What a sad sight-a family in which there is nothing pleasant. Such a one I knew in Ohio. The parents were lazy and kept their children half starved. They would quarrel among themselves, and swear very profanely. At length a Christian lady called to see them. When she entered their filthy cabin, they seemed amazed. And as her eyes looked upon their misery, the tears began to flow. And no wonder that her heart was moved, when she found such wretched heathen within a mile from a Christian church.

Seated upon a dirty bench, she asked them if they were happy? No, was the rude answer. Would you not like to be happy and live as Mr.

L? Yes. Well, said she, I can tell you how you and your children can be happy in this world, and that to come. There is one Jesus who came to save sinners. He invites all to bliss and glory. Not one who ever trusted in him is miserable. She further told them of the love and tenderness of Christ.

But the main object of her visit, was to see it the parents would permit their children (four in number) to attend the Sabbath school. At first they made no reply. But after telling them that necessary clothing would be furnished, and that the teachers would be kind, they consented to let

On the next Sabbath morning, the good lady called to take them with her. They went. Poor children, how timid and ashamed they looked. But they saw that the teachers were kind, and they soon became interested in the school. So time passed: they looked more happy. Things at home began to look better. The parents felt better-became more industrious and cleanly. They too commenced going to church. There was more harmony at home. The children felt as if the light of a new world had dawned upon them. And in six years, these parents and two sons sat down together at the Lord's table with delight.

One who had seen them years before, was so astonished at the change, that he was compelled to ask the mother "How did you become so prosperous? What makes you so happy now?" "O, sir!" said she, "religion has done it. We all love Jesus now, and we are happy among ourselves." Surely, wisdom's ways are pleasantness, and all her paths are peace.

"Father," said the girl, "I love you, and I think I love the Saviour too." He opened his Bible to a blank leaf, and pointing with his finger, he said:

"Maria, whose name is that?" "It is mine, Sir."

"Did I not tell you that I would disinherit you if you got religion ?" "Yes, Sir."

"Well, I must do it. You cannot come into my house." And, tearing the leaf out of the Bible, - "There," said he, "do I blot out your name from among my children. You can go. She went to the house of a pious widow lady in the neighborhood, and heard no more from her father for three weeks. One morning she saw her father's carriage driving up to the door. She ran out and said to the driver, "What is the matter

"Your father is very sick, and thinks he is going to die; and he is afraid he shall go to hell for his wickedness, and for the grievous wrong he has done you in disinheriting you and turning you from his house. He wants you to jump into the carriage and come home as quickly as possible."

She found her father sick, sure enough, on going home, but she soon saw he was only sin-sick. She talked with him, she prayed with him; she endeavored to lead him to Christ. In three days the father, mother, two brothers and a sister, were all rejoicing in hope, making the whole family, all made heirs with God and joint-heirs with Christ, to the heavenly inheritance. How faithful God is to those who put their trust in him.

The disinherited was made the honored means, in the hands of the Holy Spirit, of unspeakable blessings to all her father's household, by going straight-forward in her heavenly Master's service. What a glorious crown of rejoicing will be hers in the great and trying day, when the Lord comes to reckon up his jewels. - Observer.

PROHIBITION.

VERMONT VS. NEW YORK.

A letter-writer in the Burlington Free Press, some time since instituted a comparison between Prohibition in Vermont and License or almost free trade, in New York. It is well worthy of perusal in Massachusetts at the present time, when License is again asked for by opposers of Temper-

The of the progress and regress of society, The quire at Champlain Presbytery, at their annual meeting in January last, deplore this fact thus: "Intemperance, that scourge of our country, is evidently on the increase within our bounds, and making progress among our youth." Strong drink again, as of old, degrades and destroys not only many of the poorer and least informed in society, but it enters some of the best families, and throws down their most promising sons. And how can these things be otherwise? They take place according to law, and by skillfully laid plans. Their producing causes are found in nearly every village, and at the corners of the streets, in the form of licensed grogshops. Have not the owners of these a right, for which they have paid their money, to tempt and destroy their fellow-men; provided they can increase their gains by so doing? Is it not a lawful business, defined by statute, and defended by the authority of the Empire State? The number of these grogshops now in full blast

A THOUSAND MILES A MINUTE.

BY A. H. BULLOCK. The motion of the earth round the sun is at the rate of Sixty-eight thousand miles an hour! Why, man, the deuce is in it;

What matchless proof of mighty power, A thousand miles a minute! This wondrous car keeps rolling on With all its land and ocean; The Engineer is never gone, Or varies in his motion.

No 'running fast,' no 'running slow,' No bursting of the boiler, Nothing to pay, of all who go No one e'er gave a dollar. No upward grade, no downward grade, No stopping at a station,

Cause for repair has not been made Since the All-wise creation. Since time began, ne'er left the track, Or called for wood or water, No switching off, no running back, Collisions cause no slaughter. Because the track is always clear, The watchmen never slumber, No train behind we ever fear, Obstructions ne'er encumber.

The signal lights we oft descry, But no alarming token; They glitter in the evening sky, And dance with joy unbroken. No application of the brakes, Reversing of the motion, No fear of telegraph mistakes,

No sound to mar devotion.

So silently the vast machine Obeys the laws of Heaven, The movement is not felt or seen, No jar of tumult given. 'Through tickets' only can we have--No others to be taken: Whether we live or fill the grave,

The motion will not slacken. But take us on, with lightning speed, Until we reach the station, Which stands, say Faith and Hope agreed, At portals of Salvation.

'Free pass' each traveller awaits-Observing rules to win it; Soon we shall reach those pearly gates-A thousand miles a minute. -Rural New Yorker.
