THE MEETING-PLACE.

BY DR. H. BONAR.

"The ransomed of the Lord shall return and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads."---Isaiah zriv. 10

Where the faded flowers shall freshen-Freshen nevermore to fade ; Where the shaded sky shall brighten-Brighten nevermore to shade ; Where the sun-blaze never scorches : Where the star-beams cease to chill ; Where no tempest stirs the echoes Of the wood, or wave, or hill; Where the morn shall wake in gladness, And the noon the joy prolong ; Where the daylight dies in fragrance, Mid the burst of boly song-Brother, we shall meet and rest, Mid the holy and the blest.

Where no shadow shall bewilder : Where life's vain parade is o'er ; Where the sleep of sin is broken, And the dreamer dreams no more ; Where the bond is never severed-Partings, claspings, sob, and moan, Midnight waking, twilight weeping, Heavy noon-tide-all are done; Where the child has found its mother, Where the mother finds the child ; Where dear families are gathered, That were scattered on the wild-Brother, we shall meet and rest, Mid the holy and the blest.

Where the hidden wound is healed : Where the blighted life re-blooms; Where the smitten heart the freshness Of its buoyant youth resumes; Where the love that here we lavish On the withering leaves of time, Shall have fadeless flowers to fix on, In an ever spring-bright clime; Where we find the joy of loving As we never loved before-

Loving on, unchilled, unhindered-Loving once and evermore-Brother, we shall meet and rest, Mid the holy and the blest.

Where a blasted world shall brighten Underneath a bluer sphere, And a softer, gentler sunshine Shed its healing splendor here; Where earth's barren vale shall blossom, Putting on her robe of green,

At a Temperance Convention held in B oston, Dr june 3-wi Dio Lewis, the celebrated teacher of gymnastics, made the following address :--Mr. Chairman, I speak to the resolution before the house. Twenty years ago I lived in a small village in the State of New York, called Clarksville. We had in this place five rum-holes. People talk of " places where intoxicating drinks are vended," and of "saloons." These were neither-they were rumholes. It is in a small village, and there were at that time two factories there. The women who worked in those factories, and whose husbands spent their money in these run holes, resolved that they would may 20-w clean them out; and as good Christian women are apt to do when they are in earnest, they met in prayer-meeting, and after much. prayer and consultation, they resolved that they would make a banner, on one side of which they would put emblematic figures and on the other side certain sentences, and having done that they would go in procession and ask the rumsellers to stop.

In two weeks they were ready, and after a preparatory meeting they started out. They went to the first man's place-Mr. Weed's-and he told them to clear out. The second man-Mr. Wheaton-said, "As eighty-four women, my neighbors, come and ask me to stop selling rum, of course I will ; that is, if the rest will stop.

" Put your name down and say when you will do it. We are greatly in earnest, for we have joined hands and pledged ourselves to heaven that we will never stop our efforts until every rumseller in the village gives up the business.

So they went round, and in three or four days they all agreed to stop except this Mr. Weed. Then Wrought Nails, assorted sizes; 55 bales and bundles Iron they went to him again. Seeing his place full, and and Galvanized Wire; 100 Plough-shear MOULDS; 19 thinking that perhaps it might not be a very popular Smiths' Axvita, superior brand; 15 do Bellows, assorted movement to kick eighty-four women out of his store. he resolved to do the next good thing. So he sat himself down in a big chair, and said.

"Ladies, I am glad to see you. I am always glad to see my neighbors, especially the ladies."

They talked, they prayed, they sang, they read a chapter from the Bible, and one read a passage from

CHRISTIAN EFFORTS FOR BOYS.

They are in all our streets, and are always the same in general characteristics. They are more accessible than most of us suppose. But to reach them effectually takes time, patience, and genuine, goodnatured resolution. Half trying is of no use. Every success will cost half its labor to get at the boy-a | long is this going to last?" quarter more to prove your honesty and remove precounsel.

The truest philanthropists are often your earnest know you must stop. boy-hunters. Such men and women are frequently the most efficient Christians. They go out literally into the highways and hedges and compel them to come in to the gospel feast. Their power of compulsion lies in gentle and wise words, which spring right out of tender, earnest and hold Christian hearts. If there is a sign of the coming of Christ upon earth, it is certainly seen in the mission schools, and ragged wants respect, esteem, love. He has strong, gener- sed to rum influences. ous, restless impulses. He is reaching out after sympathy in his own aspirations. Yes, aspirations. Every living boy is ambitions. He pants for distinc tion. He is dead if his ambition has been crowded out. Such a boy is a victim either to some infamous appetite, or to wasting oppression from a taskmaster.

Now meet this noble desire with its appropriate aliment. As Abbot so appositely tells us, "load him." Let him prove his mettle and his endurance. Let him feel that he is not forgotten, that his onward, upward, struggles are observed, admired and commended. Add counsels of guidance, words of encouragement. Feel the value of the prize, an humble Christian, perhaps a future governor, president, or general.

It is a sad truth that numbers of the sons of intelligent piety, often of the highly educated and honored, live in merited obscurity. Too many such are dwarfed by their hot-house training. Others never prize privileges which come so cheaply to them. Yet others seem to feel it enough to be called by their father's name, as if that was position and influence enough. But sad though it is, it is true that our future depends upon "rescued boys" in a great degree. Who of us is enrolled and equipped, and at work here ?- Boston Recorder.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The most gratifying proof of the expansion of the business is exhibited in the one following fact-that the increase alone of the last three years exceeds the entire business of some of the existing and of many of the recently defunct fire insurance companies of this kingdom. The Premiums for the year 1855 being £180,060

While the Fremiums for the year 1558 are 196,148 Showing an actual increase of. 66,088 or upwards of 50 per cent. in three years. The recent returns of duty made by Government for this latter year (1858) again show the "Royal" as more than maintaining the ratio of its increase as stated in former years. Only one among the London insurance offices exhibits an advance to the extent of one-half the increase of the Company, while all the others respectively fall far short of the monety of its advance.

the amount of new Life Premiums received this year is by far the largest received in any similar period since the commencement of the business, and must far exceed the average of amount received by the most successful offices in the kingdom. The number of policies issued in the year was 382, the sum assured £387,752 6s. Sd., and the premium £12,854 0s. 4d. These figures show a very rapid extension of business during the last ten years.
