hundred undefended actions had been disposed of within two days. This would seem to point to almost universal bankruptcy, but the law permits civil cases to be tried in Toronto, although the parties reside in any portion of Western Canada, and consequently the indebtedness must

It has been not uncommon in Toronto, and other of our larger cities, for tradesmen of like occupation to combine together to advance the prices of labor. Societies have been organized.

tariffs adopted, setting forth with great distinct-ness and minuteness of detail the prices demanded, printed copies of which have been gratuitously furnished to all employers; and in many instances these have been succumbed to the pressure. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER may remember the riotous action of the cab-drivers, whose craft was in danger through the establishment of a line of omnibuses, carried so far that the Mayor felt justified in calling out the military. The Shoemakers of Toronto have been the Assizes by the Police Magistrate for trial, charged with conspiracy and combination; to which threats of violence were added, which threats were carried out against one of their brethren, whose common sense had guided him

Although the elections are over, the excitement has not wholly subsided. The ministerial journals are agitating for the abolition of what is swickers must know that one difficulty of Canadian Legislation arises out of the supposed ne-vince distinct in many particulars. Any ministry therefore holding office must have a majority "Cleargritism" even in Upper Canada, but the monstration in Dundas last week, in honor of the events. The choice of the Riding-North Wentworth-evidently hinged upon the fact election at the hands of a constituency of whose attachment he seems to have entertained no doubt. A most efficient administrator of the department under his control, and personally popular, his defeat was properly regarded as the result of his political standing. Hence the De-

The election frauds in Lower Canadi-for Hughes, and General Havelock !- What a conglomeration!-What a uningling of the worthy

The "True Witness" has a sensible article in its issue of last week respecting its delinquent subscribers. Its Editor and Proprietor dequent reader of the Intelligencer will remit

(From our New York Correspondent.)

Revival influence-Business-Political.

Mr. Editor:-The religious interest of which I have spoken as gaining power still goes or. The ing as previously mentioned is located in the by citizens but by those who reside in the su-

As this interest takes hold of many influ-

By the papers I learn the revival interest pre-

Business is still very cull, but confidence is in their faults, a proportion too

NEW YORK, Jan. 30th 1858 monstration in North Wentworth.

ind the waworthy!

aot be regarded as local, but provincial.

The Intelligencer.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., FEB. 5, 1858.

Home Again.

We are pleased to find ourselves at home again, after an absence of nearly three weeks. We left Salisbury on Tuesday evening, by stage, and arrived home on Wednesday, at I c'clock, after a fatiguing night's ride, the journey from ssex being performed on wheels. We had some agreeable travelling companions on the route, but we envy no man the pleasure of a mail coach journey under ordinary circumstances. The profanity and obscenity which some persons indulge in when travelling, who in other respects wish to be considered gentlemen, is beyond conception, and to be compelled to listen to the continued utterances of oaths, profanation of God's name, and vulgar witticisms at the expence of unoffending fellow passengers, is a punishment of no small magnitude. The stage coach conveyance on this eastern route needs reform, and we confess that we see no necessity for " the fithy conversation of the wicked," and profane oaths which are sometimes uttered to the great annoyance and disgust of some passengers.

Several communications have been received during our absence which will be examined and attended to as soon as nossible. Some matters of business, which require our personal care, and also private correspondence, will receive immediate attention.

Editorial Correspondence.

FIVE POINTS, COVERDALE, ALBERT COUNTY, February 1, 1858. Our Absence-The Churches-New Meeting House.

