UNITED STATES.

The details of the battle at Richmond and of other events recently occurring at the seat of war, do not confirm all the statements before made, nor give such decided advantage to the North as the friends of that section so ardently hoped. The loss of the Federals which at first was set down at 800, and subsequently increased to 3,000, now turns out to be in killed, wounded, and missing, 5,729. The loss of the Confederates is supposed to be from 8,000 to 10,000.

On Saturday the Federals lost a large quantity of baggage and some heavy guns. Taking the whole affair together, that is, both Saturday and Sunday, probably no great victory was obtained, or defeat suffered, by either party. Both armies were evidently much wearied and exhausted, and require time and rest to recruit their strength and vigor.

From late despatches we select the following items, which, of course, should be received with much allowance:

The attack upon Charleston is proceeding. The Federal gunboats have reached a point, distant about four miles from the city. An army of 10,000 men defends the place. A battle is hourly anticipated. Two thousand men landed at James Island opposite the city, but were repulsed with loss.

The Federal flotilla, assisted by Col. Ellett's ram fleet attacked Confederate fleet, consisting of 8 rams and gunboats, near Memphis.

The action lasted two hours, resulting in the complete destruction of seven of the enemy's vessels. Only one escaped, which was pursued.

The Federal rams did splendid execution. Memphis immediately surrendered, and was placed under military authority.

A private letter from a reliable source, places the Confederate army at Richmond at 200,000, well disciplined troops, and determined to make a desperate defence. The flower of Beauregard's army is reported to be there.

BANGOR, June 10.

The Richmond Examiner admits that General Johnston is wounded, and the great loss of his leading.

Farragut's flotilla appeared at Baton Rouge. Confederate reports say an engagement occurred and claim a repulse of the Federal land force. Hot work is expected.

The Mobile Advertiser contains a report that 18 Federal vessels passed Fort Gaines, and were shelling Fort Morgan.

South Carolina Unionism is represented as of a doubtful character.

Gen. Burnside is at Fortress Monroe, having important communications with the Federal Government.

Gen. Halleck telegraphs that Gen. Beauregard's army has fallen back 20 miles.

Jackson's army is making a precipitate retreat from Fremont's army, abandoning much on the way.

The Philadelphia Press army correspondent reports that a mutiny was seen in the Confederate army before Richmond from a balloon, the mutineers being North Carolinians.

Volleys were fired between them and an attacking party, when the former broke and fled.

Gen. Mitchell won another brilliant victory at Chattanooga, Tennessee, the enemy having been completely routed after two days hard fighting.

The Missouri Constitutional Convention has voted 42 to 27 to disfranchise all parties engaged in the rebellion since December.

It is rumored that a Confederate force is on its way to Knoxville, Tennessee, to attack Nashville, Tenn. Hon. Pierre Soule was arrested in New Orleans on a high political charge and will be sent North.

The bells taken from the churches per order of Beauregard are to be sent North.

Six North Carolina regiments reported to have broken out in mutiny.

Galveston has been called upon to surrender; the acquiescence to Federal rule is surprising. Application has been made to ship 6,000 bales of cotton. Two Confederate steamers captured on Monday above the city.

DISGRACE.—The captain of Co. I, of the 34th New York Volunteers, (Col. Baker's California regiment), was publicly disgraced in front of his regiment at West Point, Va., a few days since, for refusing to comply with the Colonel's orders to deliver the regimental colors to another company, and refusing to parade his company. He was convicted of mutiny and would have been shot had not Gen. McClellan commuted his sentence. The whole division was called out to witness the ceremony of disgrace, and formed into a hollow square. The culprit was placed in the centre, and his sentence read to him, viz: "That his sword be broken before his face, that he be publicly disgraced before the division, and serve one year in the District of Columbia jail; and that he shall be disgraced for any soldier of the army of the Potomac to associate with him hereafter." After this was read a sergeant cut all the brass buttons from his coat, and then took his sword and broke it in half.

John A. Carter, of Springfield, Mass., was fatally stabbed Saturday night, by an assassin as he was passing a vacant lot on Main street. An unknown man approached him from behind and dealt the fatal blow, and as the victim fell, looked at him and exclaimed, "My God! I've made a mistake—it's the wrong man!" Mr. Carter died on Sunday, leaving a wife and three children. The apology of the assassin for the "mistake" did Carter but little good.

DOMESTIC.

We refer our readers to the letter of our correspondent, in another column, on education. It is, we believe, singularly true, that proprietors will sometimes employ and retain teachers whose moral characters render them utterly unfit for the important office of preceptors of the young. It would, of course, be difficult to always obtain Christian men for teachers, but certainly great care should be taken to secure persons of good moral character, and who believe and reverence the Word of God.

It seems to be now generally admitted that gold mining in Nova Scotia can not be prosecuted profitably by unskilled labor. It requires both capital and skill to obtain a profitable return.—Ch. Witness.

A fire broke out about 2 o'clock this morning in the Brewery of Mr. S. Jones, corner of Union and Carmarthen streets, by which the interior of the building was destroyed. We learn that the premises were partially covered by insurance.

