Think of me love-it is night on the billow. Loud roars the angry winds, gloomy and drear: No rest shall I have all this right on my pillow, For my frail bark is tossing, no baven is near!

Think of me love! I am weary with watching. Fain would my head on thy bosom repose, Glad would I open the blest volume with thee, And pray by thy side at the evening's close,

Pray for me love-mighty dangers surround me; Each angry billow bears death on its wake,-Strong in faith, wrestle that God will deliver, And rescue from danger, for thy Saviour's sake! Kept by God's care, while the storm king was reigning

Nearer, still nearer to land we are sailing, Soon we'll cast anchor at home in the lee. Let me in love-'Tis no stranger hand rapping Loud at thy window pane, - open the door;

Hard I have toiled, love, to get home to thee;

I'll leave thee to wander o'er ocean no more.

'I hope it will be a pretty one, with pictures, like what she gave us at Christmas.'

The children then talked over various books which they had seen or heard of, and wished to possess, They were interrupted by a loud knock at the door,

'Mamma, will that be the postman?' 'Yes; this is the English post-hour. I saw he had a parcel in his hand."

"Oh, how delightful!" Charles rushed down stairs, and presently returned, holding a parcel above his "A book, a book, Louisa! addressed to Miss Ful-

"Only a Bible, Louisa!' said her mother, in a low, Louisa blushed deeply. 'Mamma, I did not think what I was saying. But you know I have one already.' Charles commented on the beauty of the binding and the kind words on the title page. 'See, here are maps, Louisa-better than pictures.'

He was just then called away to his lessons. Louisa took the Bible, and sat down with it on a stool at the window. She did not speak; and her mother, who was writing, went on in silence. This lasted for nearly an hour, till the daylight had almost faded away. At last the little girl came softly up to her mother, and laid her head on her knee.

'Mamma, I am very, very sorry.' * For what, my child?"

Because I said that about the Bible, and because I felt in my heart that I would have liked another book better.'

*But you love the word of God, Louisa? 'Yes, mamma; and I know that I will love this one, too, very much. Will God forgive me?"

'If you were obliged to part with every book but one, which would you choose to keep?" 'I would keep my Bible, mamma; indeed, indeed

'I believe you, my dear. I do believe that my little girl loves Jesus, and loves his holy word.' . But it was very sinful, mamma, to feel as I did.

Will God forgive me ?' *Surely he will, if you ask him for Jesus' sake. We will do so now together.'

They knelt down, and the mother prayed that this sin, and every other, might be pardoned, and that both might be taught more and more to know the. preciousness of the Scriptures, and to have them as a lamp to their feet and a light to their path; to find the Casars, once the mistress of the world. RAVAGES OF TIME.

BY A. LLOYD. Contemplate the ravages of time. How vast the e? How extended the field! How can mortals grasp the amplitude of duration! What is time? A moment-an hour-an age!

The desert winds bring no reply.

Approach the land of fable and mythology. Upon the banks of its deified river you behold the rains of cities, once the pride and glory of the world. View her massy temples-her mighty pyramids-her towering obelisks-her dark labyrinths. On every hand you see the marks of gigantic minds, and the fabors of extraordinary mechanism. Enter Thebes, famous in fable for her hundred gates, her millions of troops and her ten thousand chariots. Examine her majestic temple. Filled with wonder you exclaim: 'Was this mighty structure erected merely for the worship of a bird? For fable scarce ventures to turn aside the curtain which reveals this. Contrasting these remnants of antiquity with the meagre race that cling around their ruins, how sensibly do we perceive the ravages of time ! The glory of Tyre has departed, leaving scarce a

The Royal Insurance Company is one of the largest thes in the kingdom. At the Annual Meeting held in August 1859, the following leave no cause of complaint. highly satisfactory results were show FIRE DEPARTMENT. The most gratifying proof of the expansion of the business is exhibited in the one following fact-that the increase alone of the last three years exceeds the entire business of some of the existing and of many of the recently defunct fire insurance companies of this kingdom. The Premiums for the year 1855 being.....£130,080 While the Premiums for the year 1558 are.... 196,148. Showing an actual increase of ... upwards of 50 per cent, in three years. The recent returns of duty made by Government for this atter year (1858) again show the "Royal" as more than intaining the ratio of its increase as stated in former years. Only one among the London insurance offices exhibits as advance to the extent of one-half the increase of the Company, while all the others respectively fall far short of the LIFE DEPARTMENT. The amount of new Life Premiums received this year is far the largest received in any similar period since the ement of the business, and must far exceed the average of amount received by the most successful offices in the kingdom. The number of policies issued in the year was 832, the sum assured £387,752 6s. 8d., and the premium

£12,854 Ss. 4d. These figures show a very rapid extension of business during the last ten years. Thus :-Years. No. of Policies. Sums Assured. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT!

BOWELS. The Stomach is the great centre which influences the realth or disease of the system-abused or debilitated by excess-indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, ! is the source of headaches, mental depression, nervous complaints and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver become affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side &c. The Bowels sympathise by Costiveness, Diarrhea and Dysectery. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach, and the liver, lungs, bowels and kidneys partic

ERYSIPELAS AND SALT RHEUM Are two of the most common and virulent disorders pre alent on this continent; to these the Ointment is especally antagonistic-its modus operandi is first to eradicate the vermin and then complete the cure. BAD LEGS, OLD SORES, AND ULCERS.

Cases of many years standing, that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a tew applications of this powerful ERUPTIONS ON THE SKIN. Arising from a bad state of the blood or chronic diseases, are eradicated, and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative action of this Ointment. It surpasses many of the cosmetics and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashes and other disfigurements of the PILES AND FISTULA. Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emolient; warm fomentations should precede its appli cation. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases: theumatism, Chapped Hands, Chilbiains, buit kheum, Sores of all kinds, Stiff Joints, Skin Diseases, Swelled Glands Lumbago, Sore Legs, Mercurial Eruptions, Sore Breasts, Wounds of all kinds. CAUTION !-- None are genuine unless the words loway, New York and London," are discernible as a Water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the de tection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.
