THE SLAVE AUCTION. Going! going! gone! Who hids for the mother's care, Who bids for the blue-eyed girl? Her skin is fair, and her soft brown hair Is guiltless of a curl.

The mother clasped her babe With an arm that love made strong; She heaved no sigh, but her burning eye Told of the spirit's wrong.

She gazed on the heartless crowd, But no pitying glance she saw, For the crushing woe her soul must know Was sanctioned by the law.

Going, gentlemen, going! The child is worth your bids, Here's a bargain to be sold; This chubby thing will one day bring A pile of yellow gold.

"A dollar a pound," cries a voice, Hoarsely, from out the throng; Two, three, five, it calls, and the hammer falls: Five dollars, gentlemen, gone! Five dollars a pound—and his hand,

Just stretched to grasp the child, Is smitten aside by the giant might Of the maniac mother, wild. One moment, and the loaded whip

Is poised above her bead, Then down, down it came on her helpless frame Lake a crushing weight of lead. With a lightning grasp on her kidnapped child. She falls to the cold, damp ground; And the baby is laid on the scales and weighed And sold for five dollars per pound!

And the eye of the sun looks down Undimmed on such scenes of sin; And the freeman's tongue must be chained and Though his spirit burn within.

O God, for a million of tongues. To thunder Freedom's name, And to utter a cry which should pierce the sky, The indignant cry of shame!

Our eagle's talons are red With the reeking blood of the slave, And he kindly flings his protecting wings O'er the site of Freedom's grave.

How long, O Lord, how long! Awake in thy mercy and might, And hasten the day which shall open the way Of Truth and Justice and Right!

DEATH OF A GOOD MAN. BY J. W. BARKER.

The full orbed sun sinks to his rest Beneath the azure vault of heaven. And like a string of glittering pearls, The stars adorn the brow of even. Yet wide o'er other golden fields, The mellow rays of light are pouring And countless forms of active life, The glorious edvent are adoring.

The flower fades on the parent stem, Ere June hath left the smiling hills, And in the morning's early bour, Its grateful fragrance all distills; But when the sere and dusky foot Of Autumn steps upon the plain Where stood the tiny, fragile flower, Are waving seas of golden grain.

The night around the good man's grave. Is thick with bright and shining stars. And purer streams of mellow light Come flooding thro' those golden bars, Where morning,-bright eternal morn-Leaps o'er the crimson tinted hills. Nor fear of an approaching night The disconcerted spirit fills.

The early flower is beautiful Beneath the genial sky of Spring, But nature, with her magic touch, Hath given it a velvet wing; The bending sheaf, the swelling ear, Demand our most substantial praise, And mid the wealth of harvest fields, The pean of thanksgiving raise. Not always on life's battle field, Is noble manhood well revealed,

The Lost Found.

Hath seen our manhood's majesty.

But who hath seen the good man die,

We had frequently observed a heart-broken looking lad pass by with a gallon oil-can in his hand. His tattered garments and his melancholy face were calculated to excite observation and pity. It was but too evident that the vessel which he carried had been diverted from its legitimate use, and that it was now used, not as an oil can, but as a whiskey jug. Having seen him pass twice in one day with his ever present can, we had the curiosity to accost him, and did so by inquiring his but I couldn't get what I was sent for, and I had to come again." What was you sent for, my lad? It must be something very important to make it necessary for you to walk twenty miles in this storm." "Why, sir, it was whiskey that I was sent for. Father had no money, and he sent me to Mr. --- 's to get trusted; but he wouldn't trust any more, so I had to go home without the whiskey; but father sent me back again." "How do you expect to get it now, when you couldn't get it in the morning?"

