AN ATROCIOUS AFFAIR AT GUYANDOTTE, VA.—On Sunday night, 10 inst. 150 United States troops at Guyandotte, Va., on the Ohio river, were attacked by the rebels, and only fifty escaped. The rest were killed or taken prisoners. The account says it was arranged between the rebel cavalry (from 500 to 1000 strong, who had been secretly concentrated in the country back of the town) and rebel citizens to massacre our troops in cold blood. Accordingly the rebel citizens were very kind to our troops Sunday evening, and invited them to their houses on various pretexts, and all who were off duty accepted the invitation. While they were being entertained at half past eight o'clock at night the rebel cavalry dashed into the town. Signals were displayed from every house where our men were, and into these the rebels rushed murdering our unarmed soldiers in cold blood. The rebel citizens, men, and women and children, rushed to arms and aided the cavalry in the slaughter. The Federal troops in camp prepared as soon as possible for defence, but were overpowered and had to break. Very few of our men were killed in the engagement with the cavalry, nearly all being murdered in the houses.

On the reception of the news at Galliapolis, O., 30 miles above, three steamers with 400 under Col. Ziegler, went down to Guyandotte and fired the town, the principal part of which is now in ashes. The rebels left about an hour before the arrival of our troops.—Mor. Star.

BRITISH and FOREIGN.

The European news by the Asia is important, reporting as it does, a synopsis of speeches delivered in London by Mr. Adams, United States Minister, and Lord Palmerston, on the American war question, the progress of the great cotton crisis in the manufacturing districts of England, the commencement of a spinner's "strike" in Preston, the influence which the convulsion in America exerts on the policy of the Bank of England Directors, the near approach of the departure of the allied expedition to Mexico, and the shipment of large bodies of British troops, with a great supply of munitions of war (including three millions of rifle ball cartridges,) from Great Britain to Canada and the West Indies.

At the Lord Mayor's dinner in London on Lord Mayor's day, November 9th, the Chief Magistrate of that city proposed the "Foreign Ambassadors," coupling the same of Mr. Adams, the American Minister. That gentleman, in his reply, stated that his mission was to promote and perpetuate the friendly relations of the two countries. Lord Palmerston said, although circumstances may, for a time, threaten to interfere with the supply of permanent good. England would find in various portions of the globe a sure and ample supply, which would render her no more dependent. He stated that the country witnessed with affliction the lamentable differences among her American cousins; but added, it was not for her to pass judgment in their dispute. He expressed a hope of the speedy restoration of harmony and peace.

The London Times anticipates some difficulty amongst the allies with regard to the establishment of a new and strong Government in Mexico; Spain being regarded as an extreme "high church"—as it may be termed—power, France a sort of "low church," and England of a different creed.

The London Post regards Lord Monck's position, as Governor General of Canada, as one involving a very grave responsibility, and characterizes the recent visit of a united States militia officer to the soil, with the view of arresting deserters from a Michigan regiment, as an invasion of British territory which was not punished as it deserved.

Prince of Wales.

"The Prince of Wales is gradually preparing himself for the discharge of those public duties which fall to him in his capacity of heir-apparent and the intimacy which exists between the Crown and the people was brought into full play by the proceedings on Thursday in the Temple, where his royal highness was made a barrister and a bencher, received a fee in his new capacity, opened the New Library in that abode of legal learning, was sumptuously entertained at a banquet by his confreres, the barristers, and appears to have acquitted himself in every phase of the proceedings with a modest bearing becoming his youth and high station. For this display, which aroused the activity of the legal world of London, the preparations were ample and gorgeous, and the event may be regarded as the Prince of Wales' first entrance into public life. He is now in his 20th year. In November, 1862 he will have attained his majority, and, as is customary in such cases, will be provided by the nation with an establishment suitable to his rank. So far, nothing is known of the young Prince but what is favorable and prepossessing, and should he continue to pursue the same discreet course that has marked his minority, cannot fail to become an especial favorite of the British public. There have been princes of the same House who might have been equal favorites with the people, but they degraded their position and themselves by vices and meanness to the level of the lowest. It is gratifying to find that the contrast in this respect between the present and the last Prince of Wales is so marked, and much of his is due, no doubt, to the precepts and example of an excellent mother; but something is also attributable to the natural disposition of the young man himself, and circumstances tend to the belief that he will fill his high destiny with credit to himself and the nation.

