Yours very truly,

The official report of this event is as follows: - and well treated. DEPARTMENT OF THE SOUTH, 1

Headquarters in the Field, Sept. 7, 1863. Maj.-Gen. H. W. Halleck, Commander-in-Chief: Wagner and Battery Gregg are ours. Last night Confederate despatches:our sappers crowned the crest of the counterscarp of Charleston, Sept. 10.—There was no firing last at 9 o'clock this morning, that being the hour of low morning. tide. About ten o'clock last night the enemy com menced evacuating the island, and all but 75 of them made their escape from Cummings Point in small boats. Captured despatches show that Fort Wagner was commanded by Capt. Keitt, of South Carolina, and garrisoned by 1,400 effective men; and Battery Gregg between 100 and 200. Fort Wagner is a work of the most formidable kind, its bomb-proof shelter, capable of holding 1,300 men, remaining intact after the most terrible bombardment to which any work was ever subjected.
