NOW THE MERCHANT, ONCE THE SHOE-LESS BOY.

little boy in the street, poorly clad, with his bare feet in the cold snow-no hat, and in the most wretched condition. I called him to me, and pro- paper. posed the following questions :-

"What is your name, my little fellow?" " My name is George S---.

"Where do you live?" "In the woods by the old mill." "What is your father's name?"

"I have no father (and he burst into tears) : my father was brought home dead about a year ago. He was found frozen to death on the road to our house."

"And your mother—is she living? "Yes, sir; but she is poor, and goes out to "Have you any brothers and sisters?"

"Yes; one brother and one sister." " Are they at home?" "Yes, sir; they are little ones, and cannot go out now." "Well, my little fellow, you want a pair of shoes and some clothes." "Yes, sir; but I want to get something for mother to eat first."

This told the story. I asked no more questions, but immediately set about work to be done. George was soon in my waggon with me, and food enough for his mother's present necessities. On reaching the house, I found a lonely woman with two dear little ones, and nothing to eat. George jumped out of the waggon, and ran into the house, saying, "Oh, mother, mother! you will not cry any more—the gentleman has got us enough to eat for a whole month." I found by inquiry that the father had been a drunkard, and died in a drunken fit, and left the widow to struggle alone. George was then about ten years of age, was the only child large enough to be of any help to his mother, and a good boy he was to that poor

I had spent the morning in viewing the great buildings-the City Hall, the great Custom House, Trinity Church, with its tall spire, then nearly completed, and many other public places so interesting to the stranger; and, much wearied with my morning's exursion I sought my friend's house as a place of rest. While sitting at the dinner-table, a servant handed me a note, that moment left at the door by some unknown person, which read as follows :-

DEAR SIR,-Having seen your name announced as one of the speakers at the Sunday-school meeting, it would give me great pleasure to see you at No.-Pearl Street, this afternoon, at three o'clock. Do not disappoint me. Your friend,

I hastened to comply with the invitation at the appointed hour. Threading my way along through the multitude of people thronging the busy streets, I arrived at the number mentioned in the note. I inquired of the clerk for the name, and to my surprise he introduced me to the proprietor of a large wholesale dry goods store, one of the first establishments in the city.

"Sir," said the merchant, "I believe I am not mistaken; this is Mr. M-, the poor student of Mr. W-, once my teacher in the Sabbath-

"I was a poor student, and a teacher in the school you mentioned; but this cannot be little George S-, the white-haired boy I owned as my scholar?"

"The same," answered the merchant, grasping my hand, with the greatest joy, while a tear trickled down his cheek. "The same, only grown to manhood."

Soon after I left the place, he was fortunate enough to meet a man from New York who loved Sabbath-schools. While he was on a visit to some friends in the country, he saw George, and being pleased with him, offered to take him home. By good conduct he gained the affections of all who knew him. At the age of eighteen years he was advanced to the station of clerk, and from a clerk to a partner with his employer.

He is superintendent of a large school of poor boys, picked up from the streets and lanes of the city, a member of the Church, and much beloved by all his brethren—a man known, too, by the poor and afflicted. As I sat there, so happily reoicing in the goodness of God, as manifested in this instance, I could not but ask George, "Where is your mother?"

"Oh, sir, she went home to heaven from my arms in this very room, a few months since; and just before she died she gave me strict charge to find you out; and, if I found you out, to tell you that her dying breath went up to God for a blessing on your head."

Your sister, what has become of her; and baby

"Oh, sir, my brother has grown up to be a young man, and is now a clerk and first bookkeeper in my store, and he, too, has a large class in Sabbath-school; and my dear sister is far away, the companion of a devoted missionary in the west. She was married but a few months previous to my mother's death."

Here I must leave the history of this interesting family, and in a few words hint at the lesson it teaches. 1. See how God confers His blessings on those little children who love their parents. Little |.

LIGHT IN DARKNESS.

How often we, like Hagar, mourn When some unlooked-for blight Calls us away, no more to turn To joys we fancy bright.
Forced from our idols to retreat,
And seek the Almighty's care, Perchance we are sent forth to meet A desert-angel there.

