No cross, no crown! No "armor" on to meet the conflict here, No "palms of victory" to greet us there ; No mourning here, no songs of joy to share Around the throne.

No cross, no crown! For every sorrow that our hearts now bear, For every thorn that wounds, for every care, There is a bliss laid up-a wondrous share In that bright home.

No cross, no crown! The heart that bears the heaviest weight of woe, Hereafter will the brightest pleasure know, Where rest and joy and peace eternal flow, Through Christ the Son.

No cross, no crown! And he who bore the darkest, heaviest cross, Without one stain of sin or earthly dross, Metes out with gentleness each gain or loss, To give his own.

No cross, no crown! The way is rough, but we are not alone; For He who once the same dark path has gone, Goes now with us; and he will not disown The weakest one. - Anon.

"NOT A MINUTE TO SPARE." The clock had just struck nine. The family are rising from the breakfast table. A ring at the doorbell? The servant enters. "Sir, a young man, Mr. A.'s clerk, has called and hopes you will not be offended, but would feel particularly obliged if you would settle his account. He called twice last week. He would not trouble you if it were not a case of necessity."

" Necessity, or no necessity, I have not one minute to spare," replied the gentleman with a shrug of his shoulders, whilst giving the last pull to his greatcoat as he was putting it on. "I am going by the next train, so bid him call again."

This gentleman was not upon the whole an unfeel ing man; but, carried on by the spirit of the timesrailway speed, he too often did not allow himself time to reflect, or to put himself in the place of his fellowman. Had he in this instance troubled himself to think, he would have seen that he had just a few minutes to spare, and still would have been in time was too plain to be mistaken. KEEPING UP APPEARANCES.

Very much misery to persons and families is borrowed unnecessarily, because of the determination of people to "keep up appearances" they have no right to assume.

One of the evil tendencies of this age is for men to be more anxious to seem than to be, to have the fair show rather than the solid substrata of worth. Life's luxuries are well enough for all who can afford them. No reasonable man would object to the wealthy keepwore it not as respectably clothed as the one attired ing good establishments, having servants and carriages, and all the appendages of rank and station; it is right, very right, that this should be so; but it is KEEP THE SIRTH DAY. - A western exchange makes very absurd of people who cannot afford it aping all the following excellent suggestions, which must meet this; very absurd of men who might live in great the approbation of all youthful readers. IMAGINING TROUBLE.

We have all had the happiness of being miserable in consequence of allowing ourselves to imagine things that never happened, and were never likely to happen. As though the ills of life do not crowd on us thickly enough, as though this work-a-day world does not come ever laden with care and duty for us -how many times ha e we imagined ourselves the inheritors of sorrows that we never had, and made ourselves weep about dreamed-of disasters that never come to pass. Well-do-to people destroying their happiness by imagining that they shall have to give up the comfort of their homes, and the ease and affluence of life, to spend their days and nights in the poorhouse. Ay, many such there have been, who had no ground for such fear, who died in their nest, but who for years borrowed misery.

This subject is somewhat amusingly illustrated by one of the best of living essayists, who tells us, "There were two very old maids, sisters, who lived together. A running stream passed under their parlor window. A friend came to visit them one day, and found them in agonies of grief. "What is the matter my dear ladies?" he exclaimed. They bridled up, smiled amid their tears, which still flowed plentifully, and said they were two old fools, but declined to tell the cause of their misery. Their friend, who Tea Sets, &c., Gilt Band and Sprig, new patterns; was their doctor, if I recollect rightly, insisted upon knowing what was the matter, and at last one of them confessed. "'Suppose,' Bridget said to me, 'we had both been married; you know, my dear, it might have been, And suppose I had had a little boy, and you a little girl; and suppose that we had both been dandling them at this very window.' 'And suppose,' said I, 'some horrid boy coming by had made a great noise; you know how nervous we are, sister, at noises. And suppose that we had both let the children tumble into the water.' 'And suppose,' said she, 'they had both been drowned.' Then we began | Gents. silk Glazed Cloth and Eancy Caps; Boys do do do. to cry, for it would have been so dreadful you know."

Here the two old ladies commenced crying again, and the doctor had some difficulty in comforting them. Well, we smile, and say that Bridget and her sister were very foolish people; but have we not ourselves often done a similar thing? Do we not grieve over evils purely imaginary, and go on supposing, and for the train, but even had it been otherwise, his duty those two aged spinisters whose imagination outran

It will be found invaluable for the following domestic surposes, viz :- It washes all fine things, such as Muslin, Lace, Crotchet Work, Baby Linen, &c,; cleaning Sponges, Combs, and Brushes; removing stains from the hands, and grease from Carpets, Cloth, Flannel, &c. It makes Hard with the productions of the worm? (Applause.) -- Water Soft, and may be used with good effect in Baths, as it immediately removes all condensed perspiration from the skin. A small quantity should also be used in the foot pan. It forms a cooling and cleansing wash for the head, by dissolving a teaspnonful of the Crystal in a quarter of a pint of water; and for cleansing the Mouth, Teeth, and Gums, it is quite a luxury, by adding a teaspoonful to a tumbler of water. It renders linen beautifully white, and

The Science of Health. EVERY MAN HIS OWN PHYSICIAN.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT:

DISORDERS OF THE STOMACH, LIVER, AND BOWELS. The Stomach is the great centre which influences the health or disease of the system-abused or debilitated by excess-indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headaches, mental depression, nervous complaints and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, &c. The Bowels sympathise by Costiveness, Diarrhoea and Dyseetery. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach, and the liver, lungs, bowels and kidneys participate in their recuperative and regenerative operat ERYSIPELAS AND SALT RHEUM

Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent; to these the Ointment is especially antagonistic-its modus operandi is first to eradicate the vermin and then complete the cure. BAD LEGS, OLD SORES, AND ULCERS. Cases of many years standing, that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a tew applications of this powerful ERUPTIONS ON THE SKIN. Arising from a bad state of the blood or chronic diseases. are eradicated, and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative action of this Ointment. It surses many of the cosmetics and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashes and other disfigurements of the PILES AND FISTULA. Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emolient; warm fomentations should precede its appli cation. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases: Burns, Chapped Hands, Sore Throat Salt Rheum, Sores of all kinds. Sprains, Stiff Joints, Scalds, Skin Diseases, Swelled Glands, Ulcers, Wounds of all kinds.

CAUTION !- None are genuine unless the words loway, New York and London," are discernible as a Water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the de tection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious. * Sold at the Manufactories of Professor Holloway, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine throughout the United States and the civilized world, in pots and boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents

There is a considerable saving by taking the larger N. B.-Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each pot and box. If the reader of this Advertisement cannot get a box of Pills or Ointment from the Drug Store in his place, le him write to me, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my me dicines on hand, because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make. Dealers in my well known medicines can have Show Cards
