THOUGHTS ON DEATH.

I'd like to die at the close of day
When all the world is still;
Just as the setting sun's last ray
Goes down behind the hill.

I'd like to die at evening hour,
When nature's hushed to rest;
When tired insects seek their bower,
And weary birds their nest.

I'd like at eventide to stand
Close to the Jordan's stream,
And cross to Canaan's happy land
By moonlight's silvery beam.

I'd like to die in sweetest peace
With all on earth below—
That not one thought may mar my bliss
In the heaven to which I go.

I'd like to know my work was done,
Ere the last hour draws nigh;
I'd like to have, when death shall come,
Nothing to do—but die,

I'd like no crowd around my bed—
No whispers in my ear;
But one loved hand to raise my head,
Or wipe the falling tear.

I'd like my friends aside to pray,
Silent—with hearts sincere—
That while in death's dark vale I stay
No evil I might fear.

I'd like to die in lively faith,
Trusting in Jesus' blood—
That blood which takes the sting from death
And reconciles to God.

I'd like to have my vision clear,
My hope serene and bright,
To see the promised land appear,
The haven full in sight.

Ah! yes, thus would I like to die;
But if it must not be—
If o'er my head the waves run high,
And darkness trouble me—

Dear Saviour! while the billows roll,
And angry tempest roar,
Do thou but meet my fainting soul—
I will not ask for more.

If peacefully I may not die,
Nor glimpse of glory see,
Oh! let me know that thou art by—
The rest I'll leave to thee.

STORIES AND ILLUSTRATIONS OF THE TEN COMMANDMENTS.

THE SECOND COMMANDMENT.

Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth: thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me; and shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.

Let us now try, dear children, and see what lessons of instruction we can learn from this long Commandment. I think I hear some little boy or girl saying, "There is nothing in this Commandment that hits me, any how. I don't worship idol gods made of wood or stone." But stop and let us look at it, before you plead innocence. You know the First Commandment forbids you to worship false gods, the sun, or moon, or stars, or any other creature, in the place of God. This Second Commandment forbids you to worship the true God in a false manner. He is a pure Spirit whom men cannot see; and hence we cannot make anything like him, and we must not attempt it.

Suppose some boy or girl should try to make a picture or image of you, and instead of being like you, it should be an ugly deformed object that you could not bear to look at, would you not be very much displeased? And is not this great and infinite God, that made the heavens and the earth, offended when any one tries to make an image of him out of gold or silver, wood or stone, or to paint any thing like him on paper or canvas? No person living has ever seen God, and any attempt to make anything like him can only produce an ugly caricature, that is an open insult to him.

But you may ask me, How shall I pray to or worship One whom I cannot see?

Suppose you were shut up in a room so dark that you could not see your hand; would that prevent you from loving your father and mother, and crying out for them? If it was in their power to help you, the darkness would not prevent them from doing it. And if you had their picture beside you, and could see it, would that relieve your wants, or enable you to cry out to any better advantage? Certainly not.

Why then should we attempt to make any likeness of God to enable us to worship him? God is a Spirit, all around us and everywhere; we never speak a word but God hears it, and we never do anything but God sees it; and every attempt to make anything like God is as vain as it would be to paint the likeness of the universe. So everything made out of gold, silver, brass, wood, or stone, and every painting made to represent God, and used to excite devotional feeling, is a violation of this Commandment, and a direct insult to God.

You have read in the Bible about the Israelites, in one of their battles with the Philistines, taking the ark of God out into the battle-field. You know this ark was holy, and the two tables of stone containing the Ten Commandments were put into it. The Israelites were defeated, and the Philistines took the ark and put it in a temple where they had a great image called Dagon. But when they went in the next morning, poor Dagon had fallen down before the ark, and his hands were broken off on the floor. Thus God showed his displeasure with them for placing the ark before an idol god.

It seems very strange, after all God has said in this Commandment, as well as in many other places in the Bible, that any body can be found so ignorant as to worship idols.

But let us examine and see if there are not a great many who in other ways break this Commandment.

All that use images and pictures to aid them in the worship of God break this Commandment; for God has said, "Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath." You see, the making of any thing of the kind, for purposes of worship, is sin; and we cannot bow down to it without in some way making God like it in our own minds. In making or worshipping such idols, we should be guilty of idolatry.

You will see, by reading the thirty-second chapter of Exodus, how God punished the Israelities for this very sin.

Even while Moses was up on the mount, receiving this law from God, the people made a golden calf, and worshipped it. And as Moses was coming down the mount, he heard them singing and shouting, "These be thy gods, O, Israel, that brought thee out of the land of Egypt;" and God was so angry with them that he commanded the Levives to slay them, and three thousand were slain in one day. Was it not enough to make God angry with them to see them worship him in the form of a golden calf? To represent Him who fills heaven and earth by the image of a poor dumb brute! what greater insult could they have offered him?

