When I was a little child, (said a good of man) my mother used to bid me kneel down beside her, and place her hand upon my head, while she prayed. Ere I was old enough to know her worth, she died; and I was left too much to my own guidance. Like others, I was inclined to evil passions, but often felt myself checked, and, as it were, drawn back by a soft hand upon my head. When a young man, I travelled in foreign lands, and was exposed to many temptations ; but when I would have yielded, that same hand was upon my head, and I was saved. I seemed to feel its pressure as in the days of my happy infancy, and sometimes there came with it a voice in my heart, a voice that must be obeyed-"O do not this wickedness, my son, nor sin against thy God.

Why gaze ye on my hoary hairs, Ye children young and gay? Your locks, beneath the blast of cares, Will bleach as white as they.

I had a mother once, like you, Who o'er my pillow hung-Kissed from my cheek the briny dew, And taught my faultering tongue.

She, when the nightly couch was spread Would bow my infant knee And place her hand upon my head And, kneeling, pray for me.

But, then, there came a fearful day; I sought my mother's bed, Till harsh hands tore me thence away, And told me she was dead.

1 plucked a fair white rose, and stole To lay it by her side, And thought strange sleep enchanged her For no fond voice replied.

That eve I knelt me down in wo, And said a lonely prayer; Yet still my temples seemed to glow As if that hand were there.

The Danger of Halting. What is it you are wavering between? Dust and ashes, and " a crown of glory that fadeth not away." On your right hand is Christ, heaven, and an immortality of blessedness ; on your left hand is disobedience, rebellion, discontent, remorse, despair, and an immortality of misery. Between these you are halting ! While you halt the "gulf" is forming that will soon be " fixed"; the character is deepening that will soon be stereotyped for ever. Indecision becomes decision ; you decide for hell while you waver about heaven. And how imminent the peril of these that are wavering! It is now, or it

Several cases of epileptic fits—a disease which was always considered incurable, have been cared by a few bottles. G. what a mercy if it will prove effectual in all cases of that awful malady—there are but few who have seen more of it

Years fled, and left me childhood's joy, Gay sports and pastimes dear; I rose a wild and wayward boy, Who scorned the curb of fear.

Fierce passions shook me like a reed; Yet ere at night I slept, That soft hand made my bosom bleed, And down I fell, and wept.

Youth came-the props of virtue reeled But oft at day's decline, A marble touch my brow congealed--Blessed mother, was it thine?

In foreign lands I travelled wide, My pulse was bounding high : Vice spread her meshes at my side, And pleasure lured my eye.

Yet still that hand so soft and cold, Maintained its mystic sway, As when, amid my curls of gold, With gentle force it lay.

And with it breathed a voice of care, As from the lowly sod, "My son-my only son-beware! Nor sin against thy God."

Ye think, perchance, that age hath stole My kindly warmth away. And dimmed the tablet of the soul ; Yet waen, with lordly sway,

His brow the plumed helm displayed, That guides the warrior throng, O ibeauty's thrilling fingers strayed These manly locks among,-

That hallowed touch was ne'er forgot ! And now, though time hath set His frosty seal upon my lot, These temples feel it yet.

And if I e'er in heaven appear, A mother's holy prayer, A mother's hand, and gentle tear, That pointed to a SAVIOUR dear, Have led the wanderer there.