Considering the age of the Prince of Wales, he has travelled much and seen much. Well acquainted with the principal features of the European Continent, he had the advantage while in America of associating with the Duke of Newcastle—a nobleman not less distinguished for his fine taste and great intellectual capacity than for his grasp and forethought as a statesman. It was her Majesty's own wish that her son should be put under the Duke's care during his visit to Canada and the United States, and it was well that this determination was come to, for any man of less mark and less firmness would have been puzzled how to act in the critical position in which the travellers were placed in Canada by circumstances that are in the memory of all. To show her personal appreciation of the Duke the Queen is about to visit him at his princely seat, Clumber Park, Nottingham—an honor which even the highest amongst the English nobility regard as a strong proof of the Royal favor.—Such visits are attended with enormous cost, but the Duke is wealthy beyond the dreams of averice, and his wealth has been largely increased by the development of that system of free trade of which he was one of the warmest and ablest supporters.

Arrival of the "Canada."

Three Days Later from Europe.

HALIFAX, Nov. 27.

The Canada left Liverpool at 9 on the morning of the 16th, Queenstown on the 17th, and arrived at Halifax at 7.30 a. m. on the 27th. Has £10,800 pecie, and 39 passengers for Boston. The City of Baltimore reached Queenstown noon on the 15th.

BRITAIN.

Politics unimportant. The Daily News has an editorial generally rebuking the Southern sympathies in England, especially denouncing the writer of a strong pro-Southern letter in the Times.

Sir James Ferguson, in a letter to the "Ayr Observer," says that the office he holds constrains him to contradict the assertion that he had acted as a spy in America. He affirms explicitly that in the whole course of his tour he meddled in no way in the affairs of the Northern or Southern States. He travelled solely to inform himself of momentous questions at issue, and it is not his fault if a New York Journalist was incapable of understanding that a gentlemen could enjoy the confidence of the Commanders on both sides without abusing that of either. The libel in question was the only exception to the uniform courtesy he experienced whether in the United or Confederate States.

Thomas Duncombe, a prominent Liberal member of Parliament, died on the 14th.

Florence Nightingale, in a letter which has found its way into print, appears to entertain little hopes of recovery.

The weather continued stormy round the English coasts, and numerous disasters are reported.

The Times attributes the inactivity in the demand for cotton in India to a lingering hesitation as to the American supply, but other circumstances have also operated forcibly.—The real cause of the present stagnation is not the scarcity of Cotton, but the absence of a demand for Calico, the markets of the world being glutted with Lancashire goods. Manufacturers in curtailing operations are doing what they must have done sooner or later, irrespective of the stoppage of the American supply.

Mr. Baxter, M. P., in addressing his constituents, strongly denounced the Galway contract. He said the company was loosing its Irish element, and the restoration of the subsidy would be a discredit to Ireland.

FRANCE.

The monthly returns of the Bank of France show a deficit of 19½ million franes. Increase in Bills discounted 27 millions.

The change in the Imperial system of finance, as showed forth in the Emperor's letter, and Fould's programme, received per the Bohemian, is not regarded with much importance in England.

The Times city article says it is not easy to see how the transfer from the Emperor to the people, of the task of raising money, will calm the uneasiness of Europe, and remove all pretext for hostile measures, when it is certain that the Emperor can resume the prerogative any moment he may think fit.

The Daily News asks will the Emperor still be answerable for the abundance of employment, when he can no longer create boundless expenditure by a stroke of his pen.

In Paris the financial change imparted much firmness to the Bourse, and Rentes advanced ½ per cent. Advance fully maintained on the 15th, closing 69.65.

There were rumors of impending change among high functionaries in the administration, and the powers of several Ministers will be modified, and the Ministry of State re-organized.

A Paris letter says that Fould's conditions on taking office were:—1st, The Budget to be voted in detail so as to give the Legislature some controul over the expenditure; 2nd, The renunciation of the power to decree supplementary credits without the consent of the Council Ministers; 3rd, The conversion of the Trentsry obligations; 4th, The conversion of the entire public debt into 3 per cents.; 5th, The consolidation of the floating debt; 6th, The reduction of the army; 7th, The evacuation of Rome; and 8th, that on taking office he should be the intermediary of all communications between the Ministers and the Emperor.

The French ships forming the Mexican expedition are expected to assemble at Havanna between the 15th and 20th Dec.

ITALY.

A levy of 80,000 men is ordered, but it is thought that not more than 50,000 will be obtained, and that another 50,000 will be levied in February. The effective army will then consisit of 280,000 men.

Gen. Carbonelli had gone to Caprera to present Garibaldi with an address from Neapolitans, praying him not to leave Italy.

Gen. Cialdini had tendered his resignation.

Rattazzi will relinquish the Presidency of the Chamber of Deputies.

Chiavone, the brigand chief, was again giving trouble. Two dispatches are said to have been discovered, showing collusion between him and the Pontifical authorities.