As announced by us in the "Intelligencer' of the 15th ult., we left home on the evening of that date, accompanied by brother D. W. Clark. of Carleton, to visit some of our churches in the part of the Province. A considerable portion of our early labour in the ministry was expended in Westmorland and a portion of Albert, and several churches were planted in these regions, some of them by the joint labours of Elder Hartt and ourselves. We had formed a strong attachment to the friends in this section of the Pro v nce, but during the last five years had not visited them. For some three or four years after we ceased to labour here, our churches in West mortand had but very little care-an occasiona short visit from some ministering brother being all-but their attachment to our denomination remained unabated, and strong cress of "Come over and help us" frequently reached our General Conference and District Meetings from the brethren here. A little over a year ago Elders Hartt and Hartly came on to this place, and began to labour for the up-building and reviving of the people, and the Lord abundantly owner their labours. In Coverdale and Dover particulerly considerable additions were made; and the labours of Elder Hartly who continued with them until the G. Conference gave a great impetus to the cause, particularly in the places named. No places of worship belonging exclusively to Free Baptists had been erected in either West nor and or Albert, previous to last year. -At the suggestion of Brother Harrly the friends in this place resolved to ARISE AND BUILD. A site was obtained on land owned by Mr. John Leeman, near his residence, and where five roads all leading different ways come in junction with e ch other-hence the local name, Five Points. which has been given to the place. A house has since been erected-it is large and commo dious for a country place, containing fifty-eight pews, and capable of seating from 360 to 400 persons. The dedication of this house was among the causes of our present visit here .-According to announcement previously made is was formal y opened for public worship on Sabbath, the 17th ult.; ministers present, Elder Wayman-who has been labouring here for the last three or four months-Elders Hartt, Noble Wallice, Dobson, and ourselves. We were also much pleased to meet and have present with us on the Sabbath, and during several subsequent meetings, the Rev. Robert Tweedie, Wesleyan Minister on this circuit. Brother Tweedie is young man, and has been in the ministry but four or five years, but we learn that he possesses the confidence and love of the people generally on his circuit, and though belonging to another branch of the christian church from ourselves, we esteem him as a fellow labourer in the gospel of Christ. The venerable Joseph Crandall, Baptist Minister, well known throughout the Pro vinch, and who resides but two or three miles from our meeting house, was also invited to be present at the dedication, but was prevented by ill health. He is now in his 88th year, and by recent stroke of parallysis is confined to hi bed. He will probably soon be called to hi reward.

The congregation at the opening services was large, literally jaming the house; the sermon was preached by the writer from Psalm 137: 5,6 .-Afternoon and evening services appropriate to the occasion were also held, led by brother Harit; crowded assemblies continued through the day, manifesting much interest and solemnity. Happy indeed were we to greet and be greeted by many former friends and brethren, and to find that absence had not obliterated the remembrance of former days. Here and there one had however departed-gone from their labour and struggle on earth, to their rest and peace in heaven. We thought we perceived during the labours of the first Sabbath indications of revival refluence, and we rejoice that we were not disappointed. From the protracted efforts made, a healthy, and we think wide spread religious interest has resulted, the particulars of which we will give hereafter. A considerable number of the pews were disposed of during the week, which with those still remaining to be sold, and which will probably be seld soon, will probably relieve the building committee from their diabilities in he erection of the house. We trust it may often prove to be the house of God and the dwelling place of the Most High.

We are obliged to defer the remainder of our Educatal Correspondence till next week at the Toronto Winter Assizes, as many as two James L. Wilmot, Esq. Our obituary list this week contains the no of the death of James I. Wilmot, Esq., of Moncton. On leaving our home about three weeks since for Westmorland we anticipated meeting him with much pleasure, and little thought that before our return we should have to perform the melancholy duty of attending his funeral. Such however was the case. He was quite unwell when we arrived there, but no danger of his life was anticipated. He gradually failed until Sunday morning last, though but little danger was still conceived until a few hours before his death; he expired about 9 o'clock, A. M., on that day, and was interred on Tuesday. Our first acquaintance with Mr. Wilmot was during our first visit to Westmorland, about nine years ago, at which time he extended to us the friendly hand and gave us words of encouragement, while his house was at all times when we called a welcome home. Subsequent visits witnessed no diminution of his friendship, and by his death we feel that we have lost a sincere and warm friend.doing something of the same sort recently, and Though never united to any church, he was seven of the more disorderly have been sent to nevertheless a firm believer in divine revelation, and his views of doctrine were clear and scriptural. We regarded him as one who "believed with his heart into righteousness," but whose lack of confessing Christ publically, robbed him of much enjoyment. He filled the office of magistrate for several years with much credit to in the treatment of his employers. himself, and was regarded as a peace maker in those matters about which neighbours sometimes strive. His loss will be severely felt in the community as well as by his family. We deeply called the Double Majority System. New Brunsympathize with our widowed sister and her dear children, and fervently commend them to God and the word of his grace, in this their day essity of keeping the two sections of the Pro-

Rev. John Hamilton.

of bereavement and deep sorrow.