Thou who didst sit at Jacob's well, The weary hour of noon, The languid pulses thou canst tell, The nerveless spirit tune. Thou from whose cross in anguish burst The cry that owned Thy dying thirst, To Thee we turn, our Last and First,

Our Sun and soothing Moon. From darkness here and dreariness We ask not full repose, Only be thou at hand to bless Our trial-hour of woes. Is not the pilgrim's toil o'erpaid By the clear rill and palmy shade?

And see we not, up earth's dark glade,

The gate of heaven unclose?

-Anon. A COMFORTING CHARGE.—" Children, when am dead, sing a song of praise to God." Such were the dying words of the mother of John and Charles Wesley. We love to meditate on the words of the departing Christian. We love to recall the jubilant testimony of Janeway, and the almost celestial utterances of Payson. The thrice repeated exclamation of Gordon Hall, in the last spasms of Asiatic cholera, "Glory to thee, O God!" The sublime language of Luther, "Father, into thy hands do I commend my spirit; thou hast re-deemed me, thou faithful God!" are all comforting and encouraging to the Christian. But we know

"ENTERING INTO LIFE MAIMED."-Last August my heart was cheered by a conversion attended with painful circumstances. A few miles from me lives a Swede, a noble old man, who had been for some time a secretary in the king's cabinet, and for six years a speaker in one branch of the Swedish parhament. He sought a voluntary exile here, on account of hatred raised against him for energetic measures against the established and in favour of free religion, as the state church was too exacting. The old man was reduced to poverty, so that he was obliged to take a gold medal, which he received in Sweden as a reward of his patriotism, to purchase a plough with.

Last summer, while at work in the saw-mill here, he was caught on the saw and his left arm almost torn from his body. As soon as I heard of refunded. the accident, I hastened to his house and aided in dressing his wounds and attending him, while we sent sixty miles for a surgeon. His fond wife was frantic with grief; yet in calm heroism lay the old hero with his mangled member resting on for his soul.

I could not talk fluently with him myself, so I rode in haste eight miles for a good Scandinavian brother, who laboured with him faithfully all night, and in the morning the stern fortitude of this strong man softened into the calm serenity of the Christian's hope. It was a sublime spectacle —a great man lying on his lowly couch. He had 14 TH JULY, 1862.—200,000 Cedar Shingles, warranted a first rate lot; 30,000 feet small Scantling. Just re no tears for his own bitter anguish; he wept not ceived and for sale at small advance on cost, by at the agony of his loved companion; but when the love of God flooded his soul, with streaming eyes and touching eloquence he spoke in broken lauguage of his new-found joys. It was the most eloquent sermon I ever heard. His neighbours were assembled, and there was hardly one who did not weep with him. At length, after over thirty hours' waiting, the surgeon came; his arm was amputated, and he lives, praising God's mercy in afflicting him, and quoting that passage which speaks of "entering into life maimed." It was indeed a wonderful providence, sent on purpose for his soul's salvation.

TROCHES

"A simple and elegant combination for Coughs, &c." Dr. G. F. Bigglow, Boston.
"Have proved extremely serviceable for Hoarseness." Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER.

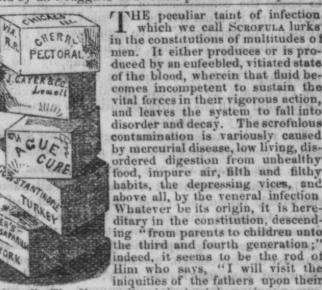

"I have been much afflicted with Bronchial Affection, producing Hoarseness and Cough. The Troches are the only effectual remedy, giving power and clearness to the voice." Rev. GEO. SLACK, Minister Church of England, "Two or three times I have been attacked by Bronchitis, so as to make me fear that I should be compelled to desist from ministerial labor, through disorder of the throat. But from a moderate use of the Troches, I now find myselfable to preach nightly, for weeks together, without the slightest inconvenience."

men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disrdered digestion from unhealthy bod, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and above all, by the veneral infection Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. I'urify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who has given it a trial. That it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkably cures it has made of the following eases: King's Evil or Glandular Swellings, Tumor's Giseases: King's Evil of Giandular Swellings, Tumor's, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipeias, Rose of St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is turnished to the druggists for grating ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief Those causes are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these The amount of new Life Premiums received this year is by far the largest received in any similar period since the commencement of the business, and must far exceed the remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been
