1 Will Keep Thee. A GEM OF ANTIQUITY. Thus saith Jesus, I will keep

In safety my defenceless sheep, From sin and endless misery ; Seeking soul, I will keep thee.

Soul.-Lord, I believe thy word is sure. But I am ignorant and poor : My goodness reaches not to be thee ; For mercy's sake wilt thou keep me ?

JESUS.-I wassed by the rich and brave; The needy soul I came to save. The poor in spirit blessed me; Oh ! trust me, then ; I will keep thee.

Soul.-But, Lord, I have a deeper wound ; An evil heart within I've found ; My nature's enmity with thee, Offended King ! wilt thou keep me ?

JESUS .- Of old thy evil I behold, Yet was with love and pity filled ; I therefore died to set thee free, For my own sake I will keep thee

Soul .- Yea, I have proved thy power, my God And felt thy efficacious blood ; But sin remains, though it I flee; Wilt thou preserve backsliding me?

JESUS .- Before I wronght upon thy will, I knew how treacherous thou would'st dea I did thy hase transgressions see, And yet resolved I would keep thee. But thou shalt couquerer be at length ;

Till then I will renew thy strength; Sin shall not have the victory;

Only believe -I will keep thee.

SOUL .- Permit me once again to speak; Sometimes thy face in tears I seek ; And oft a gloomy veil I see ; Canst thou be wroth, and yet keep me?

JESUS .- Let, then, this answer thee suffice : In anger I do not chastise. More fervent be thy cry, thy plea, And as I live, I will keep thee. But if thou dost forsake thy God, Then will I visit with the rod. I may correct to a degree, Nevertheless I will keep thee.