Canada to rule Upper Canada, nor yet to allow This dear brother expired during our absence Upper Canada to govern Lower Canada. The from home, at his residence in Portland, after difficulty felt by the ministry lies just here. I an illness of several months, which he bore with has been defeuted in the West; and it has trigreat resignation. His age was thirty-one years, umphed in the East. Hence the general popuinstead of forty-one, as formerly published. We larity among ministerialisis of the new abolition visited him on the same day that we left home, doctrines. Some affect to doubt the triumph of which was only three days before his death, and found him relying, with a calm and unwavering victory could scarcely be more signal. Three faith, on the Lord Jesus Christ. He continued of the Western ministry have failed to secure in a similar frame of mind, we learn, until his their seats. The Reformers had a grand dedeath, and died happy in the Lord. His death was doubtless partly hastened by over exertion in ministerial labour, and want of proper care of himself. He has gone to his reward early; let that Spence, the Postmaster General, lost his those for whom, and among whom he laboured, prepare to tollow him.

AGENTS .- Mr. Alexander W. Leeman. at "Five Points," Coverdale, Albert County, is Agent for the "Intelligencer." Mr. Solomon Kendrick, of Barrington, Nova Scotia, is also an Agent for this paper.

Quebec was not the only guilty place-show that CENTRAL BANK NOTES .- We beg to saform the manufacturers of voters were hard-pressed our subscribers and agents that the money remitted to this office is required for immediate for names, or disposed to be with over their deeds of evil. The Quebec Mercury, on the auuse, and as Central Bank notes are not corrent in this city, and we have a considerable sum in thority of the "National," states that the record them now on hand, we would therefore be great | ed names contain, among others, such notables as Lord Paimerston, the Earl of Elgin, Sir Edmund Head, Napoleon the Third, Bishop de ly obliged to our agents and others remitting us, to forward bills on some other Bank, Charbennel, Charles Govan Duffy, Archbishop ELDER S. HARTT .- We teft brother Martt at Upper Moncton, on Tuesday evening. He would probably remain in Coverdale over next Sabbath, the revival interest there required his continuance. He will probably return to Sussex next week, and intends to be at the District Meeting at Wickham.

HALL'S JOURNAL OF HEALTH: New York. Published Monthly, at $1 a year.

We have received the first No. of the Fifth Volume of this monthly, have hastily glanced at the articles it contained, and are much pleased laid down in it for the rearing of children, and sentence. the preservation of health are we believe sound; and if followed would save much distress and infirmity. The Journal of Health is not a medical work for physicians but is intended for the family, and its articles are interesting. We should be glad to see it widely circulated in New Bruns. wick. We shall transfer something from it to our great union prayer meeting for business men

(From our Canada Correspondent.)

State of Business-Political-Elections.

Cobourg, 22d, Jan. 1853. gloomy of late than it was a few weeks ago, There is less hopefulness; and the spring, not ry the good spirit and work in every direction .very near, is desired, rather because it must So in all or nearly all the places immediately. awake some activity, than from a firm confidence about us there is more or less revival interest. in its accompanying developments of a reviving commerce. In the western part of the Province three days in Bloomfield, some fourteen miles we have had a winter thus far-if we except a distant-a village in which there are three cold "spell" of a week's duration-unworthy of churches, ia each of which there is now consi the name; over which the poor have rejoiced, derable revival interest, but the most in the Bapbecause of its immediate benefit in the saving of test, where, last evening at the close of the ser fuel, forgetting or not knowing that the produce mon over thirty seekers came forward for prayer, of the remote parts of the country is locked up and a number at once found peace. from want of winter roads, and thus serves to contract our trade within more painful limits. vails very widely indeed, and there is hope it is There seems to be less distress among the la- to be a year to cause great rejoicing in Zion. bouring classes that was anticipated, partly in consequence of the mildness of the weather large measure restored. The mild winter still which has given many the opportunity of carry- pours blessings upon the poor. There is much ing on out-of-door employments usually suspend- hope business will return somewhat towards its ed at this season of the year; and partly perhaps former life, and that upon a better basis than bein consequence of a benevolence in some cases fore the panic.

