

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

(By Telegraph to the News Room.)

THURSDAY, March 5.

After reading of Journals Mr. Gilmer presented a petition from the Rev. Mr. Bennett and others, praying that the bill before the House relating to the incorporation of the Presbyterian Churches may pass.

There was another long discussion on the bill to repeal the existing law relating to the granting of Mill reserves, which finally passed with a provision that nothing therein should be construed to affect parties who had already obtained Licenses under the existing law.

A few minutes after 12 o'clock, Mr. Harding rose and asked the Attorney General if to his knowledge he (Mr. Harding) had been an applicant for office under the present Government.

Hon. Mr. Gray replied that Mr. Harding had not applied for office, and that the duty performed by him as Commissioner to Canada was performed to the satisfaction of the Government.

A message from the Legislative Council informed the House that they had agreed to the bill to incorporate the St. John Harmonic Society, with several other Bills.

Mr. Connell presented a petition from the Mayor and Town Council of Woodstock, praying that no amendment may be made in the Act to incorporate the town of Woodstock without their consent.

Another animated discussion took place between the Government and the Opposition respecting the time for going into consideration of the Election Bill.

Messrs. Connell, Waters, and McAdam, with several others of the opposition, advocated an appeal to the people.

Members of the Government contended that they had a majority and were not going to resign.

Finally decided to go into consideration of Election Bill on Monday.

Messrs. Tibbitts and Waters complained of the negligence that had been manifested by the Government in not attending to the bridge at Grand Falls. Both gentlemen urged the necessity of the work being proceeded with. House adjourned.

FRIDAY, March 6.

The House occupied this morning in consideration of the whole, considering a Bill relating to the sick and disabled seamen's fund, the object of the Bill is to equalize the duties by making them one penny per ton in all ports.

After dinner the papers relating to Sullivan Creek bridge were gone into and a short but interesting and amicable series of explanations occurred. Mr. Gillmer declaring it impossible to get up a fight.

The Speaker declared the matter settled for ever. On the motion of Mr. Mitchell it was resolved that an address be presented to His Excellency praying for copies of all despatches relating to the resignation of the late Executive, and the Dissolution of the House.

SATURDAY, March 7.

A bill to incorporate the St. Stephens Academy passed a third reading—also passed in Committee the following bills, viz: A Bill to amend the Act entitled an Act to incorporate the Northumberland Straits Fishing Company.

The bill to alter the division line between the parishes of Springfield and Studholm in King's County. A Bill relating to the payment of rates and taxes in the parish of Wickham in Queens County. A bill requiring foreigners acting as travelling Peddlers to obtain a licence by paying a certain sum. Progress was reported.

Mr. Perley presented a petition from several of the inhabitants of Sunbury and other places, that the road leading through the Douglas Valley may be established as one of the great Roads of the Province.

Mr. Smith introduced a bill to amend the Act to incorporate the Shediak Bank.

The bill to make Sheriff Street, Chapel and Bridge streets, in Portland, public highways, passed.

Mr. Desbriars presented a petition from J. W. Weldon and others, praying that a bill may pass providing for the appointment of a Scipendary Magistrate in a certain district in Ribblesdale. House adjourned.

MONDAY, March 9.

After some routine business had been transacted, Mr. Watters rose, and reading from a newspaper the reported answer given by the Attorney General the other day with reference to the extension lines of Railway between St. John and Woodstock, and Moncton and Miramichi; he wished to know if the answer given was correct.

It was, it was very satisfactory to him, (Mr. Watters) and the country which he had honor to represent; it was a departure from the policy the Government had pledged themselves to pursue, and a violation of the law of the land. He was particularly surprised that the Solicitor General should endorse that answer.

The Hon. Solicitor General would tell the hon. members for his satisfaction and that of the public, that the Government intended as soon as the weather permitted, to have the survey on the Fredericton and Woodstock line prosecuted, and when the best line was ascertained, to proceed with it. There might be a prospect of the St. Andrews line coming in such a direction, as to render unnecessary two parallel lines.

Mr. Mitchell did not wish to press these extensions upon the country, but would ask why the survey of the Northern extension was forgotten altogether.

The Attorney General thought hon. members had better wait until the Government defined their railway policy.

Mr. Hatheway felt that his colleagues could not have been aware of the answer which was coming from the Government. He thought it quite unnecessary to waste two summers in making a survey.

At 12 o'clock the order of the day—the Election Bill was gone into. Mr. Lewis in the Chair. The Attorney General opened denying the statement that the Government intended to return to the old system, insisting that the Bill before the House was only a temporary provision to meet an emergency, and that the Government intended to bring in a measure of a broad and liberal character. No law involving the principle of Registration could be carried out short of one year, and, therefore, a temporary measure was necessary. The proposition he intended to discuss—Do the returns from the various officers show an existing state of things which demand an immediate remedy; and is the remedy proposed by the present Bill sufficient?