THE GREAT WONDER OF THE NINETPENTH CENLURY, PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE. Says the St. Louis, (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dress:

Professor O. J. Wood & Co.; BATH, MAINE, Jan. 20, 1856. Professor O. J. Wood & Co.;

Gentlemen: Having my attention called a few months slace to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white: my whiskers were of same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has lotally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my bair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty-five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty-two, has used it with same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your vainable discovery. I am assured that wheever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to rearly everyon here and adjoining towns. Any use you make of the above with my name attached, is at you seruice, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am truly, yours,

A. C. RAYMOND.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23, 1848,

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE. Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune. I lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854. I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to asswer as the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure. The undersigned Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and paster of the Orthodox Church at Brockfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved.

Brookfield, January 12, 1856.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has restored my hair which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

The Restorrtive is put up in Bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medican and small; the small holds % a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent, more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars a bottle; the large holds a quart, 46 per cent, more in proportion and realize for $3 a bottle.

Alarming Signs of Sickness. A Prediction of a Sickly Summer. WE refer our readers to the following extract from a medical journal known as the Moving World published by Radway & Co., the inventors of the celebrated R. R. R. remedies. Dr. Radway's experience in the treatment of malorious and infectious eases not only in our own country, but in South America and the West Indies, and the wonderful achievements of his Acady Relief, both as a preventative and cure of Yellow Fever, Cholera, and other dis cases of a violent character, entiles his prediction to the serious consideration of the people. It is well known in this City that in 1849 Radway's Ready Relief was the most successful remedy employed in the treatment of Cholera, and that in 1853, when Yeilow Fever raged in its most violent form in the State of Mississippi, Dr. Fred B Page, with the use of this remedy, gained a complete victory over the pestilence. We therefore recommend our readers to the perusal of the following article from the May number of the Moving World:

AN ALABM—FORESHADOWING OF TERRIBLE SIGNRESS-PREVALENCE OF MALARIOUS DISEASES.—As guardins of the public health, it is our duty to give the alarm when we discover the approach of dangerous maladies, calculated to create a general panic by the production of universal sickness, disease and death. We are convinced that dangers the most terrible character, in the form of sickness and death. create a general panic by the production of universal sections, disease and death. We are convinced that dangers of the most terrible character, in the form of sickness and disease, will visit the greater portion of our country the coming summer and fall, in the form of Flux, Vellow Fever, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Cholera, Ship Fever. Diarrhoga, Typhoid Fever, Billious Fever, Cholera bortuns, Conggestive Fevers and sickness of a more mild and less malignant character, such as Billiousness, Cramps, sudden attacks of Vorsiting, Head-aches. Looseness of the Bowels, Rush of Blood to the Head, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Rheumatism, Neuragia, Croup, Whooping Cough, will run riot throughout the ength and breadth of the land.

Persons who are unfortunately tormented with Sores, Ulcars, Breaking out, Prickly Heat, Boils, Scarvy, and Chrongic diseases, will suffer greatly the coming season.

The past mild winter, succeeded as it has been by the frightful overflow of the rivers, creeks, streams, and bayous in it e Southern and Wessern States, deluging the face of the country for thousands of square miles, together with the heavy rains which drenched the earth the past spring, followed, as we predict by a hot scorching summer, cannot fail to create general sickness, and quicken into existence, malarious diseases of the most malignant and violent character. The hot rays of the absorbing sun will summon from its marshy bed the noxious vapors and poisonous exhalations of decayed vegetable and decomposed matter, plamed in the soil, and nourished by the deluge of the waters and drenching of the rain.

In giving this warning of the sure visitation of these maladies, we likewise point out to the public the means of protection against attacks, and the method of cure. In Radway's Ready Relief and Regulators, you have a Preventive. If any or either of the diseases above-named visit your community, as epidemics or otherwise, Radway's Ready Relief as the bed with Radway's Regulators. The highest

For the Sores, Breakings Out, &c., Radway's Renovating Resolvent should be used. Provide yourself with these temedies, and however terribly these diseases my rage, you are safe. Let every planter, farmer, householder, take warning, and secure a supply of Radway's Ready Relief and Regulators, for in such an hour as you think not of, these maladies may visit you. With the Ready Relief to use the moment you feel their approach, you can quickly arrest their progress and free your system from their presence. AGENTS
