Yards; considerable number of vessels ordered ready for immediate commission. Transport McDonough would leave Woolwich 5th, for Halifax with 30,000 stand of arms; large quantities of ammunition and a battery of six Armstrong guns.

She will be conveyed by "Orpheus," twenty-one gun-frigate. "Warrior" will be ready for foreign service immediately; her destination depends upon answer from Washington. Royal Proclamation prohibits export of gunpowder and saltpetre, also includes nitre, soda and brimstone. Shipment of rifles from England for New York continued.

Funds steady on 2d, fell a half per cent on 3rd. Times article points out the task of American Executive facing popular violence—ought to be lightened as much as possible. Great interest existed in Paris; appearances indicate that Government papers intended to write in Anti-American tone. Article in "Patriot" attracts considerable attention as it argues pretty clearly that France will side with England and recognize Southern Confederacy, and also take decisive attitude in international question.

Liverpool Post gives rumor that Napoleon has been proposed as arbitrator of question. Americans in Paris paid complimentary visit to Gen. Scott. Dayton was spokesman.

We copy the following account of the capture of Messrs. Mason and Slidell from a correspondent of the London Times—

The Trent sailed from Havana at 8 o'clock on the morning of the 7th, and nothing occurred worthy of notice till about noon on the 8th, when, in the narrow passage of the old Bahama Channel, opposite the Paradise lighthouse, a steamer was observed ahead, apparently waiting, but showing no colors. On approaching her, Capt. Mair, of the Trent, hoisted the British ensign, which met with no response until the two vessels were within about a furlong of each other, when the steamer fired a shot across the Trent's bow, and hoisted the American flag. This proceeding was quite contrary to all acknowledged law, as when a vessel of war wishes another vessel to stop it is customary to fire first a blank cartridge. The Trent was still holding on her way, when a shell was fired from a long pivot gun on the American's deck forward, which burst about 100 yards from the Trent's bow. Capt. Mair immediately stopped the Trent, as the American had her broadside of guns run out, and men at quarters ready to fire. Capt. Mair then hailed her, and the American captain replied that he wished to send a boat on board. A boat, containing two officers and about twenty men, armed with muskets, pistols, and cutlasses, then shoved off and boarded the Trent and demanded the list of the passengers, which the captain refused to give. The officer commanding the boat stated the name of the frigate was the San Jacinto, of which he was first lieutenant, and further that he had received most positive information that certain passengers were on board, whom he would take out. This was also refused. Commander Williams, R. N., the naval agent in charge of her Majesty's mails, with Capt. Mair, positively objected to their being taken, denying their right to take any person whatever from under the English flag.

The Lieutenant then called out the names of the before-mentioned Commissioners and Secretaries, and said that those were the persons he sought, and that he would take them at all hazards. The four gentlemen, who were standing near, answered to their names, and requested to know what was wanted of them. The Lieutenant said that he wished to take them on board the man-of-war, to which they replied that they would not go until they were taken by force, and, turning to Capt. Mair, he said, "We claim the protection of the British flag." On the captain's again refusing to give up the passengers, Commander Williams, R. N., then spoke as follows, viz: "In this ship I am a passenger, and as such I am entitled to the same protection as you are. I call upon the officers of the ship and the passengers generally to mark my words when, in the name of that Government, and in distinct language I denounce this as an illegal act—an act in violation of international law—an act, indeed, of wanton piracy, which, had we the means of defence, you would not dare to attempt." The Lieutenant then beckoned to the frigate, and three boats, containing 30 marines, and 60 sailors, ordered and heavily armed, came alongside. The men at once leaped on deck, sword in hand. After some more parleying, Messrs. Slidell, Mason, Eustis, and Macfarland were taken and forced into the boat. The Americans went back to the cabins, and took possession of the baggage, and sent it with their prisoners on board the San Jacinto. Mr. Slidell said, as the boat shoved off that he expected to see the British Government for this outrage while under the protection of its flag, and called upon the English captain to represent the case properly. The Lieutenant stopped on board, having ordered the boat to return. He then stated that he had orders to take Captain Mair and his papers on board the San Jacinto and that the Trent was to be moved nearer. Captain Mair replied: "You will find me on my quarter deck; if you want me, you will have to come there for me," and he immediately walked on deck.

The Lieutenant, however, went into one of the boats, and told Capt. Mair that he could proceed. The boat pulled for the San Jacinto and the Trent steamed ahead for St. Thomas.

The indignation felt on board the Trent by every person, of whatever nation, but the indignation that described. A considerable number of foreigners of different nations were among the passengers, and it is affirmed that every man would have fought if called upon to do so; but with such an opposing force, and the unarmed condition of the Trent, it was deemed impossible to make any defence.