adequate to the exigency of the times. Seasons In politics there is no interest of importance of trial develope character, and it would argue save "the everlasting Kansas question," as it is sadly for the christianity and the philanthropy of beginning to be called. This question seems. Canada, if instances were entirely wanting of a now to be in a mo t disgraceful position, simply generous and liberal spirit. The depression owing to the gratouous wickedness of the admiconsequent upon the stagnation of trade and the pistration's attempt to force through Congress derangement of business, is marked in the fa- what is called the Lecompton Constitution which milies of the ambitious and of the enterprising, was formed by the pro slavery clique in Kansas. | Madamoiselle Rachel, (the celebrated actressespecially where speculations in real estate- The people at an election this month cast some a Jewish, and remaining so, in sentiment, at not warm with Domestic affection. Happy for unreal would seem a better word at present- 7,000 votes as a majority against this instances death)-with several English notables, of whom both royal personages if they all, in the married have involved the payments of large sums, to enslave their country, yet it is thought it will Earl Winchelses (the president of the Protes- life, looking to Him who has blest the conjugal which sales at advanced rates were relied upon be put through Congress by the sale of offices to furnish. Every newspaper article embodies a held back for the purpose of carrying this shamemoral in its comments; and we shall prove fools ful measure. indeed if we are not more prudent for some It seems that for the present at least the expr- resided since 1812, engaged in political and Canade, the "Globe" gives the information that try should be acquired is not a vais one, and is from personal knowledge. Rev. Dr. Stowell; we though there is some hope better counsels will "Congregational Lecture" on the work of the prevail. It is said Gen. Scott is soon to go to Holy Spirit, and was the author of a life of Dr. California to fit out an expedition against the R. W. Hamilton, which was thought below the Mormons in case it is thought necessary.

There seems much regret here for the death of General Havelock of India.

Our new Mayor, though very free from ostentation seems to be very efficient. He has already vern broke up in confusion, though intended to broken up many lottery offices and seems to pro- promote a reconciliation between the middle and secute this and other work with vigor.

The Pulpit and the Pew, a book recently pubished by Burdick & Bros., seems likely to attract considerable attention. It is dedicated to the were very noisy, and renounced their allegiance Church of the Puritons over which Mr. Cheever to Mr. Ernest Jones, (a leading chartist) who presides. The book is designed to show the du- wanted to act as a mediator on the occasion. The ties growing out of the relation of Pulpit and Pew, and to maintain the right of the former to representation for the educated classes, does not rebuke slavery, intemperance and other popular meet with general favour. I confess I do not see sins. The book gives such a history of the pas. its probable advantages; and Punch cleverly tor of the Church of the Puritans no doubt his quizzes and burlesques the principle on which it enemies will attribute it to him.

The publishing business is like others very dull. Few new books appear. The New American Cyclopedia of the Appletons, to consist of fifteen very large volumes, the whole to cost $45, districts. Some amendment will, I dare say, be is almost the only costly and important work now issuing from the New York press.

General Intelligence.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN. London Correspondence.

LONDON, Jan. 15th, 1858. GENERAL HAVELOCK -INDIA. Already you will have received the telegrams of our last Indian mail, conveying tidings of eventful import. That short item telling us that Sir Henry Havelock was no more on earth, was for days the most frequent and painful topic of convergation. Every one seemed to have lost a friend, as the mournful news was uttered. If on he one hand he passed away before hearing of the honours conferred upon him, it is some satisfaction that he survived till those for whom he has dared and borne so much had been effectually relieved. As he lived so he died, an humble fervent Christian. He commenced when in Portsmouth at the Baptist Church there, and when in London attended at Bloomsbury Chapel, (Rev. W. Brock's). All former difficulties in the way of a transfer of the baronetcy, and a provision for his widow and daughters will be liberally removed when Parliament meets. The Court Journal says, it was the Queen's intention! to have created him a peer; and one writer asks that the precedent of the case of Sir R. Abercromby's widow, who was made a peeress in her own right, should be followed. The Queen, it is said, has shared in the keen regret of all classes at the old warrior's untimely removal-untimely as we think it, for to him it has disclosed the wonders and joys of a glorious eternity. It was in allusion to his Baptist sentiments that Punch lately said that India wanted, not more Bishops but more Baptists. We might add that there is room for both, if they are men of an excellent spirit. The other news by the Indian mail is successes and losses are provoking much com- Pintico. ment, generally hostile, while due praise is A suit was conducted by the Churchwarden, awarded to Sir Colin Campbell's generalship at Mr. Westerton, against the Pusevite ornaments Lucknow, and in his return to Cawnpore to crush set up by the minister; the judical decision was the Gwalior contingent. . A daily paper, the Star. a compromise, leaving Mr. W. a heavy bill to which is like the stars in one respect-for they pay; he will retire at the next election of come only with the night-has been talking of Churchwardens, but the Protestants will not let Sir Colin's "terrible retreat," as if he had re- their enemies triumph. I should think, in substiforce did not dare to attack him while the garri- Tuesday, was very influential, and of all strange Sir Colin will give the Oude rebels his profes- ther enemies. sional attention in proper course; and Lucknow, which has been immortalized by the splendid defence which Colonel Inglis has so beautifully about £900, but large funds for the Great Tatold, will once again receive the banner of Eng- bernacle are still wanting. still continued. There meet Jew (that has been) land as its ensign and defence. Probabilities The "Freeman," newspaper, (a well conducsins and to ery unto God for pardon. This meet-from the folly of man?