The House separated for dinner, and on its return the Attorney General resumed by going into the various returns, and explained what pa-risches were competent according to Law to vote. Albert, Restigouche, and Sunbury were the only three Counties in the Province in which the Law had been fully complied with, in the rest of the Counties it had been partially carried out.

According to the correct construction of the law over 15,000 persons who voted at the last elections were disfranchised, according to the most strained and liberal construction, over 11,000 persons were disfranchised. He contended that by the law, in point of fact, York and Charlotte were both entirely disfranchised. The hon. gentleman occupied the floor until ten minutes past 4 o'clock, having spoken for over three hours.

Mr. Johnson rose to answer—one strong objection to the Bill was that it could not be passed without a suspending clause. He would offer an amendment which would cover all difficulties and by which the country could in ten days, be placed in a position to have a general Election.

He charged the failure of the Law in many instances, to a disposition on the part of the Government, to thwart its operations, and asked why the Sheriff's in the instances where those officers had failed in their duties had not been removed or reprimanded?

Several Bills received a third reading in the House this morning; notice of an address to His Excellency was given by Mr. Smith relative to expenses incurred by the Board of Works department since the first of May last.

Mr. C. Perley put a question to the Government as to whether any person had been appointed provisionally to a seat in the Legislative Council since the first of February, and from what County. Provincial Secretary replied that he was not prepared to answer.

Messrs. Johnson, Mitchell, and others, contended that it was the duty of the Government either to answer the questions now, or state at what time the reply would be given.

Mr. Perley gave notice of his intention to move an address providing the question was not answered.

A few minutes after 11 o'clock the debate on the Government Election Bill was resumed. Mr. Johnson spoke for nearly one hour and a half principally in reply to Mr. Gray and in opposition to the revival of the old law—an amendment to the Bill introduced by the Government was proposed by Mr. Johnson and seconded by Mr. Hatheway.

The Bill in amendment provides for the adoption of means whereby the existing Law can immediately be made available in incorporated and unincorporated Counties.

Mr. Allan spoke for half an hour in support of the original Bill and in opposition to the amendment.

Mr. Smith followed, in a speech denouncing the first Bill and supporting the amendment.

Messrs. Boyd and Barbare followed on the side of the Government, and Mr. Hatheway spoke at some length in favour of the amendment proposed by the Opposition.

Mr. Botsford made a lengthy speech. He declared himself in favour of the Ballot, but would support the Bill proposed by the Government.

His Honor the Speaker would not state how he would vote on the Bill until he had ascertained whether it was required to pass with a suspending clause.

Mr. Harding made a short speech denying that the opposition were factious and speaking in favour of the amendment. House adjourned at a quarter to six.

WEDNESDAY, March 11.

Mr. Sutton asked the Post-Master-General when his report would be submitted. The Post-Master-General said he had answered that question the other day.

Mr. Smith moved for an Address to His Excellency praying for information on each of the following subjects, viz:—The amount due by the estate of the late James Taylor, late Deputy Treasurer for the city of Fredericton, and what steps had been taken to recover such amount; the amounts paid in connection with public buildings for services performed before Mr. Taylor's death; the amounts paid for salaries &c. in connection with the office of Board of Works since May last.

Mr. Perley wished to lay on the table a motion for an Address to His Excellency, with reference to the appointment to the Legislature of Messrs. Fleming & Humbert, T. C. Everett, and others, asking for the passage of a bill to amend the Patent Law.

Mr. Smith introduced a bill to amend the Act to incorporate the Shediak Bank.

The bill to make Sheriff Street, Chapel and Bridge streets, in Portland, public highways, passed.

Mr. Desbriars presented a petition from J. W. Weldon and others, praying that a bill may pass providing for the appointment of a Scipendary Magistrate in a certain district in Ribblesdale. House adjourned.

THE LIVER PILLS.

The Liver Pills of Dr. McLane were first used by him exclusively in his own practice. So efficacious were they in all cases of Liver Complaint that they became famous, and attracting the attention of the medical faculty, passed into general use. They act with great certainty and regularity; the patient almost immediately feels the disappearance of his disease, and is gradually restored to health. With some effect is almost instantaneous, frequently experiencing immediate relief, after having for months resorted to drugs and medicines of another description, in vain. Diseases of the Liver are very common in this country, and are often frightful in character. Those who experience any of the preliminary symptoms of this dangerous and complicated disease, should at once procure a box of Dr. McLane's Pills, prepared by Fleming Bros. of Pittsburgh, and perhaps, thereby be saved a world of misery.

Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. McLANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS, manufactured by FLEMING BROS., of Pittsburgh. All other Vermifuge or purgative pills are worthless.
