C. I think he has my heart, mamma, And I detest all sin.

M. Then end each day with prayer, my child, With prayer each day begin.

C. I pray both morn and eve, mamma, And love God's word to read.

M. Act too, that all may see, my child, That you are Christ's indeed.

C. All this I strive to do, mamma, Can I do nothing more ? M. Yes, tell that Christ has died for us,

God's favor to restore. C. To whom can one so young, mamma,

The Saviour's mercy teach? To all you love, and all you know,

And all your voice can reach. C. But there are dying souls, mamma,

In many a distant land. M. Well, send them men to preach the word,

That they may understand. C. Hew can I send them men, mamma,

Who am so weak and poor? M. Help those who do, and that with prayer, A blessing to secure.

C. If prayer could turn my pence to pounds I fain your plan would try.

M. Elijah, and the widow's oil, My answer will supply.

C. Ohyes! I see. I have not much, But what I have I'll give; And God may some dying soul Through my small pattance live.

M. Do thus, my child, and you will find, When sun and stars are dim, That Christ regards what's done for men As if 'twere done for him. DR. HUIE.

THE INFIDEL AND LIBERTINE RE-JECTED.

A young gentleman and lady, from different and distant parts of New England, met at a fashionable watering place, became acquainted, and formed for each other a mutual attachment. In his parents, he came in possession of a large kept me, and sent back him, who entered into accordance with the strong emotions of his inmost soul, this young man offered his hand and guilt. his heart to the young lady. Thousands are daily speaking in the praise of INFANTILE CORDIAL, and why? because it never fails to afford instantaneous relief when given in time. It acts as it by magic, and one trial alone will convince you that what we say is true. It

NO PAREGORIC OR OPIATE of any kind, and therefore relieves by removing the suf-ferings of your child, instead of by deadening its sens bil-ities. For this reason, it commends the transition of the control of ing, Diarrnoea, Dysentery, Griping in the Bowels, Acidity of the Stomach, Wind, Cold in the Head, and Croup, also, for softening the gums, reducing inflamation, regulating the Bowces, and releaving pain, it has no equal—being an anti-spassionic it is used with unfailing success in all cases of Conversion or other Firs. As you value the life and health of your children, and wish to save them from those sad and bighting consequences which are certain to result from the result from of narcotics of which other remedies for Infantile Complaints are composed, take none but Dr. Eaton's Infantile Cordial, this you can rely upon. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate intant. Price, 25 conts. Full directions accompany each bottle. Prepared only CHURCH & DUPONT
