Southern Devastations .- The Secretary of the American Tract Society, who is travelling in the South, gives a most terrible picture of the miseries inflicted on the people by the Northern Armies. court, so far, are characterized by common sense Referring first to the military necessities for great and a desire to get at the truth, rather than by regar destruction especially in some places and under for technicalities. Thousands of soldiers have gathered by violence hundreds of dollars ing is a farther specimen: each, some of them thousands, by sheer robbery. When they come to a house where an old man may be found whom the most rigid conscription had not earth. I found them suffering with scurvy, dropsy taken, they assume that he has gold or silver hidden, diarrhoa, gangrene, pneumonia, and other diseases and demand it. If he gives up the treasure cheerfully he escapes personal violence. If he denies the possession of treasure and they believe him he escapes. If they do not believe him they resort to violent means to compel its surrender. With a rope they will hang him until he is nearly gone, then let him down and demand the money-and this is repeated until he or they give up. Again, they will compel a man to toe or scratch the hand, the next report to me wa "double quick " for one, two, or three miles, until he sinks from exhaustion, and then threaten him with death unless he reveals the hiding place of his riches. the stockade, like ants and bees; the dogs referred t Again, they prepare the torch, and threaten to burn were to hunt the prisoners who escaped; tifty po his house and all it contains, unless the money is forthcoming.

This robbery extends to other valuables in addition to money. Plate, silver spoons, silk dresses, elegant articles of the toilet, pistols, indeed whatever the soldier can take away and hopes to sell-these are gathered up and carried off to the extent sometimes of loading a waggon from one mansion. "What is done with these?" How many of them finally reach the North "by hook or by crook," I will not affirm; tate them. The weather is chilling. It is a matter some through the soldier's mail, some wrapped up in the baggage of furloughed officers, some passed through the hands of the regular official, having the permit of the government.

A second form of devastation practised by some of our soldiers, consisted in the wanton destruction of property which they could not use or carry away. Of this I have the evidence of sight in some cases, of undoubted testimony in others. READ WHAT MRS. WESTCOTT SAYS. FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND OTHERS SAY THE SAME. Mrs. Westcott, an experienced nurse of Westchesterread what she says:-

"Your Ready Relief and Regulating Pills do our family more good than all the physic and doctors we have had for years. If I have the headache, I take Radway's Relief and one of the Pills-in an hour I am all right; if pain in my bowels, Radway's Ready Relief gives me ease and comfort; if rheumatism, I use the Relief; if sore throat or hoarseness, I use the Relief; if neuralgic pains shoot about my body, I stop them with the Relief; if I catch cold, I take the Relief; if toothache, or earache, or faceache, I apply the Relief—in a few moments the most severe pains are lulled. If my children fall and bruise, or otherwise hurt themselves, the Relief removes all pain and discoloration of the skin; if they burn or scald themselves, the Relief takes out the fire, and relieves them from anguish. I could not sleep without a bottle of Radway's Ready Rehef within my reach. So with the Pills-the very moment my stomach or bowels are out of order, one of Radway's Pills is all that quire to restore my system to order and regularity.
