three winters, although it was one, which would, no doubt, have horrified a rigid disciplinarian. Her chief object was to give these poor heathen boys true religious and moral teaching, and this she did almost Attirely by conversation. Gathering them all round a bit fire, which, poor fellows, they seldom saw elsewhere, she encouraged them to talk to her freely, and to tell her all their own ideas and opinions, and then, in the simplest language, often interrupted by Cittron Peel, 30 sacks Arracan Rice. For sale low by JOSHUA S. TURNER, their eager questions, she told them the great truths of God they would never hear elsewhere. So completely did she win their confidence, that they did not hesitate to tell her of their past misdeeds, and even of their intention to do the same again ; and yet so anxious were they not to offend her, that she never once heard an oath from any one of them.

"Next time you wants to tame a bull, Miss," said a boy to her once, "I'll teach you the smartest dodge as ever was ; you gets a long whip, and you puts a ring through his nose," etc.; and he went off into an elaborate detail of the process.

"Well, but Bill," she said, when he had done, "do you think I am very likely to want to tame a bull?"

"Well, you might on occasions," he answered ; "but now I thinks on it, I believe you had best not try, for I am a'most sure as the bull would get the better on you."

The very frankness with which they spoke out their own crude ideas showed her how little they would have gained from a school conducted with the ordinary strictness and formality. A small boy, to whom some one had tried to teach the catechism, obstinately refused to believe in anything but the " Articles of the Christmas Feast," and being asked for a further explanation, said "A jolly plum-pudding was the best on 'em." Another, who professed to be strong in theology, was found to possess as his sole religious creed, the theory that any one who had riches, "five or ten pound like," he explained, must infallibly go to hell. As a practical refutation of this dogma, Miss ----- told them the history of Miss Burdett Coult's great wealth, and of the many good deeds and kind actions she had performed with it. "Now, you don't suppose," she added, "that a lady who made such a good use of her riches would go to hell simply because she had them ?" "Well, no," was the reluctant answer; " not if she warn't given to losses paid promptly on reasonable proof of loss-w

Chairman of the London Board.—SAMUEL BAKER, Esq. Chairman in Liverpool.—CHARLES TURNER, Esq. The Royal Insurance Company is one of the largest

flices in the kingdon At the Annual Meeting held in August 1859, the following highly satisfactory results were shown :---FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The most gratifying proof of the expansion of the busi-ness is exhibited in the one following fact—that the increase alone of the last three years exceeds the entire business of some of the existing and of many of the recently defunct fire insurance companies of this kingdom. The Premiums for the year 1855 being £180,060 While the Premiums for the year 1558 are 196,148 Showing an actual increase of 66,088 or upwards of 50 per cent. in three years. The recent returns of duty made by Government for this tter year (1858) again show the "Royal" as more than maintaining the ratio of its increase as stated in former years. Only one among the London insurance offices exhibits an advance to the extent of one-half the increase of the Company, while all the others respectively fall far short of the moiety of its advance.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

The amount of new Life Premiums received this year is og far the largest received in any similar period since the mencement of the business, and must far exceed the average of amount received by the most successful offices in the kingdom. The number of policies issued in the year was 832, the sum assured £387,752 6s. 8d., and the premiu £12,354 3s. 4d. These figures show a very rapid extension of business during the last ten years. Thus: Years. No. of Policies. Sums Assured. It will be found invaluable for the following domestic purposes, viz.:-It washes all fine things, such as Muslin, Lace, Crotchet Work, Baby Linen, &c.; cleaning Sponges, Combs, and Brushes; removing stains from the hands, and grease from Carpets, Cloth, Flannel, &c. It makes Hard Water Soft, and may be used with good effect in Baths, as it immediately removes all condensed perspiration from the skin. A small quantity should also be used in the foot pan. It forms a cooling and cleansing wash for the head. by dissolving a teaspnonful of the Crystal in a quarter of a pint of water; and for cleansing the Mouth, Teeth, and Gums, it is quite a luxury, by adding a teaspoonful to a tumbler of water. It renders linen beautifully white, and unlike other preparations, at the same time preserves the fabric. It contains nothing injurious to life. A child eating it by mistake, will not be injured. If you have not used this Cleansing Crystal, lose no time in obtaining it. Nothing has ever been introduced into this country which has effected such a wonderful change upon Washing Days. It saves your time-saves your clothes—saves your money; and it does not injure the most delicate hands. Pickstone's Cleansing Crystal makes washing a pleasure, reduces the cost of fuel, the wear and tear of labor, and improves every article washed. For Linens, and heavy washes, it cannot be surpassed ; for Laces, and tine fabrics, it is unequalled. It does not injure the color of Prints, but strengthens and improves them - by its use they retain their original brilliancy. Flannels become white and soft like new. White things are much improved, and keep their color, even if put by for months. Thousands of Families made happy! No misery on a Washing Day, with Pickstone's Cleansing Crystal. The noise was so tremendous that she could not attempt to make herself heard, but seizing hold of the first boy she could catch, she hurriedly exclaimed, "Ask them if they would like to hear the wonderful story of Jack Smith?" The boy soon compelled them to hear his message, and there was a universal shout of acquiescence ; in another moment their missiles were. flung aside, and they were all crowding round her with eager calls for Jack Smith, mingled with bopes that he was a robber. She told them she would not utter a word till they were perfectly quiet, and instantly they all squatted down on the ground at her feet, and she took her place in the midst of them. Now, the proposal to tell them about Jack Smith had been a sudden idea, uttered on the spur of the moment, and she knew no such story, but she saw that delay would be fatal; if she did not win their attention in the next five seconds the uproar would be worse than ever. She therefore plunged headlong into a history, invented as she spoke, and which she soon found must be of the most sensational description; but as her object was to accustom them to obey her, she noted every word spoken, or sly blow dealt to a comrade, and at once refused to proceed till they chase after it on the wings of the wind? were perfectly orderly.