PORTUGAL.

The Council of State had proclaimed the Duke of Oporto King of Portugal.

Ministry unchanged. Tranquility prevailed.

The Infante Don Auguste continued dangerously ill.

RUSSIA.

Navigation closed at St. Petersburg. The last ships of the season were leaving Cronstadt.

15,000 Russian troops had attacked 10,000 mountaineers in Circassia. After fighting six hours the Russians were put to flight with very heavy loss, including a General of Division. Six thousand Russians reported killed and wounded.

GREECE.

A conspiracy to assassinate the King and his immediate followers at a fete, had failed. Such information was conveyed to the King as enabled him to avoid the machinations of the assassins.

CHINA AND INDIA.

The Calcutta Englishman severely censures the Manchester manufacturers for doing nothing either to further the extended growth of Cotton or take off the stocks in hand in the up country markets.

Telegrams from Calcutta to Oct. 27 report a considerable increase of business in Cotton goods and yarns at higher prices. Exchange lower. Freights active and unchanged.

Accounts from the gold fields of New Zealand continue very encouraging, and there was an immense rush of miners, &c., from Australia, all available vessels being devoted to the purpose of conveying them over.—Trade at Melbourne greatly decreased. At Bombay Oct. 28 Cotton goods delining.

LONDON MONEY MARKET.

Funds on the 15th opened firm, but became weaker; at the close, however, a better tone prevailed. In the discount market there was an increased demand. Best Bills 2½ to 2⅝.

Cotton quiet and unchanged Breadstuffs, flat. Provisions, quiet, steady.

Consols 93⅞ to 94. Bullion in the Bank of England increased £157,750.

POTATOE BLIGHT IN IRELAND.—The Dublin Post says that the potatoe blight has been far more disastrous than in any year since 1846—the commencement of the famine peried when the deficit amounted to full ninety millions of dollars. The following extracts from the Leinster (Ireland) Express tells the whole story:—"Never, even in its most palmy days, did the crop produce a grosser main stem and a richer system of leaves than up to the close of July: but between the evening of the 31st and the morning of the 1st of August, the crop in every stage of its growth—early, medium, and late—was simultaneously smitten; and the results fully justify the anticipations then formed upon this distressing subject. With comparatively few exceptions, the potatoe-fields speedily exhibited an utterly desolate appearance, every vestige of green having been superceded by a scanty covering of decayed haulm." The drain upon England to meet this want has already commenced, and in the week prior to the sailing of the Persia, 89,488 bushels of cereals crossed the Irish Channel. The News of the World, looks this matter squarely in the face and says:—"Undoubtedly, storms await us; times of peril are at hand. We can only weather them by a wise economy at home, and a friendly alliance with real freedom wherever it may exist or struggle to exist abroad."

SPECIAL CONFERENCE.

The following telegram from Brother Charles Knowles, should have appeared last week, but was mislaid:

Good News for New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and all others of Her Majesty's Dependencies in North America.

HEALTH AND PEACE BE MULTIPLIED.

GOOD HEALTH is far above all other temporal blessings, without which does the rich man enjoy his wealth, or the poor man labor for his living? Answer all ye Dyspeptics. Indigestion or Dyspepsia is the fruitful cause of all other maladies in the human system. Does it not impair the intellect—does it not crowd the Provincial Lunatic Asylum? Answer that ye men of science. Get the stomach right and the whole system will be healthy. It is not a course of mercury or purgative nostrums that will effect a cure. Your Dinner Pills will fail to render relief. Insanity, or some other malady, may terminate your miserable existence. There is yet hope in your case, if you will avail yourself of it, and at a cheap rate. Dr. Benjamin Leary has not failed to cure it in its worst stages, as hundreds in St. John and this Province, as also Nova Scotia, can testify with heartfelt gratitude, the permanent cures performed by the ANGLO SAXON MEDICINE and ADVICE. It is offered to the afflicted at the low sum of $5—that is, the patient must describe symptoms of complaint from its commencement in writing. The Dr. will send him or her a prescription suitable to their case, with advice; as also for the following complaints: Liver Complaint, Consumption in its first stages, Bilious Affections, Scrofula or Kings' Evil, Fever Sores, Cancer Sores, Erysipelas in all its forms, Salt Rheum, Acute and Chronic Rheumatism, all cutaneous diseases. His celebrated Albion Liniment, Speedy Relief or Cramp & Pain Killer, Asthma and Cough Remedy may be had of P. R. Inches, G. F. Everett & Co., W. O. Smith, and all others in the trade. Communications must be Post-paid
