lose your hat and breeches also.

Bible truth is travelling far and wide into the heart of Asia; and natives sometimes come from a great distance to the missionaries, saying, as the Burmans did to Dr. Judson, "Sir, we have seen a writing which tells about an eternal God. Are you the man who gives away such writings?" "Sir, we hear that there is an eternal hell. We are afraid of it.' "Are you Jesus Christ's man?" ask others, "Give us a writing that tells us about Jesus Christ."

How anxious were these poor heathen to secure a piece of this writing, while in this country almost every little child has a Bible, all her own. Does she read and love and prize it as the writing which tells of her Father, her Saviour, and her heavenly home?

Here is a fact personally known to me, which illustrates the character of dancing-schools the world over, and is universally recognized by all men. An itinerant dancing-master was going to get up a school in the town of R——, but his friend returning from there, informed him there had recently been a great revival of religion there. "Ah it won't do," said he, "this revival has spoiled everything!" And he must go elsewhere, to a place where he would encounter no such difficulty.

Steam Sash and Door Factory, HARDING STREET.

JOHN H. STUART & CO. would respectfully inform his friends and the public generally, that they have recently taken the Steam Sash Factory in Harding street lately occupied by CLARKE & McALPINE, and formerly by JOHN E. TURNBULL, where they have on hand a large stock, and are continually manufacturing all kinds of DOORS, SASHES, and WINDOW Frames, which upon inspection, will be found of a superior quality, and as such they will be warranted, as it is the determination of the Subscribers to furnish their Patrons with such work as will reflect credit upon themselves and the establishment, and do away with the prejudice that exists against Machine Work. Parties contemplating building will find that they can obtain Doors and Sashes of a superior quality at our establishment far cheaper than they can get them made by hand. Joiners doing business in the country can have Sashes glazed or "unglazed", packed to order in such a manner as will ensure their safety.
Remember the stand, Harding street, opposite the South-west corner, Queen's square, and give us a call.
Turning of all kinds executed with despatch. Jig Sawing done. Jig Saws to let by the hour.

Enclosing a certificate.

MESSRS. FELLOWS & CO.—GENTS.—I made the examination of the Worm Lozenges as you desired, and found only the product mentioned in your note, which was of course expected, but which was not the less interesting to me. You have made an excellent choice of ingredients, and the preparation is a tempting one, and must meet with a large sale from its merits. I enclose a document which you may publish.
Truly yours,
A. A HAYES,

(CERTIFICATE.
I have analysed the WORM LOZENGES prepared by Messrs. FELLOWS & Co., and find that they are free from Mercury and other metallic or mineral matter.
These Lozenges are skilfully compounded, pleasant to the taste, safe—yet sure and effective in their action.

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.

DR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, Mass., has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds, a remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOUR, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humour). He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its virtue, all within twenty miles of Boston.
Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.
One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.
Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.
Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.
Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of erysipelas.
One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humour in the eyes.
Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.
Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.
One bottle will cure scaly eruption of the skin.
Two to three bottles warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.
Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.
Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.
Five to 8 bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.
A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.
Reader, I peddled over a thousand bottles of this in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effect of it in every case. So sure as water will extinguish fire so sure will this cure humor. I never sold a bottle of it but that sold another; after a trial it always speaks for itself. There are two things about this herb that appears to me surprising; first, that it grows in our pastures, in some places quite plentiful, and yet its value has never been known until I discovered it in 1849—second, that it should cure all kinds of humor.
In order to give some idea of the sudden rise and great popularity of the discovery, I will state that in April, 1853, I peddled it, and sold about six bottles per day; in April, 1854, I sold over one thousand bottles per day of it.
Some of the wholesale Druggists who have been in business twenty and thirty years, say that nothing in the annals of patient medicines was ever like it. There is a universal praise of it from all quarters.
In my own practice I always kept it strictly for humors—but since its introduction as a general family medicine, great and wonderful virtues have been found in it that I never suspected.
Several cases of epileptic fits—a disease which was always considered incurable, have been cured by a few bottles. O, what a mercy if it will prove effectual in all cases of that awful malady—there are but few who have seen more of it than I have.
I know of several cases of Dropsy, all of them aged people, cured by it. For the various diseases of the Liver, Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side, Diseases of the Spine, and particularly in diseases of the Kidneys, &c., the discovery has done more good than any medicine ever known.
No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can, and enough of it.
DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—Adults, one table spoonful per day: Children over ten years a dessert spoonful. Children from five to eight years, a tea spoonful. As no directions can be applicable to all constitutions, take sufficient to operate on the bowels twice a day.
The PRINCIPAL OFFICE for the STATE OF MAINE and the BRITISH PROVINCES is at the Drug and Medicine Establishment of H. H. HAY, 10 and 12 Market Square, Portland, Me., to whom all orders should be addressed. Sold by respectable Druggists throughout the United States and British Provinces. Price, $1.