Another way in which some become idolaters is by imagining or having in their minds some likeness of God while they are praying to him. When I was a little boy saying my prayers, I used to do this; but this Commandment forbids even this. I do not mean that you are not to adore the incarnate Son of God as he appeared after his resurrection, and think of all He did and suffered as God-man to save your soul. He was God, and you may and must adore him when you see him with his pierced side and wounded hands, as Thomas did.

The Scriptures alone are to be your guide in the manner of worshipping God, and not the silly inventions of men. God is your Creator, and he alone has the right to direct you how to worship him. He has given you the Bible, containing rules to guide you in every duty you owe to him, as well as to men. How easy it is to worship God wherever you may be, knowing that if you pray in Christ's name to Him who seeth in secret, He will hear you and answer you openly.

An Irishman was once asked by a priest why he did not come to confession. The poor man said to the priest, "Does your reverence ever go to confession?" "Yes," said the priest, "I do." "And do you pay anything?" "Yes, I confess to the rector, and pay him." "And whom does the rector confess to?" "To the bishop." "And where does the bishop go to confess?" "To the vicar-general." "And whom does he confess to?" "Why, of course to the pope." "And whom does the pope confess to?" "Why, to Jesus Christ." "And does he charge anything?" "No." "Well, please your reverence, as I am very poor, I think I had better go to Jesus Christ at once." This is the only way for every sinner to do: go right to Christ, without images, pictures, or priests, for he is both able and willing to save.

But there is one thing said in this Commandment that troubles some children very much. The writer knew a little boy who had a very bad father; and when he was learning this Commandment at school, he said, "It is of no use for me to be good; for everybody says my father is a very bad man, and this Commandment says God will visit his sins on me." This boy did not read his Bible right. God says he will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate him; that is, when the children hate him as their fathers did. But not on the children if they serve God; as he says in the last clause, "shewing mercy unto thousands" of those very children who have bad fathers, if the children love God and keep his commandments. The troubles their wicked parents bring on good children, God will overrule for the children's good.

But to a certain extent, dear children, this part of the Commandment is true in the very way this little boy understood it. If you have a drunken father, and he becomes very poor by his drunkenness, you will suffer by it; and if you live to become a man, and a poor, drunken, useless man, your children will be poor too; and just as long as the sons follow the bad example of their father, so long will the sins of the father follow all their generations. Now, children, what stronger motive do you need to be good than this? It teaches you the danger of bad example to those you leave behind you; and children follow a bad example more readily than a good one.

I suppose you understand now what this part of this Commandment means, and I do hope you will never forget it. If any of you have bad fathers or mothers, be sure not to follow their evil example, and the threatening contained in this Commandment will never affect your standing in God's sight.

The lesson we are to learn from this Commandment is, that God is a Spirit, and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth. That we must not substitute any thing in God's place. That he is "jealous" of having any rival in the hearts of any of his creatures. That it is dishonoring God to attempt to make anything like him, or to use any of our own or other people's inventions in worshipping him. Idolatrous worship degrades all that engage in it; but worshipping God in spirit and in truth raises up our fallen humanity into union with him.

Resolve now to become worshippers of this pure and holy God; and may he help you to do it, is my earnest prayer.

Delirium Tremens.—Let all young men, moderate drinkers, read the following, and learn:—

It has sometimes occurred to me that the exhibitions of agony we sometimes see in persons tortured by delirium tremens should be interpreted not so much as the results of bodily disease as the signs of the capacities both of body and soul—especially the latter—for spontaneous sufferings.

I saw a man once in this condition. He was a man of great strength, and had he been temperate he might have lived a century. There seemed no part of him unsound; and, as if to aid him in his defiance of the dreaded delirium, he had an immense chest. He would drink great draughts of rum and not stagger. He had been warned of his danger, but refused to hear the warning. At last his destruction came as with the whirlwind. Distress and anguish came upon him. All anodynes were powerless to quiet his nerves; and so dreadful was his suffering that it could scarcely have been greater had he been tortured with fire. The reptiles and fiends which crawled over him and mocked him, to him seemed real. At last he rose in his bed with a terrific shriek, and fell back dead.

His last expression was, "I see the devil!" His boon companions were frightened away from his bedside, and not one of them had courage to see him buried.

Now, shall we call this disease and shattered nerves? or shall we affirm that such a man shows how much material there is in his body and soul with which to kindle and feed suffering? Impart to such a man immortality, and what less than hell have you for him? I believe there is a place called hell, and such facts as I have just referred to, make me sure that there is a condition of being in a sinner "let alone" of God's mercy, which may be aptly called hell also.

THOUGHTS FOR MINISTERS.

Do not rest without success in your ministry. Success is the rule under a living ministry; want of it is the exception.

A word spoken by you when your conscience is clear, and your heart full of God's Spirit, is worth ten thousand words spoken in unbelief and sin.

Prayer is more powerful than preaching. It is prayer that gives preaching all its power.

