"Then curse you, I can get it somewhere else !" said the old man bitterly, as he left the hotel. "Was not that Judge -- ?" asked a gentleman who had observed the scene across the bar-room.

"It is the wreck of him," replied the bar-keeper. "Good heavens! When I last saw him, he stood as high as any man in this city. I was here to purchase goods, and having been swindled by an auctioneer, had business with him. How he is altered." "Yes, sir; he has been going down very fast. I never give him liquor when I can help it; but as he said just now, he can get it elsewhere; and such poison, too, as will hurry him off faster than the liquor we keep." "You do not drink, I perceive."

"No, sir; good bar-keepers seldom do. Like phy- cise sicians, they know the effect of their own medicines, and distrust them. When they see, day by day, the wrecks of men once healthy, honourable and intelligent, staggering before them, or hear the maudlin follies of drunken men in decent garb, they are led to reflection, and shun the danger even as a mariner avoids the reefs on which he sees piled the shattered hull and broken spars of a ship once strong and you, after having seen the sewing machine in London."

By her side he knelt and wept, for he felt that the chill of death was coming upon her. The little thin hand that he clasped, was cold as ice-her face was white, her lips were blue and bloodless, her breath came and went in little fluttering gasps, and when her lips moved, only a faint whispering reached his ear. "Why don't father come? I'm dying, Henry," she

"I know it, Jane," he moaned. "Father's gone for the medicine, and-and-oh? I wish I had gone, but I did not care to leave you."

"Kiss me, dear brother, -kiss me-I shall be with my mother soon !" gasped the poor girl; and every breath seemed more and more faint.

He pressed his lips to hers, and his burning tears fell fast upon her snowy cheeks. He thought he heard a step ascending the rickety stairs; he turned his head to see if his father was coming. He was mistaken. It was only the strong winter wind shaking the crazy old house.

It was morning, and from the various stationhouses, the wretched "pickings up" of the night were marshalled to the "Tombs" to be dealt with by the presiding justice of the day.

The justice was about commencing his examinations, when a lad of sixteen or seventeen, roughly but decently dressed, with a fine intellectual countenance, but one which bore now the look of some keen and terrible mental agitation, entered the court room, recognised by the kind-hearted justice, who had means taken to restore him to consciousness, and then caused him to be taken home, if home it could be called, where lay, white and cold, the second of the victims whom he had made through the accursed aid of the spirit rum!

Works of Fiction .- Under the head of "Improp er and dangerous amusements" we may properly place the reading of works of Fiction. With the exception of an extremly small proportion, this class of books is read only for amusement. Indeed, they can be read for nothing else. They contain nothing useful. A person may read whole libraries of fiction without obtaining as much valuable information as might be gathered from a single well-selected duodecime, But they are not merly useless: the vast majority of them are positively pernicious. They excite the passions of young people at that period when passion is quite in advance of reason, and consequently when it needs checking rather than exciting. They inflame the imagination, and fill it with false and overwrought pictures of life and manners. They are framed "to thrill, and dazzle, and horrify;" and to accomplish this end, must be filled with plots, intrigues, disappointed love, elopements, seduction, suicide, and blood. Religion is caricatured; morals are perverted; and crime is extenuated. The reader's delicacy is continually shocked; until, finally, the finer feelings become blunted. In the mean time, books that require thought, or inculcate the serious duties of life, are regarded as tasteless and insipid; and are neglected or thrown aside. Life, with its sober and stern realities, becomes monotonous and tiresome; and the romance reader, long accustomed to dwell in the regions of fancy, sighs for excitement and adventures in real IS FATHER HERE?

OR THE MISERIES OF INTEMPERANCE.

"Come, Jake, do let me have just one more drink; one more, and I'll go home, I suppose I am wanted there!"

Thus, in a thick and husky voice, pleaded a gray-haired man, at the bar of one of our hotels—one very haired man, at the bar of one of our hotels—one very haired man, at the bar of one of our hotels—one very haired man, at the bar of one of our hotels—one very haired man, at the bar of one of our hotels—one very haired man, at the bar of one of our hotels—one very haired man, at the bar of one of our hotels—one very haired man, at the bar of one of our hotels—one very haired man, at the bar of one of our hotels—one very hair and heroines,—a world of heroes and heroines,—a world is not to be found the united States, consisting of Fancy DRESS GOODS, received by late arrivals from Fancy Powers, bearing and varied stock of Staple and Fancy Powers, bearing and varied stock of Staple and Fancy Powers, bearing and varied stock of Staple and Fancy Powers, bearing and varied to inform them and the public generally, that he has now featin are fitted for "treason, stratagems, and spoils."