burbs, do business daily in the city, and by strang- process of development. CONTINENTAL. ential persons in their respective places, they car-The King of Naples has still our two countrymen as his prisoners, and his unhappy subjects are in terror of other visitations of the earthquake. Might they not plead to be exempted This week, for instance, I have spent two or from the fury of nature since they suffer so much

> The papers this morning tell in their largest type of another attempt to assassinate Louis the murderous attack escaped, as it would seem, extraordinary character. Yet these attempts are Rallariate. becoming more ordinary than the Emperor or his friends can approve. The bloodshed on the 2d Liquor Alliance is to be received by Sir George. of December, 1852, is not forgotten, and while Grey, the Secretary of State for the Home Dehe reigns he will be a mark for the bullet and the partment. dagger Peace cannot be so sweet when the ourchase money is so precious.

DEATHS OF DISTINGUISHED PERSONS.

be fatal to distinguished personages. Already last I omitted to state the demise of Mr. Archihald Prentice of Manchester, where he had ONE THOUSAND POUND FEND .- We shall ac- years to come. As an indication of the distress detion to Nicaragua are over. The threat of the literary pursuits He was a warm temperance London publisher, advertises the twenty-fifth know edge the amount received for the Fund prevailing among the commercial men of Upper northern men to form free States out of that coun-seems to have a salutary effect upon the slavery- late president of the Cheshunt Dissecting College, is also lost to the living. He wrote seve-The Murmon war seems to be a settled fact, ral able books, delivered and published the merits of the original.

Political agitation is not active among us.

meeting on Reform held at the Freemason's Ta working classes, -- in other words between the "respectable" rad cals, and the "vulgar" chartists. Some of the most hot-headed of the latter movement for getting a distinct parliamentary proceeds. An attempt is being made to promote an equalization of the poors' rates, especially in London, where the aristocratic parishes are taxed far less than are the small house and shop effected. Another society is moved to abolish the toll gates in and around London-in which I hope it will prosper. Still another and more important reform is being discussed-an abatement of the enticements to "the vice of great cities." The "Cypriens," as the poor street-walkers are called, have been so flagrantly increasing in numbers, in the boldness of their public demeanor, and the facilities of indulging in victous conduct are so abundant, that the friends of the society for the Suppression of Vice, are making a determined effort to organise means of opposition. A Bill will probably be brought into Par'isment to arm the public with more power, though it has been pointed out that they have powers in this matter which are rarely used. Would that both Parliament and these gentlemen saw their way holic stimulants, by which all other views of sensuality are encouraged and sustained.

The Leviathan has become less coy, and is now several feet in the water. A further immersion is expected next Thursday, and the final launch on the 30th inst.

Exeter Hall. The Sunday Evening Services at Exeter Hall are still crowded. The preacher, on the 10th, was Rev. Newman Hall, L. L. B., of Surrey Chapel, once the scene of Rowland Hill and Mr. and gave the drinking system some hard blows for by the Diocesan Home Missions, have also the Bishop of London has preached again to the poor, and intends to aid in the establishment of local colleges and reading rooms for their benefit; and twice has the Old Abbey been devoted on Sunday evening to religious worship, every part of the nave being thronged by curious or devotional attendants. Gas is used, and the effect is said to be extremely beautiful; the Gospel light diffused will, I hope be less superficial, and even more admired.

