life .- [English Cor. to Methedist. MIDNIGHT MEETINGS IN LONDON .- We rejoice to find that the Committee of the Midnight Mission propose a renewal of their most praiseworthy and benevolent efforts during the ensuing winter. No effort of modern times was more open to suspicion as to its policy, or doubt as to its surcess. We have met with ministers who were unbelieving as to the successful issue of the officers on the most distant seas ; had sent our movement. For ourselves, we never could doubt. We had faith in the old Gospel to raise the most deeply fallen, and in the energy of the Holy Spirit to regenerate the most depraved. Facts confirm the anticipation. From a circular just issued it appears that 4,000 women have attended the meetings. And of this number eighty nine have been restored to their friends ; seventy-five have been placed in service; six have marriad ; two have been reconciled to their husbands; eighty-one have been placed in homes; and 358 have been moved in the provinces. Cheering results ! and sufficient to encourage the hope of a more successful campaign during the ensuing winter.
