From the despatches received during the week we select all that is important from the seat of war. The victory of the Federals in Kentucky was not so great as reported. Much anxiety was felt for some days with regard to Burnside's Expedition. The following despatch gives the untold information.

Authentic news has been received of Burnside's Expedition. It consisted in all of 125 vessels; arrived at Hatteras Inlet between the 12th and 17th. Experienced a series of terrific storms; steamer City of New York struck outside the bar and was totally lost; gunboat Zouave and steamer Pocahontas went ashore and were lost; Grapeshot foundered; steamers Louisiana, Eastern Queen and Voltigeur ashore; much suffering in the fleet; a number of lives and much material of war lost. Less water on the bar than reported. Burnside succeeded in getting half his fleet over—all the gunboats and 7000 troops. The weather had become more favorable, and Burnside was confident of ultimate success.

Much has been said and promised about a forward movement of the army on the Potomac, but, at the time we write, no word has been received of any special change. That some great movement is in contemplation is quite certain, which, with the operations of the Burnside expedition, is expected to break the power of the rebels and completely suppress the rebellion. Whether these expectations will be realized remains to be seen.

His Honor Judge

the causes

brought poverty, and then

Some of the unfortunate men who at the recent Supreme Court in Fredericton, were sentenced to long years of confinement and labour in the Penitentiary for larceny, illustrating very forcibly the danger of forming habits of drinking and idleness. Thomas Hollins was sentenced to nine years imprisonment; Andrew Sinclair to five years; and George Peebles to two years. We learn that His Honor Judge Wilmot, in passing sentence upon these unfortunate men, alluded in eloquent and forcible language to the causes which had contributed to reduce them to their present miserable condition. First, a love of drink, which necessarily produced illness and consumed means. This brought poverty, and then as families were depending upon them, they resorted to larceny to obtain their support, and money to follow their drinking habits. What a sad lesson: we hope it may not be lost upon others who are on a similar track.

CONDOLENCES TO HER MAJESTY.—The Common Council of Fredericton has adopted an Address of Condolence to Her Majesty. The last paragraph is as follows:—

We venture to express a humble hope that it may afford some measure of consolation to Your Majesty on this mournful occasion to be assured that the affectionate and sympathetic loyalty of our whole people manifests itself in earnest prayers offered at the Throne of Grace in Your Majesty's behalf, that the "Rock of Ages," the stay and support of Your late beloved Consort—our revered Prince—in his last hours of trial, may prove a refuge for Your Majesty and Royal Family in these moments of sorrow and suffering, and that the Almighty Disposer of events may still grant to you, our beloved Queen, a long, peaceful, and prosperous reign.

We have not received the Religious Intelligencer for a great many weeks; the Banner has been regularly sent to the office. How is this? Only an oversight, we hope.—Temperance Banner.

We thought the Intelligencer was sent regularly to the Banner Office, until we enquired a few days since. We then directed it to be sent hereafter without fail. [Ed. Intell.]

We were not aware that the Philanthropist was sent to us until we found it in our office in St. John, last week. We ordered the Intelligencer to be forwarded in exchange immediately, and would be obliged if the Philanthropist was forwarded to us, through the Post Office, or by carrier—at Fredericton.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.—The lecture at the Institute on next Monday evening, will be delivered by Mr. William R. Lomax, C. E., Honorary Member of the Birmingham Polytechnic Institution. His subject will be—"Ancient and Modern Weapons of Warfare."—Globe.

FIRE IN CARLETON.—A fire broke out about half-past one o'clock on Sunday morning, in a building on Rodney Street, better known as the "Sawdust Road," Carleton, owned by Mr. Thomas Coram, and formerly used by him as a mill or factory for grinding hemlock bark. The machinery, however, has been spread rapidly, and before they were checked, destroyed the building occupied by Messrs. Jenks & Clarke as a saw factory and planing mill, and a small Foundry belonging to Mr. George W. Wakefield. During the fire, and indeed during the whole night, there was a most fearful storm of hail and sleet, with high wind, so that it was almost impossible for the men to work. They did the best they could, however, and had it not been for their active exertions much more property would have been destroyed.

Mr. Coram had, we were told, £100 insurance on his property, but this was not insurance on either of the other buildings, and thus the proprietors, hard working and industrious men, have lost all they were worth. There is no doubt, whatever, that the fire was the act of an incendiary as there had been no fire in Mr. Coram's building for a long time. We sincerely hope that the guilty party will be found out and severely punished for the injury he has inflicted both upon the proprietors of the buildings destroyed and upon the community to whom the planing mill especially was of great benefit. It is said that the property burned, exclusive of Mr. Coram's building, was worth $6000.

