MILK CONDENSING .- Dr. Prime of the N. Y. Observer gives the following account of a Milk condensing that if Southern ports are thrown open by armistice actory, which he recently visited. The information and flood of cotton, seriously aggravates exciting will doubtless interest many of our readers :--

Borden's milk condensing factory is here at Wassaic, and I spent an hour or two in looking through it. Ats object is to expel from milk its watery parts, reduce it to one quarter of its original bulk, and, in the form of thick paste, to preserve it in tin cans, and send it of thick paste, to preserve it in the cans, and send it tation is only one per cent. above lowest point during to surrender to Federal commander at Baton Rouge if daily; it is poured into an immense boiler, subjected panic of 1857. to intense heat, the superfluous parts driven off, and the condensation effected in a few hours. Everything is conducted with such description. Everything is conducted with such scrupulous regard to cleanliness, that the result is irreproachable. Even the large cans in which the irreproachable. To make the little cans, holding a pound each, a tin shop is at work constantly, and the workers are women exclusively. They are chiefly American girls from eighteen to twenty years old, and as the machinery is driven by water and steam power, they have no heavy work on hand, and the business is admirably fitted for them. They make more than a dollar a day easily, and the shop makes about 8,000 cans daily. A carpenter's shop makes the packing boxes, and so the entire work, from receiving the milk to sending it off, is done in the factory, and this stands on the edge of the railroad at the depot, so that all labor of trans- ments. porting is saved. My visit to this establishment was very interesting and impressive, for I do not recollect ever seeing a tactory where so much order, cleanliness and comfort were combined in a production so purely beneficial as this. It is the perfection of the art of condensing. Mr. Borden can condense 12,000 quarts of milk daily at this factory, and 20,000 in another at Brewster's station on the Harlem Railroad below, and there are four or five others in operation; one at Winsted, Conn.; one at York, Pa.; one at Livermore Falls, Me. ; and two in Massachusetts. They will doubtless become more and more numerous as their great advantages and profits become known.

BRITISH AND FOREICN.

TRANSALANTIC AFFAIRS. - The splendid harvest tainty of a bountiful crop, has doubtless had something to do with the mitigation in the stringency of the money market. Contrary to the forebodings of States will be allowed in future to enter British ports many, and the prophesyings of not a few, the rate of for the purpose of being dismantled or sold. interest at the Bank of England has not risen above eight per cent. A few weeks ago the Times warned the public that the rate of interest might rise to fifteen per cent., and that nothing but prudence and geacy in money would have gone on increasing, for Northern States, otherwise called Copperheads, a for the purchase of grain. But the danger of this is the Southern secessionists. That 'peace' is a misnopast; the harvest is certain to prove a good average, mer to their title, is evident from the fact, that they their food at a low rate, they will have money to began the war; or, for any of the atrocities it has spare for little luxuries and comforts.
