cannot punish men forever." He is most cerlove, and alwa s acts in perfect harmony with his justice, both of which are as much seen in easting the wicked into hell, as in introducing the righteous into Heaven. If is contrary to God's nature as the Universalists say to punish his creatures, it must be equally as true for a moment, as through eternity. If punishment is a violation of His nature then he cannot punish at all, irrespective of time or severity. The sect invariably argue that He can and does punish "all the days of this life." Now if the infliction of misery cannot be made consistent with God's, character, then he cannot punish in this life but if he can punish here he certainly can in the future, for he is as much love now as he ever will be. According to their own theory God has for thousands of years been punishing his creatures in this world, and an untold amount of human misery has existed in spite of the fact that He is love. If he cannot punish hereafter because he is love he cannot do so now, and if he will not save those from sin is thus life who do not believe in Christ, he will not save those from "everlasting punishment" who trample the

CONSUMPTION, AND ITS SPONTANEOUS CURE. by Moses Brown, M. D.-A pamphlet of 36 pages, bearing this title has been received by us. The author contends, contrary to the general opinion, that Consumption can be cured. The remedy recommended is good diet, out-door exereise and hardship, plenty of hope and cheerfulness, with such Medical treatment only, as is necessary to increase the blood-producing powers of the system.

REVIVAL INTELLIGENCE.

Our numerous exchange papers convey to us such cheering intelligence of the glorious work of God in different lands; and assured that the good tidings will be welcomed by thousands of our readers, many of whom may be stirred to more earnest prayer that our own land may soon on publishing weekly a column or more of details, incidents, &c., of the revivals in progress in different places. We pray that God may especially bless this department of our paper.

The N. Y. Observer contains a weekly report of the Daily Prayer Meeting in Fulton Street. From it we shall make copious extracts. [From N. Y. Observer, July 28th.]

THE DAILY PRAYER MEETINGS. It is now more than a year and ten months, since the establishment of the noon prayer meetings in Fulton street. We are not far beyond the middle of the summer, and are in the hottest part of the season; yet the daily prayer meetings in Fulton street are crowded, so that many stand in the doorways, unable to obtain admission. The feeling of almost all strangers, on coming first into this lecture room, is one of disappointment. The room is so much smaller than they expected to see; it is such a narrow place to have excited such an interest all over the country, that the feeling is one of surprise on first coming into the room on the part of those who have never been there before. But when the exercises have once cammenced, these feelings soon vanish away. The spirit of the meeting soon engrosses attention, and the surprise now becomes one of a different character. It is a surprise that there should be found in this meeting such a deep and earnest piety, such fervent, believing prayer, such unwavering confidence in God, such a revival spirit, such an unflagging interest, and that these do not wear away after so many months of continuous meet-

On Tuesday of last week, a large number of these young men were in the Fulton street Prayer Meeting, returning from the Convention, which adjourned on Sabbath evening previous, at the close of their prayer meeting. Geo. H. Stewart, Esq., gave a statement of the general character of the Convention. He said it had been one of the most delightful harmony. On his arrival at Belfast, he knew no one, did not know how to find the meeting, or any one friendly to them. PARWEDE'S This world renowned limb has been in use in Europe and America for upwards of twelve years, and every succeeding year serves only to increase its popularity. The "Great Prize Medal" was awarded to Dr. Palmer in London over thirty-five competitors from all parts of Europe, and in this country wherever exhibited, it has invariably received the highest award. Upwards of 'Four Thousand' of the Palmer Artificial Legs are now in use, and are represented by all degrees and professions,—Farmers, Mechanics, Lawyers, Sailors, .adies and Children, all use this "unequal led limb" with wonderful case and naturalness. The Palmer Leg is adapted 'to every form of amputation,' from the shortest to the longe-t. The patient is enabled to walk immediately upon the application of the leg. The limb is an exact copy of its fellow, and the most critical fail to distinguish it from nature. The limbs are very durable, yet so light as to be worn with great comfort. Palmer & Co. have supplied upwards of fifty individuals with two legs each, all of whom walk with surprising naturalness. The recently invented 'artificial arm' is regarded as a complete triumph in the art. The public are cautioned against the circulars and advertisements of charletans and pretenders, who have recently entered the field, and are endeavoring to deceive by copying the invention and the indirect use of the Palmer reputation.

Persons requiring legs or arms, should apply to us, as the "Palmer Leg" is the only one recommended by surgeons and physicians.
