Now he never pledged himself by word or by letter to give any person any office as payment for supporting either himself or the Government. All that had taken place was this-Mr. Harding had written to him enquiring as to the correctness of a current rumour of a change in the Shrievalty.—He had replied disclaiming any knowledge of such change. He believed that Mr. Harding had superior claims to the office. He spoke of Tibbits' claim-that was in the estimate of the old Government, they felt it was just to pay it, masmuch as a Commission had awarded it; the old Government would have paid it too, had they not gone out of office. Mr. Tilley spoke of the present high standing of the Provincial credit, and triumphantly refuted all the charges brought against the government by its enemies. Our space will not permit us even to touch on the various subjects to which he alluded, all of which he handled in a masterly manner.

Mr. J. H. GRAY was then called for, and he spoke at considerable length. Referring to the abilities of the Government, he said they were extremely proficient in letter writing as every one is able to put a double construction on their letters. He touched on the Tibbitts' claim, which the late Government felt bound to pay, because it was the award of a joint commission appointed by the Canada and New Brunswick Logislatures. He referred to the McGourty and Crosby & Small tenders for the railway, and contended that although the late Government had been denounced as a do-nothing Government, it was infinitely superior to the one now in power.

Considerable talk took place between the hon. gentleman and the Provincial Secretary, and the crowd finally dispersed at about half-past four. The contest was kept up through the day on Wednesday with much vigor; the votes were polled by Ballot, which is a decided improvenient over the old method, and the result of the e'ection at i's close stood as fol-

INTER-COLONIAL RAILROAD. We have read with much interest and attention the report of the interview between Sir Bulwer Lytton, the Secretary for the colonies, and the deputation interested in the formation of the 'Halifax and Quebec R R. Company.' The proposal made was that the imperial Government should guarantee £120,000 a year to the company which they would regard as a guarantee of 4 per cent on the capital of £3,000,000 stg. which would be necessary to build the road. In such case the Company would build the road connecting New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Canada, nay, connecting the British possessions on the Atlantic and Pacific. In return for this, as assets, the British Government would have the £60,000 a year which Canada, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick, in equal parts, were willing to guarantee, in order to secure a return upon the capital. Against the remaining £60,000, the Railroad Company would convey the mail from Halifax to Quebec free of charge -an item which is said now costs £25,000 a year; the Company would also convey military stores and troops free of charge. These could not be sent through the United States during the Crimean war, without infringing the neutrality aws, and for six months in the year, Canada is naccessible by water. This facility of forwardng troops from Halifax would lead to a reducion of the army in Canada, with a proportionate lecrease of cost-for Canada and England would now be brought within eleven days journey of each other. The project would further lead to the confederation of the British Provinces, and the development of their resources, including those of Vancouver's Island, now found, or believed to be a gold region. The Colonial Secretary thought the political advantages of the road were not over-stated. The financial aspect of the question was more serious, and on that subject e referred the deputation to the Chancellor of he Exchequer. The interview with Mr. Disraeli is not yet reported .- [Colonial Presbyterian.

PANORAMA OF BUNYAN'S PILGRIM'S PROGRESS. There have been on exhibition at the Institute in this city nearly every evening during the last week and this, a Panorama of Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress. Our absence has prevented us from seeing this beautiful work of art, illustrating the story of the "immortal dreamer," but those who have seen it, and in whose taste we can rely, inform us that it is well worthy of the patronage of the public. The exhibition will close this week, persons therefore desirous of seeing it, should go this or to-morrow evening.

GREAT STORM AT ALBANY .- ALBANY, July 11.-To-day has been the hottest this season. Thermometer at 9 o'clock this morning stood at 97 -- At 111 o'clock we had one of the most severe rain storms ever seen in this vicinity. The streets were flooded for half an hour so as to be impassible. The wind blew a gale, uprooting trees and shattering chimneys-and awnings. In the country a few miles from here they had a terrific hail storm, some of the hail stones being larger than hen's eggs, and doing considerable damage to the crops. Two miles below the chy a vessel loaded with lumber was blown! ashore. Thermometer is now 70.

Though the resolutions go only thus far, a few of the speeches made in advocacy of them indicated a desire, if not an expectation, that their share of common school money should be diverted to the support of these sectarian schools. P. ROBERTSON INCHES,

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE RICHEST DIADEM Ever worn by Kings or Emperors!

Corner of the Country Market and Germain-streets,

What! Why a beautiful Head of Hair. Because it it is the ornament God Himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Planist, Thalberg;

Dear Sir.—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your "Hair Restorative" it soon recovered its original meliconsider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficatious as well as agreeable.

I am, dear sir, yours truly,

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir,—Some months or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it my wife, who concluded to try it on her hai, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown, at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair.

New York, July 25, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative, as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely.

Prof Wood—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and truning giay: I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Hair Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grow out, and turned back to its former color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all.

Chicago, Ill., May 1 1857.

The Restorative is put up In bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds 1-2 a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3...