PROFESSOR WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.
IT HAS WORKED MIRACLES!

THAT ALL THE BALD AND GRAY CAN BE RESTORED PERFECTLY to original growth, and color so far as it ever existed, is a fact established beyond doubt; and does not admit of a question, it will cure every possible disease of the scalp, whether developed as dandruff, itching or in the shape of cutaneous eruptions—even scald-heads—and in no possible case will it fail of curing as if by magic. Nervous or periodical head-ache, and all cases of weak eyes, by the young regularly, it will preserve the color, and keep the hair from falling, to any imaginable age. Read and judge.

Milford, Worchester Co., Mass., Nov. 1855.
PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir; I take pleasure in bearing voluntary testimony to the magic effects of your wonderful Hair Restorative. As far back as 1836, my hair commenced falling off, until the top of my scalp became bald and smooth as glass, and it has continued to fall for a great many years notwithstanding I have used many celebrated preparations for restoration. Seeing your advertisement I was induced to give your article a trial, and to my utter astonishment found, after a few applications, that my hair became firm set, and assumed a glossy and beautiful appearance; and in the time I had used a quart bottle, my bald head was covered over with a young and vigorous growth of hair, which is now from one to two inches in length, and growing fast.
Yours, truly, HENRY GOODRICH.

CHARLESTOWN, MASS., Aug. 9, 1856.
Gents:—Nothing but a duty and sympathy that I feel to communicate to others that are afflicted as I have been, would induce me to give this public acknowledgement of the benefit I have received from Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. When I first commenced using it, my hair was quite gray and in spots entirely bald. I have now used the Restorative about five months, and my hair is entirely changed to its original color, brown, and the new hair is over three inches length on the spots where it was bald. I have also been much gratified at the healthy moisture and vigor of the hair which before was dry, and it has ceased to come out as formerly. Respectfully yours, &c., MRS. E. A. STODDARD.

GENTS:—At your request, and being so highly pleased with the effects of the Restorative, I am free to state that my hair had become quite thin, and entirely WHITE. I have for the last two years been in the habit of using dye, but hearing the extraordinary effects of this article, I was induced to try it. My hair has been restored to its original thickness, also to its former color, which is light brown.
Yours respectfully, MRS. INGALLS.

Prof. WOOD—Dear Sir—Having made trial of your Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effects have been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff, a constant tendency to itching, with which I have been troubled from my childhood, and has also restored the hair which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have no other article, with anything like the same pleasure or profit. Yours, truly, J. K. BRADLEY.

WHAT IS IT FOR—THIS WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE? question asked daily by hundreds. We answer without hesitation or fear of contradiction, that it is the only known article which will do all it promises for the human hair—it will renew its growth—it will stop its falling—it will restore its natural color! It is not a Hair Dye, but a speedy and efficacious Restorative.

PERRY DAVIS'
VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER
The Most Popular Medicine in the World.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

We take pleasure in referring to the virtue of Davis's Pain Killer. We have used the article, and found it valuable. The sale of this article in the United States is beyond all precedent, as the books of the office will show.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Davis's Vegetable Pain Killer. We first heard of this medicine during a visit to the New England States, and being struck with the novelty of the title, were induced to make some inquiry about it; and we were surprised to learn that it was kept constantly in the houses of most of the inhabitants of the cities and villages where we stopped, to be used in cases of sudden attacks of pain, burns, scalds, &c, and we heard it spoken of in terms of high commendation, both by druggists and physicians.—Philadelphia Eagle.

Perry Davis's Pain Killer.—It is a real pleasure to us to speak favorably of this article, known almost universally to be a good and safe remedy for burns and other pains of the body. It is valuable not only for colds in the winter, but for various summer complaints, and should be in every family. The casualty which demands it may come unawares.—Chris. Advo

Valuable Medicine.—The sale of that remarkable and truly valuable preparation, Perry Davis's Pain Killer, is constantly and rapidly increasing. During the past year the demand for this great remedy has been altogether unprecedented. Scarcely a week passes by during which we do not hear of some remarkable cure having been performed, within the circle of our acquaintance, by the use of Perry Davis's Pain Killer.—Prov. Gen. Advertiser.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM INDIA.
