THE TENTH COMMANDMENT. I must not nurse within my soul One spark of sin's unballowed fire; Or yield my heart to the control Of aught that speaks a wrong desire,

If others, in the flush of health, Can richly dress and brightly shine; I must not envy them their wealth, Or wish that aught of theirs were mine.

If God should call me to be poor, Still I'll be thankful for my lot; For Jesus trod this path before, And well I know he murmured not.

I must not turn with envious eyes On aught that others may possess; Or wish, whatever God denies, To make their sum of blessings less.

Is there, then, nought beneath, above, That I may covet to possess? Yes, there's the Saviour's boundless love, With which he waits my soul to bless.

To me this treasure, Lord, impart, Thy pard'ning grace, oh, let me prove; Write thou thy laws upon my heart, And make me covet all thy love.

CHRIST VISITING THE CHILDREN.

During the war in Germany, which succeeded the in hope of eternal life through Jesus Christ. French Revolution, great numbers of children were made orphans. In the village of Weimar were sixty children who mourned the loss of both parents, war having slain their fathers, and sorrow, want and discase their mothers. John Falk was the first to find an as flum for these children, many of whom had be- wrong and often very cruel, for they mostly indulge come vagrants, and some criminals. THE DRUNKARD CAN BE SAVED.

BY REV. JOEL FISKE.

E., by the sudden death of Mrs. N., a lovely young man I had made a laughing stock of for my companwoman of decided Christian character, Mr. L. W., a ions! man of intemperate habits, and a great advocate of I tell you, boys and girls, I would give a great deal universal salvation, was engaged to dig her grave. to have the memory of that event taken away. If While at work he reasoned thus: 'A christian is ever you are tempted as I was, remember that while going to be laid in this grave. All feel satisfied that no good can come of sport, whereby the feelings of she has gone to heaven; but if I should die and be others are wounded, you may be laying up for yourlaid in my grave in a few days, would my neighbors selves painful recollections that will not leave you for Queen City do.; 346 do. He felt himself to abiding on him, and begged the minister to cry to sees you, a moment which flies from you, an eternity God in his behalf.

'I will sir, on one condition." What is that, sir ?'

'It is that you pledge yourself first, never again to touch the intoxicating cup.'

'I can't make such a pledge.'

'Then I have no faith in praying for you.' 'Do pray for me, for I am going to hell in my sins.' 'Well sir, hell must be your portion forever, I greatly fear, unless you speedily take the pledge of total abstinence from all intoxicating liquors.'

One whole hour was spent in kind and faithful conversation. The pastor reasoned the case with that poor sinner, and convinced him that his condition was entirely hopeless so long as he continued the use of strong drink.

When convinced, he rose to his feet and said, 11 pledge myself never more to drink intoxicating liquors as a beverage.' Then both fell upon their knees and wept and prayed together.

That was the turning point in the life of that man. From that very night his heart was fixed, and having obtained evidence of a renewing of soul, he united himself with the Church of Christ, and was henceforth a decided Christian, and a thorough going temperance man. It was found that no ordinary talents, and a good common education had, for about twenty years, been buried beneath the rubbish of terror and dissipation. He was a good mechanic, and in a few years his hired hovel was exchanged for a comfortable new house of his own; his family were raised to respectability and happiness. And the peace and happiness of his own soul; his good influence and usefulness in church and society; the education, prosperity and respectability of his family; and his hope of immortal blessedness beyond the grave-all seemed to turn upon a single point-his taking the Pledge, and keeping it.

After spending ten or twelve years as a prominent member of the church, as a Sabbath school teacher, and as a magistrate, he was called to his rest, dying

FIRE DEPARTMENT. The most gratifying proof of the expansion of the business is exhibited in the one following fact—that the increase alone of the last three years exceeds the entire business of some of the existing and of many of the recently defunct hre insurance companies of this kingdom. The Premiums for the year 1855 being......£130,060 While the Premiums for the year 1558 are 196,148 Showing an actual increase of 66,088 or upwards of 50 per cent, in three years. The recent returns of duty made by Government for this latter year (1858) again show the "Royal" as more than maintaining the ratio of its increase as stated in former years. Only one among the London insurance offices exhibits an advance to the extent of one-half the increase of the Company, while all the others respectively full far short of the moiety of its advance. LIFE DEPARTMENT. The amount of new Life Premiums received this year is y far the largest received in any similar period since the average of amount received by the most successful offices in the kingdom. The number of policies issued in the year was 832, the sum assured £887,752 6s. 8d., and the premium £12,354 8s. 4d. These figures show a very rapid extension f business during the last ten years. ZYLOBALSAMUM.

The great unequalled Preparations for Restoring, Invigorating, Beautilying, and Dressing Rendering it soft, sifky, and glossy, and disposing it to remain in any desired position; quickly cleansing the scalp, arresting the fall, and imparting a healthy and natural color to the Hair.

It NEVER FAILS to restore GRAY HAIR to 12'S ORIGINAL YOUTHFUL COLOR. IT IS NOT A DYE. But acts directly upon the roots of the Hair, giving them the natural nourishment required, producing the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth Rev. Mr THACHER, of New York, in a letter, says: "My age is sixty. One year ago my hair was very gray, and falling. I used Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer according to directions, and now my hair is restored to fts natural color, and has ceased to fall. "The Zylobalimmum I have found the best and most agreeable hair-dressing I have ever used."

FOR LADIES AND CHILDREN Whose Hair requires frequent dressing, the Zylobalsamum has no equal. No lady's toilet is complete without it. Sold by Druggists throughout the World. PRINCIPAL SALES OFFICE.
