THE CHRISTIAN LIFE.

FROM THE GERMAN. It is not difficult for thee A follower of Christ to be! "Tis true that with the Christian life The natural heart is e'er at strife, Yet grace divine the path will show, Wherein thy faltering feet must go.

Only a little child become As when, within thy early home, A helpless thing, thy heart did move Responsive to a mother's love; Away with vain complaint and strife, It is not hard, the Christian life!

Thy Father asks alone thy heart, That He may of his grace impart; He wills not thou should'st suffer so, But loooks with pity on thy woe; 'Tis self opposes him alone, This put away-and all is done.

Thus comfort take into thy breast, And calm each anxious doubt to rest; Have faith, and when dark cares arise, And tears of serrow dim thine eyes, Cry_"Father, help my misery!" And He will hear and pity thee.

But patient hold thy soul if thou No instant help receivest now; Though failing oft, believe at length Thou wilt obtain the needed strength; God will thy child-like faults torgive, And thou his pardoning grace receive. When darkness covers all the way,

On faith alone thy spirit stay, And terrors of the darkest night Shall hever move the or affright; Though all the way seems lost, yet still He will protect thee from all ill.

Press onward to the light above, So will thy vision clearer prove, And thou in every truth shalt see All thou believest granted thee. O soul, how is the Christian blest, Permitted thus on God to rest!

Awake, my soul, nor more delay Child-like to give thyself away! My heart, this heavenly rest receive. In peace before thy Maker live : Throw all thy cares on Him, and he Thine everlasting Friend shall be!

"Tis not an easy thing for thee A follower of Christ to be! So surely with the Christian life The natural heart is e'er at strife, And though we conquer day by day, Yet lurks the foe within alway.

Where'er on earth his feet are led, On serpents must the Christian tread, And ceaseless watch still keep around, Lest they inflict some dead'y wound; Who dares with careless steps to go, Must pain and disappointment know.

Yet who the toilsome fight would shun, Gr fear the heavenly course to run, Seeing what joy doth here attend. What prize awaits him at the end? Set high your aim, and grace indeed Shall give the skill, the strength you need

Here shalt thou see by faith, and find How love to God can fill the mind; From earthly bondage break away, And nearer live to God each day; Till even here thy face shall shine With gleams of radience divine!

There shall at once to thee appear What tender love hath led thee here, And God that crown of life shall give, Which they who win the fight receive; And mortal sense can never know The joys which there forever flow.

Awake, my soul, no more delay From error's night to flee away! Say not that thou art weak and poor, God is thy strength forevermore. Sweet is the rest that tollows pain-How sweet the rest of Heaven to gain ! W. W. CALDWELL.

Is it Right.

There are some very subtle destinctions made in life, some curious and rather waving lines drawn between questions of right and wrong and expediency. There are also very few who are really willing to test life and actions by the simple question with which we set out, Is it right? "I don't know as it is best; but I do it." "I know it is rather imprudent; but then I must." "I know it was not exactly best; but still I ventured." So there is some hesitation and doubt, yet whole would have been settled clearly by an goes for nothing.

There are certain laws of life and health given to us; laws of God, binding as the moral taw, and almost as plainly written. We generally know when we transgress them, but as a rule, the conscience is not awake to these transgressions, as to many others. The results are often sad, dangerous, fatal, and the blame is laid on Provi-

Some of these things puzzle me. Through sheer neglect of the common, obvious laws of prudence in a house, the health of a whole family suffers. A fa al fever breaks out, the natural consequence of breathing poisonous exhalations. One after another dies, in the triumphs of faith; and the bereaved mourners are wonderfully sustained, and glorify the grace of God, who has sent (permitted?) this visitation, and then upheld them in the furnace of affliction. Yet the direct cause lay in neglect and carelessness. Was it

TESTIMONIALS

Infavor of Anglo-Saxon Medicine.

Springfield, April 28th, 1858. DR. LEARY I have been some time troubled with sore throat so much that I became very uneasy. also a pain in the chest accompanied by a severe cough so much so that I could scarcely sleep nights. I was advised to use your valuable Linine t and Pain Killer, and with h. ppy result. I pronounce the Medicine to be the best to be found and would advise the afflicted who wish a valuable medicine and speedy cure by all means to procure the Anglo-Saxon Medicine.

Yours respectfully, M. A. Jamner.