It possesses marked advantages over all preparations of opium, morphine, veratrine, and other opiates and narcotics. It lulls pain, by imparting strength and vigor to the system, and arousing the vital energies to a healthful action, instead of paralysing the perceptive faculties, and making them insensible to pain. Let those who would live and enjoy health use Radway's Ready Relief.

7th.—To all who are sick and in pain, use the RELIEF. It can do no harm, and will surely do good. Persons who are weak, nervous, and debilitated a teaspoonful of the Ready Relief, in a wine-glass of water, will do you more good than all the Bitters in the world; keep your stomach clean and healthy, your breath sweet, your nerves strong, your spirits happy, your appetite good, and your digestion regular. A dose taken at bedtime will insure calm and pleasant sleep.

This Remedy is truly a Family Medicine. It can be used with the positive assurance of doing good in all cases where pain or uneasiness exists.

It is the cheapest medicine in the world. One fifty cent bottle contains more medicine, as well as being a superior medicine, than one dollar's worth of the ordinary pain-killers, liniments, &c., of the day.

One fifty-cent bottle of Radway's Ready Relief will do more good, and can be used for more purposes, than ten dollars expended for any other medicine in use.

READ WHAT MRS. WESTCOTT SAYS.

FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND OTHERS SAY THE SAME.

Mrs. Westcott, an experienced nurse of Westchester—read what she says:—

"Your Ready Relief and Regulating Pills do our family more good than all the physic and doctors we have had for years. If I have the headache, I take Radway's Relief and one of the Pills—in an hour I am all right; if pain in my bowels, Radway's Ready Relief gives me ease and comfort; if rheumatism, I use the Relief; if sore throat or hoarseness, I use the Relief; if neuralgic pains shoot about my body, I stop them with the Relief; if I catch cold, I take the Relief; if toothache, or earache, or taceache, I apply the Relief—in a few moments the most severe pains are lulled. If my children fall and bruise, or otherwise hurt themselves, the Relief removes all pain and discoloration of the skin; if they burn or scald themselves, the Relief takes out the fire, and relieves them from anguish. I could not sleep without a bottle of Radway's Ready Relief within my reach. So with the Pills—the very moment my stomach or bowels are out of order, one of Radway's Pills is all that I require to restore my system to order and regularity.

THE ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY, 92 Lombard-street, London, and Royal Insurance buildings, Liverpool.
Chairman of the London Board.—SAMUEL BAKER, Esq.
Chairman in Liverpool.—CHARLES TURNER, Esq.
The Royal Insurance Company is one of the largest Offices in the kingdom.
At the Annual Meeting held in August 1859, the following highly satisfactory results were shown:—
FIRE DEPARTMENT.
The most gratifying proof of the expansion of the business is exhibited in the one following fact—that the increase alone of the last three years exceeds the entire business of some of the existing and of many of the recently defunct fire insurance companies of this kingdom.
The Premiums for the year 1855 being.....£130,060
While the Premiums for the year 1558 are.... 196,148
Showing an actual increase of..... 66,088
or upwards of 50 per cent. in three years.
The recent returns of duty made by Government for this latter year (1858) again show the "Royal" as more than maintaining the ratio of its increase as stated in former years. Only one among the London insurance offices exhibits an advance to the extent of one-half the increase of the Company, while all the others respectively fall far short of the moiety of its advance.
LIFE DEPARTMENT.
The amount of new Life Premiums received this year is by far the largest received in any similar period since the commencement of the business, and must far exceed the average of amount received by the most successful offices in the kingdom. The number of policies issued in the year was 832, the sum assured £387,752 6s. 8d., and the premium £12,354 3s. 4d. These figures show a very rapid extension of business during the last ten years. Thus:—

| Years. | No. of Policies. | Sums Assured. | New Premiums. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1843 .. | 98 | £48,744 17 0 | £1,380 0 1 |
| 1550 .. | 190 | 95,650 9 11 | 2,627 4 7 |
| 1552 .. | 422 | 181,504 10 6 | 5,823 5 10 |
| 1854 .. | 408 | 161,848 13 4 | 4,694 16 0 |
| 1856 .. | 703 | 297,560 16 8 | 8,850 3 11 |
| 1858 .. | 832 | 387,752 6 8 | 12,354 3 4 |

The remarkable increase in the business of the last four years is mainly consequent upon the large bonus declared in 1855, which amounted to no less than £2 per cent. per annum on the sums assured, and averaged 80 per cent. upon the premiums paid.

A Slight Cold, Cough, Hoarseness, or Sore Throat, which might be checked with a simple remedy, if neglected, often terminates seriously. Few are aware of the importance of stopping a Cough or Slight Cold in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if not attended to, soon attacks the lungs.
Brown's Bronchial Troches were first introduced eleven years ago. It has been proved that they are the best article before the public for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, the Hacking Cough in Consumption, and numerous affections of the Throat, giving immediate relief.
Public Speakers and Singers, will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice.
Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicine, at 25 cents per box.
