PICTURES OF WAR.

WOUNDED SOLDIERS.

Another transport has arrived at New York with nearly a regiment of men prostrated by wounds and fevers. These brave men have been stabbed and shot at and poisoned by slavery. We have tried in vain to appease the wrath of this fiend by conciliation and compromise. The demon will not pass from us on the bridge of gold suggested by the President. It seems as though there can be no remission of the sin of slavery without the shedding of blood.

There lies the floating hospital filled with sick and wounded soldiers. Many of these men have been baptized in the smoke, fire, and blood of battle. They stood like a wall of defence betwixt us and our enemies. They were cut down in the thickest of the fight in terrible tempests of shot and shell. They magnanimously made their persons our shield of protection, and received in their bodies the bullets and bayonets that might have pierced us had they not manfully taken our places. The history of this war is written in red scars upon their battered and lacerated persons.

The decks of the transport Fulton were covered with sick and wounded men, who were lying on beds—on stretchers—on benches—on bare planks with knapsacks for pillows. Surgeons, nurses, state and Government agents, anxious relatives and friends, were busy in their efforts to relieve the sufferers. No time was lost, and no red-tape restraints were in the way of the removal of the men to the receiving depots.

"Step lightly there," said the mate to a lame soldier who had accidentally stumbled against the uncoffined corpse of a comrade who died while the transport was coming up the bay, and who was rolled up in a piece of sail-cloth.

"Come with me," said a gentleman to the writer, "and see the noble Quaker lady who has just arrived from Philadelphia in pursuit of her brother, a handsome lad of sixteen who fell in the battle of Fairoaks." I followed past men in berths and men on planks-sick men-wounded mendving men-and men convalescent. Lower and lower still, until I reached the bottom of the ship, and there found Isack Wayne Van Leep, of Company B, 53d Pa., a grandnephew of Gen Wayne. A musket ball had entered his head, and had been extracted from his cheek. His sister, Mrs. G. H. Earle, the wife of a distinguished lawyer in Philadelphia, was there administering to his wants, and superintending his removal. The beautiful boy, who had been brought up on the lap of luxury and surrounded by the abundant comforts afforded by wealth, did not complain, but patiently endured the pains and privations incident to a soldier's life. Failing to persuade his father to take up arms, he volunteered himself, and is proud to reflect that he has rendered some service to his

Returning to the upper deck, I saw W. A. Moss, Company C, 100th N. Y. He was in the battle of Seven Pines, where he received a gunshot wound in the leg, and where his wife, who has been with him ever since he enlisted, was wounded in the shoulder. She aided her husband to escape to the rear of the army, when one of his comrades took him on his back and carried him to a place of safety, where his wounds were washed and dressed. Mrs. Moss has taken care of her husband on board the Fulton. She informed the writer that her dress was cut to pieces by shots from the enemy.

Mr. Kent and her daughter (a modest girl of twelve summers) were on board the Fulton .-Robert Kent, the husband of this woman, and the father of this girl, was there also; he was wounded in the arm in one of the late battles, and his wife and child, who have been with him since he left his home in Oswego, have nursed him, carried his knapsack, and cared for him in all the ups and downs, hardships and dangers, of places to the sick and wounded men) badly wounded in the leg. This noble specimen of a man, though in great pain, bit his lips and bore up under his sufferings without a murmur of complaint. "Oh! Oh! Oh! my God, have mercy, have mercy," exclaimed a poor fellow who was sufferhis pain somewhat subsided, and he gave the writer the following facts: "My name is Michael Fitzpatrick; I belong to company F, 3d Regiment, Sickles' Brigade. I was wounded in the battle of Williamsburg. The ball struck me in front, glanced over the ribs, and came out at my back. Gen. Kearney saved the whole brigade from being cut to pieces. [Don't jar me so when you walk past.] (This was spoken to one of the hands, who stepped upon a plank on which the wounded man's mattress rested). We had to take our ammunition from dead men's cartridgeboxes, having exhausted our own supply. Finally, I and many of my comrades were left upon the field, where we fell into the hands of the enemy. A rebel officer brought me a drink of water in his cap. He was a young fellow in his teens, and said he would take T. F. Meagher prisoner. I remained all day and all night on the field, where the shrieks of wounded men and the groans of those who were dying made night hideous. It rained all night, and the next morning I was recaptured and cared for by our men." This soldier is a very intelligent man, and was exceeding anxious that his friends in Newark, New Jersey, should come and take him to their home.

THE INNER CALM.

BY HORATIUS BONAR, D. D. Calm me, my God, and keep me calm. While these hot breezes blow; Be like the night dew's cooling balm Upon earth's fevered brow.

Calm me, my God, and keep me calm, Soft resting on thy breast : Sooth me with holy hymn and psalm, And bid my spirit rest.

