My father sang them; when a boy I heard their notes with glowing joy; And round his dying bed we raised * The words and notes in which he praised The name of God, and sang of bliss In purer, brighter worlds than this,

My mother sang them soft and sweet, And oft her tones my spirit greet, When dreams, beyond the upper air, My soul on wings of fancy bear, To that bright world to which she rose, When leaving life with all its woes, Oppressed with grief, of joy bereft, An orphan I was early left.

I sang them with a brother flown. Where sin and sorrow are unknown. And with a sister, O how dear! Whose notes now greet her mother's ear, I sang them with a youthful bride, Who early withered by my side; They cheered her when life's setting sun Shone on her beaven on earth begun, And only ceased her soul to cheer, When heavenly music met her ear. I sang them with a manly son, Whose race on earth was early run, And with a daughter, bright and fair, Who knows in heaven a mother's care. I've sung them in the forest wild, Where nature lovely towered and smiled. I've sung them on the rolling sea, Whose deep toned surges joined with me In sounding forth their Maker's praise, Whose words can check, or wildly raise The surging billows to the skies Or still them when to heaven they rise. I've sung them in far distant lands, Where roll the waves on classic strands; And tears of grief would quickly come, At thoughts of distant friends and home, With whom, and where I sang these lays, The good old tunes of other days. I've sung them with the wise and good,

As by Death's stream they joyful stood, And saw beyond, the walls that rise, Where blissful mansions greet the eyes. How dear to me these noble lays, The good old tunes of other days! On earth I've sung them with the blest ;

And when I reach the heavenly rest, I hope to sing them there with those Who know no more life's cares or woes, Where golden harps the notes shall raise That fills all heaven with endless praise.

THE UNKNOWN PILOT. "Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right.?"

length the offer of a sufficent reward induced them to thrift. A statch in time saves nine, and sometimes set out. The reason of their objection to starting it saves a great deal more than that. was, that the thick fog rendered the passage uncertain. They could scarcely see from one end of the boat to the other; and much they feared that they would lose their way, and row about the river for several hours to no purpose.

At length we set out, the ferrymen magnifying the difficulties of the passage as much as possible, in order to enhance the value of their services. When we first left the wharf, a stranger stepped toward the stern of the boat, and took the helm. Every eye was fixed on him who had assumed this responsible station, from which every passenger had shrunk. But now that one of their number had seen fit to take the command of the boat, on whose skill and knowledge solely depended the success of our little voyage, every one was disposed to criticise him. There could be no doubt that if he failed to bring us safely to the landing place on the opposite side of the river, he would be obliged to endure the reproaches of every one who had embarked. Indeed it was soon perceived that some were unwilling to wait for his failure, before they gave vent to their feelings. Thinking it a matter of certainty that he could not find the way midnight darkness, they began to mumur in anticipa- in Parliament." tion. The ferrymen were first to evince their uneasiness, by easting glances at each other, which and beautiful ornament for the parlor mantel-piece or nostic of ill success. One of the passengers then grass seeds of any kind in them, and place them in reading to no tele commence of fevers intelects to man a coding inferred that so long as he held his place, he intended to be guided solely by his own judgment. This answer silenced complaint for a time, as no other individual felt disposed to relieve him of his responsibility. But the uneasiness of the passengers increased as we proceeded; and when we became entirely surrounded by a fog, and no object in sight by which our course could be directed, the mumurs and conjectures of the

"Why don't he put the helm up?" said one nestling in his seat. "We shall come out somewhere near the navy yard," said another.

He had better let go and trust to the ferrymen, said a lady present.

"Why don't he keep the tiller to him?" said an elderly black woman, anxiously, thus are dunial ! As the stranger paid no attention to these remarks, his silence was set down for obstinacy; and I am afraid that a few observations were added which somewhat exceeded the bounds of civility. The stranger evidently heard these injurious observations, for he made answer again, that if any gentleman wished to take the helm, he would resign it to his hand Just about this time, a dark object appeared on the water, and as it became more visible through the fag, it was recognized as a vessel which lay at anchor between the landing places on each side of the river. This convinced every one that, so far, the pilot had gone as correctly as if the bright sun had shone unclouded upon the river; and silence was at once restored. All murmurs were bushed;

the vessel soon faded again in the mist, and again nothing but fog and water surrounded us. Dissatisfaction once more prevailed, and the steersman received a great many instructions in his duty, to which he naid no heed, and only returned the answer as be-one who would accept it. After a great deal of fretting and needless discomposure, the travellers perceived land dimly emerging through the dense fog of the morning. Shapeless and unusual as everything appeared, it is no wonder that some imagined they had reached the navy yard, about a mile above the landing place. But all our doubts were at an end when the prow of the boat struck the ferry stairs, and we discovered that the stranger had conveyed us straight as an arrow to our point of destination!