The officers of the San Jacinto asked for provisions to maintain the prisoners, as they stated that they were short of stores. Capt. Mair told the four gentlemen that at their request he would supply what was needed, and they having expressed a wish that he should do so, all the necessities were supplied. The dispatches of the Confederate Envois, and they have all arrived safely here per La Plata.

The British Government has chartered the steamers Persia, Australasian and Canada.

All seamen on leave have been ordered to join their vessels.

It is reported that the United States Minister (Adams) regards his recall as inevitable.

The American shipping in England is disastrously affected.

The excitement respecting the Trent affair is unabated.

The French press is increasing its reserve, and blames the hastiness of the English Government.

It is reported that Napoleon has offered his mediation. Hostile demonstrations are being made in various parts of England.

General Scott has written a letter, which is very peaceable, and has received much attention.

The Queen's proclamation was issued in season to stop shipment of large quantities of arms.

It is reported that both Federal and Confederate cruisers are in the chops of the channel.

Two ships-of-war have been ordered to the West Indies, as conveyed to Lord St. John.

Bright made a speech at the Rochdale banquet, strongly favoring Federal Government, and asking for a suspension of judgment.

Consols—Money 90 to 90 1/2.

Breadstuffs fluctuating—Flour and Wheat advanced.

In the House of Representatives at Washington, on Monday, the 18th inst., the following Resolution was moved by Mr. Vallandigham, and referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, by a vote of 109 to 16:

Whereas, the Secretary of the Navy reported to the House that Capt. Wilkes' conduct in seizing Mason and Slidell merited, and received, the emphatic approval of the Navy Department, and that he in a public letter, had thanked Capt. Wilkes for the act; and whereas this House, on the first day of this Session, passed resolutions tendering the thanks of Congress to Captain Wilkes for his brave, adroit and patriotic conduct in the arrest of traitors, and requested the President to confine Mason and Slidell in cells of convicted felons, therefore Resolved, as the sense of this House, that it is the duty of the President to now firmly maintain the stand thus taken, approving and adopting the act of Captain Wilkes in spite of any menace or demand of the British Government, and this House pledges its full support to him, in upholding the honor and vindicating the courage of the Government and people of the United States, against foreign power.

It is also stated that the Cabinet was in session for several hours at Washington on Tuesday, when the subject was fully discussed. "Whatever the demand may be," says the despatch to the New York Herald, "our Government is resolved that Mason and Slidell shall never be given up." The New York and Boston papers likewise urge the same course.

BOSTON, Dec. 17.

The fire at Charleston destroyed 576 buildings in the best portion of the City; the loss is from 5 to 87,000,000.

Government pays no attention to the newspaper reports from England, and the feeling seems to be that a war is impossible on the Mason and Slidell matter.

A despatch via Cincinnati, states that New Orleans has been attacked by a Federal force, and that the inhabitants were fleeing from the city.

Reinforcements were hastening from up the river to defend the place.

The rebels are generally jubilant on the prospect of a war with England.

It is reported that Fort Pulaski has been evacuated, and is in possession of Federal troops.

Stocks have generally recovered from the depression caused by first announcement of English news.

BOSTON, Dec. 18.

Captain Seymour, the Queen's Messenger by the Europa, left last night direct for Washington, where he will arrive on Thursday morning.

The Africa, will be detained at New York till Friday, to carry back Lord Lyons' dispatches.

The American Minister at London also sent a special messenger by the Europa.

The news from the seat of war to-day is confined to skirmishing outposts.

The reported attack on New Orleans is probably premature.

Breadstuffs unchanged.

The Jura advises to-day have partially unsettled stocks, which had nearly recovered the depression of Monday.

BOSTON, Dec. 19.

Col. Wallace at the head of 25,000 Federals had a smart action with a large rebel force at Monrovia, Kentucky, on Tuesday, and defeated them. The rebel loss was 62 killed including forty Texas Rangers, and many wounded. Federal loss 15 killed and about 20 wounded.

At Falling Water, on the Upper Potomac, on Tuesday night a force of 9000 rebels under Gen. Jackson, launched 51 boats for the purpose of throwing a force across to attack Hagerstown, Maryland, where large stores are gathered. The Massachusetts 15th, and 5th Connecticut regiments, under Col. Lenford, occupy the Maryland shore, and it was thought they would be able to hold the position until reinforcements could reach them. A heavy firing was heard in that vicinity yesterday morning, but we have no further news.

The Queen's Messenger reached Washington, at 12 o'clock last night.

