Wrong Medicine.

Early one morning, while it was yet dark, a poor man came to my door, and informed me that he had an infant child very sick, which he was afraid would die. He desired me to go to his house, and if possible prescribe some medicine to reheve it; " for," said he, "I want to save its life if possible." As he spoke this the tears ran down his face. He then added:

"I am a poor man, but, doctor, I will pay you in work as much as you ask if you will

I said, "Yes, I will go with you as soon as I take a little refreshment."

"O, sir," said he, "L was going to try to get a bushel of corn, and get it ground to carry, and I am afraid the child will die before I get home. I wish you would not wait for me," and then added, "We want to save the child's life if we can.'

It being some miles to his house, I did not arrive there until the sun was two hours' high in the morning, where I found the mother holding her sick child, and six or seven little Did everywhere into thine actions pry; ragged boys and girls around her, with clean, For never yet was sin so void of sense, hands and face, looking as their mother did, So fully faced with brazen impudence, lean and poor. > EXETER HALL SERVICES .- It will be membered that Sermons preached by Church of England ministers during last summer in Exeter hall were attended by multitudes who Ladies' FELT BOOTS, Black and Brown, Fur Lined; were not accustomed to worship anywhere. Much good was the result. But when every prospect was brightest, in stepped a venerable and reverend and stupic Puseyite, a Mr. Edonart, and forbade all Church of England Ministers, whatever their station, to officiate within the bounds of his parish: for Exeter Hall is a part of Mr. Edouart's parish. This had the immediate effect of throwing the Exeter Hall services into the hands of Dissenters. But the law is to be revised so as to take the vexatious privilege out of Mr. Edouart's hands; and Lord Shaftsbury in troduced a Bill to this, effect into the House of Lords at the recent sitting .- Presbyterian Witness.

Millford, Worchester Co., Mass., Nov. 1855.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir; I take pleasure in bearing voluntary testimony to the magic effects of your wonderful lair Restorative. As far back as 1836, my hair commence talting off, ant: the top of my scalp became bald and smoot as glass, and it has continued to fall for a great many year notwithstanding I have used many celebrated preparation for restoration. Seeing your advertisement I was inducted give your article a trial, and to my utter astonishment found, after a few applications, that my hair became fruit set, and assumed a glossy and beautiful appearance; and in the time I had used a quart bottle, my bald head was covernover with a young and vigorous growth of hair, which is not from one to two inches in length, and growing fast.

Yours, truly, HENRY GOODRICE.

CHARLESTOWN, Mass., Aug. 9, 1856. Gents:—Nothing but a duty and sympathy that I feel communicate to others that are afflicted as I have been, wou induce me to give this public acknowledgement of the ben fit I have received from Prot. Wood's Hair Restoration When I first commenced using it, my hair was quite graph and in spots entirely bald. I have now used the Restoration about five months, and my hair is entirely changed to its or ginal color, brown, and the new hair is over three inches length on the spots where it was bald. I have clso be much gratified at the healthy moisture and vigor of the hair which before was dry, and it has ceased to come out as a merly. Respectfully yours, &c., Mrs. R. A. STODDARD.

From Mrs. Ingatis, a well known nurse in Boston Boston Oct. 19th, 185 Boston Oct. 19th, 1856
Gents:—At your request, and being so highly pleased witthe effects of the Restorative, I am free to state that my had had become quite thin, and entirely white. I have for the last five years been in the habit of using dye, but hearing a like extraordinally effects of this article, I was induced to usin. My hair has been restored to its original thickness, an also to its former color, which is light brown.

Yours respectfully, MRS, INGALLS.

The following is from the Pastor of the Ortho lox Chur BROOKFIELD. Mass, Jan. 12, 1855.

Prof. Wood—Dear Sir—Having made trial as your Hakestorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effects have been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff, and constant tendency to itching, with which I have been troubled from my childhood, and has also restored the haw which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have use no other article, with anything like the same pleasure as yours, truly,

[From the Jersey City Telegraph.]

What is it for—This Wood's Hair Restorative?—Is givestion asked daily by hundreds. We answer without he tation or fear of contradiction, that it is the only artick nown which will do all it promises for the human hair, will renew its growth—it will stop its falling—it will reste its natural color!