You must have heard of the "holy war" as treated pursued and cut up by the Oude muti- tuting a perogon of their own. The meeting of neers .- a very unlikely thing, when that same the Church Missionary Court on India, held last of removal, and when all the I dies, children, the Bishop of London to the psalm-singing solsick, and wounded were safely disparched to diers of the Commonwealth, whose singing, said allahabad. Having settled the lower country, the prelate, did not make them less terrible to

> Baptist Lectur s. Mr. Spurgeon's Christmas Bazzar cleared

Mr. Hall will please forward us the volume for and Gentile, Baptist to confess indicate that the serious part of the fighting ted and noble-spirited weekly organ of the Bapwill be over by the end of the year of the mutiny, tist denomination,) is holding on its way, and but that another year will clapse before the the proprietors are now presenting to all subscribusiness part of the City. It is visited not only pacification of the country is completed. On the bers a free historical picture, giving portraits of continent of Europe no great matters are in the most distinguished Baptists. Mr. Mursell, More fortunate than his prototypes, he was in the Free Trade Hall, was "Red, white, and blue," which he applied to the blood of Christ, the believer's holiness, and the heavenly home

Rev. H. S. Brown, of Liverpool's lust lecture was on a curious text-" The Devil's Meal is all Fhis evening a deserving testimonial of respect is to be paid to Mr. Smithies, the editor of Nap leon last night, as he was going with the the "Band of Hope Review," and the "Brit sh Empress to the Italian Opera. Several per ons Workman," both enomaly periodicals, and each in the crowd were wounded, but the object of circulating above 100,000 copies. True Temperance is advocated in each. A soirce called untouched. There is no statement of an arrest, by the National Temperance League is to be Immense concorrses of people cheered the Em. held, an address presented, and speeches made. peror as he returned; but the French love sudden Mr. S. is a man worth his weight in gold, and and dramatic incidents, and this was one of an indeed worth more than all the gold of Ophir or

> Next Thursday a deputation from the Antilock was appointed to the command of the force sent westward to Allahabad, Cawnpore, Royal Martinge.

The season is parhaps not the most fortunate, as he and all the Queen's Ministers will be anticpating the Royal Marriage of the 25th. Judging by its commencement, this year will Splendid preparations are being made, and every true Briton will send after our young Princes we have Marshall Radetsky, Reschid Pachs, the sincerest of wishes for her private happiness Cold will be the throne itself if the fireside is tant Association) is best known abroad. In my state, and from whom alone all its blessedness

LIVINGSTONE'S AFRICA .- Mr. Murn v, the

Sir Henry Havelock.

Our columns last week contained the brief announcement of the death of Sir Henry Havelock, the devoted Christian, and military hero of India. A nation mourns its loss, while there has passed away to a better world, one whose life and example afforded a practical illustration of the Chris ian religion. Both English and American papers speak out in praise of the fallen herofallen not in battle, nor by violence-but quietly by the hand of disease, when God, in his wisdom, saw that his work was done. The London 'Christian Times" says:

" England has lost her favourie General, es of irsp mal repo figure, es mached fr ed ramro cernmen

though h spoke of asked by what was

was evel

was an such occ

tic of Ila

ing and c ed all hi

his princ emanate display i his othe scence o

of the he every ac

sion of into con!

sincere;

devotion

reverence

Calcutta

the L's.

rived in

M., of mutiny i friends o with the

was left nearly 1 hardly from . th

everyth

her clor

fused th

they cou

seek so

women at her I speak it would g

would 1

all the tion, an three lit

the next third an up her errand.

