Point to the Minister ? Sure to do it ! Reprove a church member or an impertinent sinner for indulging in the lustful, sensual, debasing habits of chewing or smoking the vile "weed," the poisonous narcotic, what now? " Our preacher which go in thereat : because straight is the uses it, he smokes and chews. Surely there can be no great harm in the pipe, quid, or cigar, if ministers indu'ge the luxury." A poor, but godly widow, wept tears of grief a few days ago. She had used every possible means to keep her two lovely sons from the sal, unconditional salvation, apparently dull dirty, so tish. slavish, degrading habit of using of comprehension, and says, "Which gate tobacco. To cap the climax of her sorrow, they said to her, " why mather, your pastor smokes, is he not a good man?"-Thus her toils and tears seemed unavailing for the beastly example of those in high places !-Not long since a brother professing sanctification, given to this " accursed thing," said, "why, what harm, I know a minister professing to enjoy the blessing of perfect love, that is a great lover of tobacco-he smokes his cigar daily, uses it as a luxury."

O, what a curse, what an awful curse to the church and the world, what a sad, lamentable draw back to the cause of holiness, and the salvation of a dying world, lost, is this ministerial uncleanness, this giving to the John 14: 6. "I am the door: by me: if lust of appetite ! On a recent camp ground, any man enter in, he shall go in and out and where every abomination should be exclud- find pasture." John 10: 9. ud, we were astounded, montified, grieved to see so many church members and ministers of the gospel, with their stinking pipes and cigars in their tents, around their tents, by the way, in the forest and open field, puffing away,-gratifying their flishly appenites. Shameful ! shameful !

No wonder the wife breaks out thus-He suts in the corner from morning to night.

For nearly a year before she ceased to take refreshments altogether, she lived wholly or nearly so, upon the juice of criel raspberries, until that became a source of suffering. Then for a time she took occasionally a small quantity of cold water; and it is now nearly a year since she swallowed anyl quid, to the knewledge of any one. Indeed, I have no doubt that a teaspoonful of liquid put into her mouth would be the occasion of her death, unless the spasmodic action of her throat should expel

Alarming Signs of Sickness A Prediction of a Sickly Summer W E refer our readers to the following extract from a medical journal known as the Moving World published by Radway & Co., the inventors of the celebrated R. Dr. Radway's experi ence in the treatment of malorious and infectious di eases n touly in our own country, but in South America and the West Indies, and the wonderfu achievements of his keady Relief, both as a preventa tive and cure of Yellow Fever, Cholera, and other dis-eases of a violent character, entiles his prediction to the serious consideration of the people. It is well known in this City that in 1849 Radway's Ready Relief was the most successful remedy employed in the treatment of Cholera, and that in 1853, when Yellow Fever raged in its most violent form in the State of Mississippi, Dr. J red B Page, with the use of this remedy, gained a complete victory over the pestilence. We therefore recommend our readers to the perusal of the following article from the May number of the Moving World :

The Disinherited.

In a neighbourhood where there was large population but no church the people built a large school house, and when it was finished, they r solved to hold in it union m engs for prayer. They were commen ced and were largely attended. And when all who came could not get in, they would crowd around the windows to hear. The Lord poured out his Spirit in great power, and many were converted.

Living in the neighborhood of the school house was a very wealthy, proud, infidel irreligious man. Some of his family were inclined to go to the prayer meeting. He called his family together, and to d them that if any of his family went to the prayer-meeting and "go religion," as he called it, they were to be disinherited and banished from the house. His wife was includ d with the children. She had been, and so had his oldest daughter, which put him in a rage The daughter continued to go to the prayer meetings and soon found peace in believing in Jesus. When an or portunity was given for those who had a hope in Christ to make it known-she merkly arose and spoke of the "great change" in her heart and her humble hopes of salvation through a crucified Savior.

There were those standing at the window outside who immediately went and told the father of this young lady of the professions she had made. When she went home that night, she met her father, standing in the doorway with a heavy quarto bible in his

I think I love the Savior 100. He opened his Bible to a blank leaf, and pointing with his finger, he said : " Maria, whose name is that?"

" It is mine, Sir."

" Did I not tell you that I would disinheri you if you got religion ?22

" Yes, Sir."

"Wel, I must do it. You cannot come into my house." And, tearing the leaf out of the Bible, -- " There," said he, " do I blot out your name from among my children. You can go."

She went to the house of a pious widow lady in the neighborhood, and heard no more from her father for three weeks. Che morning she saw her father's carriage driving up to the door. She ran out and said to the driver, " What is the matter James ?"

" Your father is very sick, and think he is going to die; and he is atraid he shall go to hell for his wick-dness, and for the griev ous wrong he has done you in disinheriting you and turning you from his house. He wams you to jump in o the carriage and come home as quickly as possible."

She found her father sick, sure enough, on going home, but she soon saw he was only sin-sick. She talked with him, she prayed with him; she endeavored to lead hup to Christ. In three days the father, mother, two brothers and a sister, were all rejoicing in hope, making the whole family, all made heirs wih God and joint-hens wih Christ, to the heavenly inheritance. How faithful God is to those who put their trust in hun.

The disinherited was made the honored means, in the hands of the Holy Spirit, of un-peakable blessings to all her father's heavenly Muster's service. What a given us if the group crossed the threshold of the clown of rejoicing will be hers in the great church, and went home. sojourners and pilgrims, seeking a better coun ry, even a heavenly one. Some oldtime melodies were sung-

"There is a land of pure delight," "Forever, hers, my rest shall be,"

"The praying spirit breathes," &c.

Some tears were shed, and some brief remarks made-among them an exportation by the preacher. "There are no rainy nights sept 17 in heaven, dear brethren and sis ers," said he, "The clouds never come up to dirken the sun-the glorious Sun of Rightcousness .--The damp vapors ascend never so high as 100 C BESTS choice Souchong TEA; the dome of the New Jerusalem.
