RELIGIOUS ASPECT OF THE NEW BRITISH MINISTRY -The Parliamentary correspondent of the Bulwark. says:-

Political action in part has been nearly suspended for a whole month, in cansequence of the recent change that has taken place in the composition of our Ministers. That change will, no doubt, give rise to increased agitation in the future; it has done so already, both in the metropolis and the provinces, but its natural effect was to prevent the legislature from sitting to transact the usual business of the country; and thus, at this advanced period of the year to throw over to another session much of the public business which calls loudly for attention. The more immediate question for discussion here, however, is, What is the difference in a Protestant point of view between the late Government and the present? How will the great subjects which are constantly in agitation between us and the Roman Catholics be affected by the retirement from power of readiness, and 10,000 canteens are being manufac-Lord Russell and the accossion to office of Lord Derby. | tured.

My impression is that in this respect, as in many others, there will not be much change. If we refer to the personal character of the men, it will be found of vessels. Loss about $2,000,000. that the Protestantism of Lord Russell is of a more correct and uncompromising type than that of the Earl valued at half a million dollars. of Derby, and the same thing may be said of many of his followers. Nay, it is worse than that. The last week, and nearly five hundred in Cincinatti. Romanising party in the Church of England are President Roberts has called Fenian Congress to nearly to a man the adderents of the Conservative meet at Troy, on Sept. 4th. party. Mr. Disraeli, the leader in the House of Commons, is too cautious a man to commit himself to theological extravagancies of any school; but it is well known that he is the personal friend of the Bishop of Oxford, and can at any time be got down to his diocese, in which, as is well known, the county of Buckingnam is situated, to support his views. Lord Stanley, the next most important Minister in Protest ntism and Popery. The new Minister for fectly safe in all cases. It gives universal satisfaction. the Colonies, the Earl of Carvarnon, is at least as high a Churchman as Mr. Cardwell, and is likely to use his great power and influence in colonial matters, in support of such men as Bishop Gray of Capetown.

Napoleon has paid the wife of Maximilian a visit. The abdication of Maximilian was considered as very probable in Paris at to distant day. The Christians in Candia had risen against the year.

UNITED STATES,

A New York correspondent in the Montreal Leader

The Fenians positively intend to re-attempt the conquest of Canada this summer. Their leaders are mad enough to believe that once across the borders they they can maintain themselves upon Canadian soil until recognized as belligerents. The impression is that before the snow falls there will be warm work.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. Washington, 17th .- President Johnson has issued proclamation declaraing Maximilian's blockade of Matamoras null and void as far as the United States are concerned

A peaceful political revolution took place in Matamoras on the 12th inst., resulting in the overthrow of the Government of Caravajal, who escaped to Texas. General Pedro Joss Juarez was the commander of the military force in the city.

A special despatch from Troy says an immense Fenian demoustration took place there last night .-Col. Roberts, President of the organization, and others, made addresses. The administration interpretation of the neutrality laws was severely criticised.