are seel

them, a who her

she stay

ence se

there w fort of not till many d

causes

When

to Gaze

and a British force fighting in the open field has turned its back upon the enemy. It is not often that two such disasters are crowded into one mail. The defeat, indeed, is reparab'e-nay, was repaired before the mail left; for the COMMANDER IN CHIEF, at once abandoning his position in Oude, flew to avenge the defeat of his lieutenant, and appears to have inflicted upon the foe severe chastisement. But the loss of HAVELOCK is not to be so rep'aced. He had endered himself in a much greater degree than is usually the case with our military heroes, to the heart of the nation; and there is hard'y a household in England that does not mourn his loss as a personal one. Much of this is due, we believe, to the Puritan character of the gallant officer. which, rare as it is in real life, never fails where it does appear, to win its way at once to the affection and confidence of our middle classes. It is not necessary in this place to review the career of the departed hero, but it is worth no ice, that he had passed into mature manhood before he gained the rank of cap nin; and that I e might have passed from among as without any other notice than the reputation his comrades would have given him, of being a brave, accomplished, conscientious, and painstaking officer, but fo the insurrection in India. When the hour came, the man was found ready for it; and the quiet, undemonstrative officer, who had passed more than forty years in the serclear to clear away that infamous traffic in alco- vice without gaining more than an incidental notice in a Gazette, shot up into sudden, and, we may well believe, undying fame. So 'arduous and so protracted was his training for the great work which Providence had in store for him, of being the first to stem the tide of insurrection and to take the heart of it. Bitter as his death is to his family and to the country, there is a dramatic propriety in it. The great lesson to be impressed upon the minds of the Hindoos was the moral, as distinguished from the physical, superiority of the English race. This HAVELOCK taught Sherman's labours. Mr. Hall is a teetotaller, them, by showing that there was no odds he would decline to encounter, and that his attack in his sermon. Several special services arranged | was the sure precursor of victory. His work was finished when the reinforcements from been held with success in parish churches, and | England began to pour into the country, and the contending parties were brought into something like equality. Henceforward HAVELOCK could not have maintained his former place. He must have taken a subordinate rank, and his task of reducing the country to reace and order would have been shared by others. under the control of the COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF. We are well assured that HAVELOCK would have accepted this subordinate position in the same spirit of unquestioning submission to duty that had ever been the guiding principle of his life; but a higher, though to our eyes a mysterious, destiny was in store remarkably chequered. General Wyndham's has been named, carried on at S. Barnabas, in for him. His work on carth was done, and Gop's so'dier was called to receive from the hands of the MASTER he had served a nobler reward than England could bestow on him.

neen purchased, with the achievements of our soldiers in India have reflected on the English nation, in the death of the fallen generals, thus speaks of the " last and greatest of them all": " Henry Havelock was a soldier of the true ancient English mould There was that about him which irresistibly remindwith those which we have perused. The maxims forthw th lest-let each delinquent finish the son, stores, &c., of the Residency were in course things not the least was the reference made by ed one of the finest and noblest officers of the Commonwealth's army. The traditions of the Charterhouse picture the boy Havelock as sedate and reflecting beyond his years. 'Old Phlos' was the n me by which he was known in those days; but it appears to have been given to him in an affectionate. half-reverential, not in a mocking spirit. His staid demeanour may have been the cause way his parents destined him for the profession of the law and sent him to the Middle Temple to read under Chitty. Nature, however, would not be suppressed, and like the Overtons and Ire:ons before him, he doffed the legal gown to follow the trade of arms. of Manchester's last Sunday afternoon lecture | not destined to win his military fame in civil broils. It was not, however, nntil after E rope han been pacified for a long tract of years by the fight of Waterloo, that he obtained his first commission. For eight long years he vegetated in 'country quarters' at nome; and even after he, by exchanging to a regiment destined for India, succe in entering upon more active scenes, it w long ere he rose above the position of a sub altern. Time and merit, however, brought their rewards along with them, and in the Affighen war, and the other Indian wars which arose out of it, Havelock became known to his commanders and comrades as a valuable and reliable officer, though, owing to the remoteness of the fields in which his soldierly qualities were displayed, his name remained unknown in a great measure to the general English public. But a life of unostentations neroism and conscientions discharge of duty, though passed for the far greater part of it without eclat, was destined to a splendid close. The brief time which has elapsed since Have-

The Daily News, remarking that glory has celing and resistless energy. His habitual deportment might have impressed strangers with the notion that he was an pathetic unobservant man. But when the ment for action arrived, it at once became pparent that no bing had escaped his notice. He kindled into an in enser life; he instinctively assumed the command, others are instinclively making way for him ; he did exactly what was required to be done, and he did it effectively and with electric spend. His work accomplished, he relapsed at once into his selferatred deportment. These dash-more heroic deeds than would have sufficed to illustrate a long life. The precocious sage heard f

and Lucknew, has been filled by him with of the Charterhouse had matured into a man. singularly undemonstrative, but of profound