Another from Granville, Nova Scotia. Mrs. Edward

Do not the poor suffer daily? It is true they do, for the want of a medicine which they are unable to purchase.—
The proprietor of the Vegetable Cough Candy has obviated this difficulty by inventing a Medicine compounded of twenty-nine different ingredients, extracted from the Vegetable Kingdom, and sold at a price which will place it within the reach of all. It is well known that many ingredients when used singly are inefficacious, but when combined with others are highly salutary.

Macer's Vegetable Cough Candy

Contains the most essential ingredients of which other Cough Candies are composed, with several additional kinds, the combined power of which is sufficient to heal, in part, every malady to which the human system is liable (which does not require the aid of a surgeon,) if attended to in season. in season.

The numerous ingredients composing this Candy have been recommended by many physicians of eminence, some been recommended by most relebrated in the United of whom are among the most celebrated in the United States. The pleasantness of this medicine gives it an advantage over others, while it is nunecessary to use any persuasion to induce children to use it.

What! Why a beautiful Head of Hair. Because it it is the ornament God Himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarkd and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Planist, Thalberg;

DR. WOOD:

DEAR SIR.—Permit me to express to you the obligations am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and color; about the time of my arrival in the United State and colors. it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your "thair Restorative" it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficatious as well as agreeable.

PROF. O. J. Wood :—Dear Sir.—Some months of six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its o iginal color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks? trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown, at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair.

CHARLES CARDEW.

New York. Ju'y 25, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative, as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers were almost white bave gradually grown dark; and I new feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so J. G. KILEY.

Prof Wo. D—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and truning gray: I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your liair Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill put, grow out, and turned back to its former color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all.

J. D. HOES.

The Restorative is put up In bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds 1-2 a pint, and retails for one dottar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $8.

Alarming Signs of Sickness. A Prediction of a Sickly Summer. 7 E refer our readers to the following extract from VV a medical journal known as the Moving World published by Radway & Co., the inventors of the celebrated R. R. R. remedies. Dr. Radway's experience in the treatment of malorious and infectious dis eases n touly in our own country, but in South America and the West Indies, and the wonderful achievements of his Ready Relief, both as a preventative and cure of Yellow Fever, Cholera, and other diseases of a violent character, entiles his prediction to the serious consideration of the people. It is well known in this City that in 1849 Radway's Ready Relief was the most successful remedy employed in the treatment of Cholera, and that in 1853, when Yellow Fever raged in its most violent form in the State of Mississippi, Dr. 1 red B Page, with the use of this remedy, gained a complete victory over the pestilence. We therefore recommend our readers to the perusal of the following article from the May number of the Moving World :

AN ALARM—FORESHADOWING OF TERRIBLE SICKNESS—PREVALENCE OF MALARIOUS DISEASES.—As guarding of the public health, it is our duty to give the alarm when we diseaver the approach of dangerous maladies, calculated to PREVALENCE OF MALARIOUS DISEASES.—As guardins of the public health, it is our duty to give the alarm when we diseaver the approach of dangerous maladies, calculated to create a general panic by the production of universal sick, ness, disease and death. We are convinced that dangers of the most terrible character, in the form of sickness and disease will visit the greater portion of our country the coming summer and fail, in the form of Flux, Yellow Fever, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Cholera, Ship Fever, Diarringa, Typhoid Fever, Billious Fever, Cholera a orbus, Congestive Fevers and sickness of a more mid and less malignant character, such as Billiousness, Cramps, sudden attacks of Vomiting, Head-aches, Looseness of the Lowels, Rush of Blood to the Head, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, Remittent and lutermittent Fevers, Rheumatism, Neuraligia, Croup, Whooping Cough, will run Not throughort the length and breadth of the land.

Persons who are unfortunately tormented with Sores, Ulcers, Breaking out, Frickly Heat, Boils, Scurvy, and Chronic diseases, will suffer greatly the coming season.

The past mild winter, succeeded as a has been by the frightful overflow of the rivers, creeks, streams, and hayous in the Southern and Western States, deluging the face of the country for thousands of square miles, together with the heavy rains which direnched the earth the past spills, followed, as we predict by a hot scorching summer, cannot find or create general sickness, and quicken into existence, malarious diseases of the anost malignant and violent character. The hot rays of the absorbing sum will summon from its marshy bed the noxious vapers and coisonous exhaliations of decayed vegetable and decomposed matter, planted in the soil, and nourished by the deluge of the waters and green hips warning of the sure visitation of these manaders, we likewise point out to the public the means of protection against attacks, and the method of cure.
