For the Religious Intelligencer.

It is said when the prince of Latin Pcets was asked by one of his friends why he studied so much accuracy in the plan of his poems, the propriety of his charactere, and the purity of his diction, he replied :-- " In acternum vivo-" I am waiting for eternivy."

" In actornum vivo." Glorious thine end, Thine aim so glorious too, immortal bard!

Eternity ! eternity. Writing for eternity, a long, a broad eternity A bottomless, a shoreless eternity ! " In aeternum vivo."

How free is every line from sin's dark stain, No vanity of human life displayed, No false fidelity, no vain ambition, No covetous desires! " In aeternum vivo."

Let this my motto be-When Sol's bright rays bids darkness flee away, And I aroused to duties of the day ; May every thought and word and action show That I am living " In aeternum vivo."

May I no deed perform, No word express, which in the exercise thereof My God I'd shun : But may I ever keep in view " In acternum vivo."

I am living for eternity, and for eternity Thinking, saying, doing. An eternity of bliss, or an eternity of woe ! BENJAMIN F. RATTRAY. Upper Gagetown, May, 1859.

KING' EVIL CURED I M.R. JOHN DENTON residing at Little River, Digby Neck, Nova Scotia, certifies that his Son has been severely afflicted with the King's Evil for Fourteen Months. He says that the remedies usually applied to this disease failed to give relief, and that having heard of Dr. Leury's Anglo Saxon Medicines. he purchased a supply and that in one month they had performed a most wonderful cure.

I FAny person wishing to be fully informed regarding the cure can obtain all the particulars on applica. tion to Mr. Denton, who wishes all who may be simi larly affected to give the Anglo Saxon Medicines :