FOOLISH THOUGHTS .- We are apt to believe in Providence so long as we have our own way; but The old man, amid the blotched and wrinkled fur- if things go awry, then we think, if there is a God, rows on his face, in his erect carriage, and in his he is in heaven, and not on earth. The plough comes crunching along, and turns his dwelling bottom side up, and as he is rolling over and over, without a home, his heart says, "O, the foundations of the world are destroyed, and every thing is going to ruin!" But the husbandman, who walks behind his plough, "Only just one drink," said the old man, "ONE singing and whistling as he goes, does he think more to steady my nerves, and I'll go home :- Jane's the foundations of the world are breaking up? If anything happens to overthrow our plans we think all is gone to ruin .- Beecher.

> POWDER-MILL PIETY .- Said a little girl, who had just been reading the newspaper account of an explosion, "Ma, don't you think that people who work in powder mills ought to be good?" There was a great deal of human nature in that question. The world, like the little girl, thinks that all who are especially exposed, ought to be prepared for a sudden death. But is not the whole world a vast powder mill? Is it not filled everywhere with the elements of destruction? The air we breathe may become poisonous and slay us. The water we drink may contain some deadly ingredient, which neither sight nor taste can detect. We are encompassed even by unseen dangers. We are never certain of to-morrow. Then should we not be prepared, whatever our age, our business, or our locality, for sudden death ?- Cincinnati Christian Herald.

Now if folks enquire again whether you are or not, what shall I tell 'em I think ?" THE ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY 92 street, London, and Royal Insurance-build

Chairman of the London Board.—Samuel Baker, Esq.

Chairman in Liverpool.—Charles Turner, Esq.

The Royal Insurance Company is one of the largest Offices in the kingdom.

At the Annual Meeting held in August 1859, the following highly satisfactory results were shown:— FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The recent returns of duty made by Government for this Ine recent returns of duty made by Government for this latter year (1858) again show the "Royal" as more than maintaining the ratio of its increase as stated in former years. Only one among the London insurance offices exhibits an advance to the extent of one-half the increase of the Company, while all the others respectively fall far short of the mojety of its advance. moiety of its advance.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

The amount of new Life Premiums received this year is y far the largest received in any similar period since the ommencement of the business, and must far exceed the average of amount received by the most successful offices in the kingdom. The number of policies issued in the year was 832, the sum assured £387,752 6s. 8d., and the premium £12,354 8s. 4d. These figures show a very rapid extension usiness during the last ten years. Thus :-Years. No. of Policies. Sums Assured. New Premium £48,764 17 0 95,650 9 11 181,504 10 6 5,828 5 4,694 16 161.848 13 4 8,850 3 11 297,560 16 8 12,354 8 4

The remarkable increase in the business of the last four ears is mainly consequent upon the large bonus declared in 1855, which amounted to no less than £2 per cent per um on the sums assured, and averaged 80 per cent. upon the premiums paid.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases. From Emery Edes, a well known merchant of Oxford, Main "I have sold large quantities of your Sarsaparilla, but never yet one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin. From Rev. Robert Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your Sarsaparilla. My daughter, aged ten, had an afflicting humor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure, until we tried your Sarsaparilla. She has been well for some months.

From Mrs. Jane E. Rice, a well known and much esteemed lady, of Dennisville, Cape May Co., N. J.
"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your Sarsaparilla, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely known Gage, Murray & Co., manufacturers of enamelled papers in Nashua, N. H. "I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse, until it disfigured my features, and became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could, of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SarsapaRILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy perfect health, and, without a doubt, cwe it to your SARSAPARILLA.

Erysipelas-General Debility-Purify the Blood. From Dr. Robert Sawin, Houston-st., New York. "DR. AYER—I seldom fail to remove Eruptions and Scrofulous Sores by the persevering use of your Sarsaparilla, and I have just now cured an attack of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the Sarsaparilla you have supplied to the profession as well as to

From J. E. Johnston, Esq., Wakeman, Ohio.
"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The ulcers were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your Sarsaparilla. Took two bottles, and some of your Pills. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Monro, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Purliament.

"I have used your Sarsaparilla in my family, for general debility and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Sickler, Esq., the able editor of the Tunkhan-"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began giving your Sarsaparilla, and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

From Dr. Hiram Sloat, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your Sarsaparilla a more effectual remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have." In the City—consisting of the finest From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Law-rence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature "DR. AYER-My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPA-RILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary type, and and effectual in some cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required." Mr. Charles S. Van Liew, of New Brunswick, N. J., had dreadful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravated for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of Ayer's SARSAPA-RILLA relieved him. Few cases can be found more inveterate and distressing than this, and it took several do-Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness. are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Ulceration, and are very often cured by the alterative effect of this Sarsaparilla. Some cases require, however, in aid of the Sarsaparilla, the skilful application of local remedies.

From the well known and widely celebrated Dr. Jacob Mor-"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of Irregularity, Leu-corrhea, Internal Ulceration, and local debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not, when its effect is properly aided by local treatment. A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes: " My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhæa of long standing, by two bottles of Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia,