Calm me, my God, and keep me calm; Let thine outstretching wing Be like the shade of Elim's palm Beside her desert spring.

Yes, keep me calm, though loud and rude The sounds my ear that greet-Calm in the closet's solitude Calm in the bustling street;

Calm in the hour of buoyant health, Calm in my hour of pain, Calm in my poverty or wealth, Calm in my loss or gain;

Calm in the sufferance of wrong, Like him who bore my shame ; Calm mid the threatening, taunting throng, Who hate Thy holy name;

Calm when the great world's news with power My listening spirit stir; Let not the tidings of the hour

Calm as the ray of sun or star Which storms assail in vain, Moving unruffled through earth's war, The eternal calm to gain.

E'er find too fond an ear;

A MISSIONARY IN THE NURSERY .- I am firmly persuaded that a religious reformation amongst must commence in the nursery; and that, if the next generation is to be seasoned and imbued with evangelical knowledge and genuine piety, the tincture must be imbibed almost with their mother's milk. Alas! that in the higher walks of society the great object in the education of young females-imparting to them such solid and READY MADE CLOTHING, useful, above all such religious and scriptural instruction as may qualify them to become teachers of their own future offspring-should be so generally lost sight of amid the dazzling glare of those showy and superficial accomplishments which RETAIL have hitherto been so much the bane, not only of "the world of the ungodly" without, but also of Lieutenant C. "We want more mothers," said Napoleon : "they are the most influential teachers; with them rests the tuition of the heart, so much more influential than that of the head." "I am a missionary in my nursery," once observed a Christian mother. "Six pairs of little eyes are daily watching mamma's looks, as well as listening to her words; and I wish my children never to see in me that which they may not imitate."

> AN INTERESTING INSTITUTION.—The Synod of Albany, during its late sessions at Syracuse, N. Y., was invited to visit the State Asylum for Idiots at that place. A correspondent of the Presbyterian gives the following account of the visit:

We found there about one hundred and twenty In the City-consisting of the finest children, divided into four departments, accordng to ability and progress. Some of those in the lower grade seemed scarcely to notice even the sound of the piano. To put squares, circles, triangles of wood into holes of the same shape in a board which was handed them; or to put red, green and vellow balls into cups of the same color, was the utmost they were capable of. Even this On Sunday morning the transport Hero landed | they went about uncertainly and dreamily, as if

SARSAPARILLA.

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases. From Emery Edes, a well known merchant of Oxford, Maine. "I have sold large quantities of your Sarsaparilla, but never yet one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin. From Rev. Robert Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your Sarsaparilla. My daughter, aged ten, had an afflicting hypers in the same and the same and the same are same are same are same and the same are s flicting humor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure, until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months. From Mrs. Jane E. Rice, a well known and much esteemed "My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofuous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPABILLA, which soon completely cured her.' From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the whiely known Gage, Murray & Co., manufacturers of enamelled papers in Nashua, N. H.

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse, until it disfigured my features, and became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could, of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SarsapaRILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is an amount of the same and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy perfect ealth, and, without a doubt, owe it to your SARSAPARILLA.

Erysipelas-General Debility-Purify the Blood. From Dr. Robert Sawin, Houston-st., New York. "DR. AYER—I seldom fail to remove Eruptions and Scro-ulous Sores by the persevering use of your Sarsaparilla, and I have just now cured an attack of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the Sarsa-Parilla you have supplied to the profession as well as to

From J. E. Johnston, Esq., Wakeman, Ohio.

"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The ulcers were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your Sarsaparilla. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Monro, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Purliament.

"I have used your Sarsaparilla in my family, for general debility and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the official."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes. From Harvey Sickler, Esq., the able editor of the Tunkhannock Democrat, Pennsylvania. "Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until nd virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the estering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began giving your Sarsaparilla, and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease. From Dr. Hiram Sloat, of St. Louis, Missouri.
"I find your Sarsaparilla a more effectual remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Law-rence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"Dr. Ayer—My dear Sir: I have found your SarsapaRILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary type, and and effectual in some cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required." Mr. Charles S. Van Liew, of New Brunswick, N. J., had dreadful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravated for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPAveterate and distressing than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him. Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness. are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Ulceration, and are very often cured by the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases require, however, in aid of the Sarsaparilla, the skilful application of local remedies. From the well known and widely celebrated Dr. Jacob Mor-"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of Irregularity, Leucorrhœa, Internal Ulceration, and local debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not, when its effect is properly aided by A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes: "My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhœa of long standing, by two bottles of

YOUR SARSAPARILLA." Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia,

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS ssess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public heir quality is maintained equal to the best it ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they Prepared by J.