Many years have passed away since the occurrence of this event, yet occasions which have taken place have frequently brought it to my recollection. When I find fault with the ordering of Providence; when I hear men undertake to account for his decrees who maketh darkness his pavilion, and whose ways are past finding out; when I see the good distressed, and apparently ready to murmur at the decrees of heaven, I remember the man at the helm, and I say to myself that, however inscrutable may be the great Father of life, and however he may suffer darkness and doubt to overshadow our souls, he knows what is better for us, and in the end makes all things work together for good to those who love and trust him. We have a Pilot at the belm of the universe who can see through the mists that will envelop us, and will bring his ransomed people safe to the haven of eternal rest .- The British Workman.

A PARAGRAPH FOR LADIES .- Most of our fair readers have a decided aversion to that part of their duty which falls under the "patching and darning" denomination. They are of opinion that "a rent may be the accident of a day, a darn premeditated poverty.' But if they only knew how pretty a well-executed piece of repair looks, when you see in its warp and woof the bright threads of economy and independence, and womanly thrift, crossing and recrossing one another, they would lay aside embroideries and crochet work, and take up, instead, the mending basket. We rode down town the other day, when the only other occupants of the stage were a young gentleman and a lovely girl of, we should think, about eighteen. She was the prettiest, freshest-looking girl one would want to see-there were no tell-tale traces of midnight parties and headachy mornings in those peach blossom cheeks, and clear, bright eyes; and all the numberless little items of her dress were as fresh and trim as herself-from the pink bonnet-strings down to the neatly-fitting gloves, and delicate gaiter-boots. If we had been an old bachelor, or a young one either, we would certainly have fallen in love with that girl, particularly after we had discovered that she was as industrious as pretty. And how do you suppose we found it out? The handkerchief that lay in her lap told us so. The neat little darn, elaborately executed, in its corner, with the small white stitches and skilful handiwork, had a tongue quite audible to our ears. Time and patience and wise economy had been there. The gentleman sitting opposite saw the little token also; we noticed his eye turning from the handkerchief to the blooming face, and back to the handkerchief again, and we knew perfectly well whatche was thinking of-the good wife that young lady would make, and how neat her husband's cravats and stockings would be. Poor fellow, the edges of his shirtbosom were a little frayed, and one or two buttons were missing, whose detection the most skilful ar-I recollect that, when a lad, I was crossing the rangements of his cravat-ends could not conceal. Power of Little Words .- "Come on Sunday," said an elderly gentleman to a little boy three and a half years old; "Come on Sunday, for I am at home all day, and want to see you." "Why, do you stay at home all day on Sunday?"

"Yes," said the old man; "don't you?" "No; I go to church twice, and so does papa. It s wicked not to go to church if you are well." It was only a little word, only a little voice that uttered it; but it went home to that man so old in sin, and it told him how wrong he was, and what a great sinner he was. Sunday came, and how asmished his wife and children were to hear him say ne was going to church ! Ever afterward he was seen

A SAFE CHURCH, -The N. Y. Tribune, apropos of the Episcopal session in that city says: "The persistent energy with which a great many members of this convention wish to do nothing and study to say nothing, justifies the shrewdness of the old judge in Northern New York, whose stolid conservatism was a miracle of perfection. Being a man of influence, wealth, and family, he found it necessary to join a church. He pondered for a long time, and finally selected the Protestant Episcopal Institution. Upon being questioned for his choice, he replied, triimphantly: "You see I was perfectly safe in joining the Episcopal church, for it never meddles with either temperance, morals, politics or religion."