The Bridgetown Register says most of the hay fields in that part of Nova Scotia have suffered from winter killing.—News.

The Markets.—From the market list in the Morning News of Wednesday, we copy the following prices and remarks:

Butter, both packed and roll, has fallen considerably in the Country Market. The price of eggs is much lower, and now quite moderate. There is considerable inquiry for oats, but very few are brought in. We have now a good supply of potatoes, at a reduced rate. The price at the Nova Scotia schools is still less than in the Country Market.

We regret to learn that the house and wheel-wright shop of Mr. McLean, Jacksonville, were consumed by fire on Tuesday last. Mr. McLean was absent, and the origin of the fire is unknown. The loss, we are told, amounts to $250.—Sentinel.

"The Globe of Monday says:—
The Hon. Messrs. Howe and Tilley left here this morning in the steamer for Portland, where it is said they are to have an interview with Mr. Watkin, on matters connected with the Inter-colonial Railway scheme. As the Canadian House has been prorogued it is now thought probable that the delegates from all the Provinces will meet in St. John.

Thirty tons of quartz, lately crushed at Waverly, N. S., produced 12 oz. of gold.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.—The Gleaner gives the particulars of a dreadful accident, resulting from the explosion of a fluid lamp, by which Mrs. Solomon Powell, of Bass River, Richibucto, and three children, were all more or less seriously burned. A grandchild was burned to death. Mrs. Powell lies in a very dangerous state. The house took fire, and with its contents, was totally consumed. We hope this will prove a salutary warning to all persons to be careful not to handle a fluid lamp in the vicinity of a lighted candle. The accident occurred about ten days ago.—News.

Illuminating gas, of an excellent quality, can be obtained from coal oil. A patent for a new apparatus to manufacture it, has been taken out in Canada. If it succeeds on a large scale as well as on a small one, we may expect to be supplied with gas at a very moderate rate in a short time.

One hundred and twenty houses, mostly wooden buildings, and occupied by mechanics, were destroyed by fire in the St. Louis district of Quebec, on the 7th inst.

NOVA SCOTIA REVENUE.—The Halifax Government journals announce that the revenue for the present year, is so far, greater than for the same period of last year.—News.

The Halifax Sun says—
"More than one of our Canadian contemporaries reiterate the assertion that, considered in a commercial point of view, the proposed Inter-colonial Railway, if constructed, would be of no benefit to Canada."

ILLUMINATION.—The Gas Company at a meeting held on Tuesday, resolved to reduce the price of Gas to $3 per thousand cubic feet.—Freeman.

SCIENCE.—Some poor unfortunate man committed suicide by drowning himself in the Market Slip a few nights since. The name of the person has not yet been ascertained definitely.

SAIORS IN HALIFAX.—We referred last week to the disorderly conduct of some of these men in Halifax, and the indifference of the people to their welfare. We are gratified to insert the following notice this week from the last Witness:—

We notice from the Reporter of Thursday, that Rev. Messrs. McGregor, Brewster and Munro, have, with the concurrence of the Admiral and the Captains of the "Nile" and "Hero," addressed the men of these five ships with a fair measure of success. On inquiry we find that these gentlemen will continue this effort, having met with the most courteous treatment from the officers of the Ships, and the most respectful attention from the men. Many who decline to give up their gross excesses thanks for the interest shown in seeking their welfare.

The want of a "Home" is sensibly and deeply felt, not only by the Total Abstinents, but by a much larger number of unpledged, but still sober and temperate men, who do not wish to place themselves within the snare of the dreadful whirlpools which have destroyed so many fine craft.

THE SLAVES OF PREJUDICE.—Death Robbed of his Prey.—There are queer people in the world; people with the most absurd, unreasonable, and indefensible prejudices. For example, you have met with individuals who had a morbid antipathy to anything that was extensively advertised, no matter what may be its actual claims to the confidence of the public. These eccentrics looked with especial disfavor on advertised medicines. They could not see, for example, in Dr. HOLLOWAY'S magnificent system of advertising, covering, as it does, all the mediums of publicity, the world affords anything but a gigantic scheme of mere speculation. True, they could not gainsay the testimony pouring in spontaneously from the highest sources, in favor of his incomparable Pills and Ointment, but still they shook their heads and muttered "humbug." Of course, there is no possibility of arguing with men who won't reason. The best way is to let them alone. Fortunately such specimens of stupidity are "few and far between" in this enlightened era. The general feeling is that if a thing is in itself excellent, its virtues should be proclaimed to the four winds of heaven for the general benefit of mankind. Hence the proclamations made by Dr. Holloway through the entire newspaper press of the world, of the properties and operation of his remedies, meets with the cordial approval of thinking men. The value of the preparations as specifics for the various internal and external complaints peculiar to different climates, or common to the world at large, is conceded not only by the masses, but by governments, men of science, and candid observers in every walk of life. Can such remedies be too widely known? Impossible!—Cin. Dollar Columbian.