A portion of the Potomac army is advancing slowly towards Winchester and Romney which, it is thought, indicates a general advance by General McClellan.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19th.

At a Bank meeting to-day Secretary Chase stated that the present balance of the Government with the associated Banks was sufficient for its wants till the middle of January, before which time he was confident that our Military and Naval operations will give brilliant and decisive results. He did not doubt that questions with Great Britain would have a PACIFIC SOLUTION.

ORPHAN ASYLUM.—Sermons have been preached and collections taken in several of the Churches in the City in aid of the St. John Protestant Orphan Asylum. The sermon in the Centenary Chapel was by Dr. Ritchie, collection $60. Dr. Gray preached in Trinity Church, collection $144.56. We are glad to learn that such liberal collections were taken up for the support of this much needed institution.

The Morning News received letters by the last mail from the Colonial Delegates in England. Nothing certain had resulted at the time they were written in relation to the object of the delegation, but circumstances looked favourable. The Delegates had addressed several large and influential meetings on the subject, and the project, though opposed in some quarters, was favourably received in others. The opinion of the News is, "that something will be done to our satisfaction."

THE MARKET.—The Flour Market has been considerably excited since the arrival of the war news brought by the Europa and City of Washington. Prices have advanced since, 25 cents, and there is a general anxiety on the part of heads of families, to lay in a small stock at present rates.

Coffee has advanced somewhat. Provisions are unchanged, and also Fish. The Lumber and Freight Market quiet. Salt is firmer, at a very slight advance. Coal is a little dearer than last week.

The Country Market has been pretty well supplied this week, except in Buckwheat and Eggs, both of which have advanced in price, and are now in demand. A good supply of these articles would bring remunerative prices.—News of Wednesday.

CENTRAL BANK BILLS.—These Bills are not current. Goods can be obtained in some stores for them, in others they will not be taken at all.

Preparations are being made to strengthen the defences of this Province. The Sackville Borderer states that Fort Cumberland has been inspected by officers of the Royal Engineers, and that His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor has directed inquiries to be made as to the efficiency of the Westmorland militia. It is stated that His Excellency will shortly visit this city to confer with the field officers of the militia of this city and county.—Church & Witness.

PRESENTATION OF COLOURS.—A presentation of Colours to the New Brunswick Regiment of Artillery, by the ladies of the city of St. John, took place on Wednesday evening in the Hall of the Institute. The presentation was made to Capt. Rankin's Company on behalf of the regiment.

We are informed that the price of timber and deals has slightly advanced in the Liverpool market.

Joseph Mercer, Esq., was elected Alderman of Prince Ward in this city on Tuesday.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—We learn with deep regret that the eldest son of the Rev. Mr. Wilson, Congregationalist Minister at Sheffield, was drowned on Saturday evening last, while skating somewhere near his father's residence. The particulars of the melancholy circumstance we have not learned. He was, we believe, about twenty years of age.

TANGIER.—A cave has been discovered under Strawberry Hill, said to be sufficiently large for "dining twelve men." There are about 150 men at the diggings.

ROMISH CONVENTS.—From a letter from our Canada correspondent, intended for publication the week, we deferred our issue, we make the following extracts:

Our Governor and his family have been visiting the Ursuline Convent, Quebec, the papers tell us, accompanied by a party of Honorables, to whom the Grand Vicar and Chaplain did all possible honor.

No doubt everything was presented in its most attractive garb. The Journal de Quebec describes the party as appearing exceedingly pleased with what they saw. It is not impossible. The writer has visited convents—that is, certain parts open to the public, and found much to admire. But neither he nor any other visitor had the opportunity of going through the whole establishment. It cannot be that all is as it ought to be. The system forbids it. It is disgraceful to a free country that it permits such irresponsible Institutions to exist within its bounds.

Every inmate should have the opportunity of testifying freely as to her love for the convent, and the protection of the law if she desired to escape.

A SAD DEATH.—Yesterday the writer took part in funeral solemnities of more than ordinary interest. The deceased was a strong well-to-do farmer, whom no one would have selected a week or two ago as destined within a few days to grapple with the King of Terrors. Always frugal and industrious, he had accumulated a handsome property, before his marriage, which took place in the writer's presence, less than two years ago. His death was caused by the bite of a mad dog. What a terrible disease is hydrophobia! How little opportunity to prepare for death does it afford! Happily in this case, the preparation was not delayed till the momentous hour of death.

To his pastor who had hurried to the sick chamber, he said, although in paroxysms so violent as to require two men to hold him, "You come to see a dying man. There is no hope of life; but there is a great hope through grace. I know in whom I have believed." Blessed rest to the dead who die in the Lord.—Canada Correspondent.