Chairman of the London Board .- SAMUEL BAKER, Esq. Chairman in Liverpool .- CHARLES TURNER, Esq. The Royal Insurance Company is one of the largest

Offices in the kingdom At the Annual Meeting held in August 1859, the following highly satisfactory results were shown :-FIRE DEPARTMENT. The most gratifying proof of the expansion of the business is exhibited in the one following fact—that the increase alone of the last three years exceeds the entire business of some of the existing and of many of the recently defunct fire insurance companies of this kingdom. The Premiums for the year 1855 being .... £180,060 While the Premiums for the year 1558 are .... 196,148 Showing an actual increase of ...... 66,088 r upwards of 50 per cent. in three years. The recent returns of duty made by Government for this latter year (1858) again show the "Royal" as more than maintaining the ratio of its increase as stated in former years. Only one among the London insurance offices exhibits an pany, while all the others respectively fall far short of the noiety of its advance. LIFE DEPARTMENT. The amount of new Life Premiums received this year is ov far the largest received in any similar period since the commencement of the business, and must far exceed the average of amount received by the most successful offices in the kingdom. The number of policies issued in the year was 832, the sum assured £387,752 6s. 8d., and the premium £12,354 3s. 4d. These figures show a very rapid extension of business during the last ten years. Thus:—

Years. No. of Policies. Sums Assured. New Premiums £48,764 17 0 £1,380 9 1 95,650 9 11 2,627 4 5,828 5 ±0 4,694 16 0 .. 422 181,504 10 6 408 703 161,848 13 4 - 297,560 16 8 887,752 6 8 12,854 8 4 The remarkable increase in the business of the last four

SARSAPARILLA.

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases. From Emery Edes, a well known merchant of Oxford, Main "I have sold large quantities of your Sarsaparilla, but never yet one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Utcers Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robert Stratton, Bristol, England. "I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your Sarsaparilla. My daughter, aged ten, had an af-flicting humor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure, until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months.'

From Mrs. Jane E. Rice, a well known and much esteemed lady, of Dennisville, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your Sarsaparilla, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely known Gage, Murray & Co., manufacturers of enamelled papers in Nashua, N. H. I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse, until it disfigured my features, and became an intolerable affliction. 1 tried almost every thing a man could, of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPA-RILLA. It im ediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy perfect health, and, without a doubt, owe it to your SARSAPARILLA. Erysipelas-General Debility-Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robert Sawin, Houston-st., New York. "DR. AYER I seldom fail to remove Eruptions and Scrofulous Sores by the persevering use of Your Sarsaparilla, and I have just now cured an attack of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the Sarsa-PARILLA you have supplied to the profession as well as to

From J. E. Johnston, Esq., Wakeman, Ohio.
"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The ulcers were so bad that the cords be came visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be mputated. I began taking your Sarsaparilla. Took two bottles, and some of your Pills. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Beir in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all." From Hon. Henry Monro, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament. "I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the St. Antnony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes. From Harvey Sickler, Esq., the able editor of the Tunkhan nock Democrat, Pennsylva "Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nifrate of silver and other remeand Spoon, in cases, Thimbles, Children's Mugs and Fruit dies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we Knives. Best Silver Plater Goods—Tea and Coffee Serguarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face.

Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we Knives, C eese Scoops, Knives and Forks, in cases; Pickle | had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as wood and Papie Machie, Work Boxes, Writing Desks, any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die.' Syphilis and Mercurial Disease. From Dr. Hiram Sloat, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your Sarsaparilla a more effectual remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disdebted to you for some of the best medicines we have." From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Law-rence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature "DR. AYER-My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPA-RILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary type, and and effectual in some cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required." Mr. Charles S. Van Liew, of New Brunswick, N. J., had dreadful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravate for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPA-RILLA relieved him. Few cases can be found more inveterate and distressing than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him Leucorrhea, Whites, Female Weakness. are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Ulceration and are very often cured by the alterative effect of this Sarsaparilla. Some cases require, however, in aid of the Sarsaparilla, the skilful application of local remedies. From the well known and widely celebrated Dr. Jacob Mor "I have found your Sassapakilla an excellent alterative from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not, when its effect is properly aided by lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes: "My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrheea of long standing, by two bottles of Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, in diseases of females. Many cases of Irregularity, Leucorrhea, Internal Ulceration, and local debility, arising

Heart Disease, Neuralgia, when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this Ext. SARSAPARILLA. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS ossess so many advantages over the other purgatives inthe market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public heir quality is maintained equal to the best it ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they Prepared by J.