The dwelling House of Mr. Thos. Furnas at Westfield, K. C., was totally destroyed by fire last week, together with all its contents—the inmates barely escaping with their lives.—Nbr.

A Bill to alter the mode of disposing of the Fishery berths in the Harbour of this City, appears in the News this morning. It provides for the annual sale by auction of these berths, and for the application of the proceeds to the erection of a City Hall. It is a wise and judicious measure, and we sincerely trust that it may be enacted, with one amendment, namely, that only a moderate quota of the Carleton Fisheries, instead of the whole, shall be applied to the object designated. A strong opposition will, of course, be manifested against this Bill in some quarters; but we hope the members of the Legislature will have sufficient virtue and firmness to pass it.—Ch. Wt.

M. M. S. Conqueror, of 101 guns and 800 horse power, has been wrecked in the Bahamas. She had on her way back, under canvas alone, to Bermuda, by way of the Crooked Island Channel. The undertaking was rash and unusual, and the result has proved it.—Id.

It appears by the News that the number of troops now in the city is 1809.

The following are the names of the office-bearers of a Young Men's Christian Association, recently organized at St. Stephen:—

Z. Chipman, President; H. Webber, Jas. Thompson, Jr., and Robert Clark, Vice-Presidents; Jas. G. Stevens, Geo. S. Grimmer, Dugald Thomson, W. H. Stevens and John F. Grant, Executive Committee; J. Bolton, Treasurer; James N. Clark, Secretary.

RAILWAY DELEGATION.—The Hon. Joseph Howe has returned to Halifax. The News understands that the object of the Intercolonial Railroad has been presented to Her Majesty's Government in due form, but no answer is expected till the Cabinet assemble before the meeting of Parliament.—Nbr.

The Halifax papers report the discovery of a "six ounce" nugget of gold.

Newfoundland seems destined to trouble. Fresh riots have broken out in that unfortunate Island. The Romish party is struggling for the ascendancy. The principal places of disturbance have been Harbour Grace and Carbonear.

St. John's, N. F., Jan. 24.—The steamer Mauritius, with 750 troops on board, put in here this morning, short of coal. She sailed from England on the 1st inst., and experienced heavy weather. She threw 80 horses overboard.

DRUNKENNESS AMONG SOLDIERS.—We are not in a position to speak from actual observation of the fearful increase said to be in drinking in the city during the last few weeks. We are informed that tavern keepers are reaping a great harvest from the soldiers recently brought to our shores. We believe the authorities ought to devise some plan by which these brave men who have come to lay down their lives if necessary for our country should be protected from the robberies of rum-sellers. We learn with much satisfaction that among the regiments lately arrived, there are many sober, excellent men. But it is also true that there are many others who are incapable of resisting temptation to drink, and hence are easy victims to their destroyers. We copy the following article from the Montreal Witness on "the great enemy of armies."

The demoralization of a considerable proportion of the Federal army, on the Potomac and elsewhere, through drunkenness, has been the frequent and sad subject of comment by chaplains and newspaper correspondents; and stringent laws have been already enacted by Congress, against the sale of liquor to soldiers, while still more stringent laws are called for. The accounts published in Richmond papers concerning the army of the South, at Manassas, show, that it is even more demoralized by strong drink, than that of the North. Half-lad, half-drunken, filthy, and lazy, that army is fast becoming useless; and enormous sums are offered in vain by respectable soldiers for substitutes, to endure such companionship. In Britain, also, we find frequent cases of insubordination and violence on the part of soldiers, reported in the papers, all growing out of drinking; and, in this country, whenever soldiers come before military or civil courts, it is on account of strong drink, administered to them in these dens of drunkenness and vice which are legalized by our Government and licensed by our Corporation, to ensure them.

Well may soldiers believe that there is a general conspiracy against them. Canteens, and salubrious in and dram-shops at every corner without, endeavor assiduously to rob them, by tempting them to spend their pay in strong drink. In other words, the nefarious traffickers in liquor flitch from the soldier by their wiles, the pay which is necessary for his health and comfort, and put in return, a fiery demon into his brain, to fit him for any act of insubordination, violence or crime; and all this the authorities, civil and military, complacently permit?

In view of the terrible consequences which may result from drinking among masses of armed men, the military authorities at Washington have, as already said, demanded and obtained the enactment of stringent laws against selling liquor to soldiers; and a number of the highest officers have banished wine and strong drink from their own tables, in order to add the power of example to that of precept. These wise and considerate proceedings have been followed by a good measure of success;—although it is out of the question to look for absolute success in any prohibitory measure.

Should not something similar be done in Quebec and Montreal, in the way of stopping the traffic, whilst so many troops are amongst us? Such a measure is as much required for the welfare of the troops, as for the quiet and security of the cities in which they are quartered.
