reiterates its design, immediately after the withdrawal of the French troops, to occupy the Papal frontier and rigidly prevent any of its subjects from crossing into the States of the Church for the purpose of aiding in insurrectionary movements. It will leave the solution of the Roman question altogether in the hands of the Roman people. What this solution will be is no longer doubtful. The unprecedented unaniunity and enthusiasm with which the people of Venetia have just voted in favor of their annexation to Italy, foreshadows the fate of Rome and of the remainder of the Papal territory. The national aspirations in Italy are a torrent, which, with irresistible force, sweeps away all obstacles. As in Venetia republicans and ultramontanes sacrificed their party predilections by voting, the one for a constitutional king and the other for an ex-communicated prince, thus it will be in Rome, notwithstanding the threat of ex communication against all who may take a direct or indirect part in the overthrow of the Papal power. The legion of foreign mercenaries which the Papal Government has enlisted will avail no more against the people of Rome, than they did a few years ago against the Italian troops.

Public opinion everywhere is almost unanimous in regarding the downfall of the temporal power as immediately imminent. The battle which the Papacy has so long waged against the steady advance of modern civilization is fully decided. It is characteristic of the blindness and obstinacy of the Popes, that Pius IX, even now persists in his hostility to his native country. Instead of facilitating public opinion in Italy, which, in spite of all the threats of ex-communication, insists upon the abolition of the temporal power, while it is still far from denying the authority of the Church of Rome in matters purely religious, the Pope finds only words of severe censure and unconditional condemnation for this great unity movement to which all Italians are so firmly attached. He has issued another allocution on the relation of the Italian Government to the Papacy, which is a match for the notorious bull against modern civilization. We again meet in it with the old complaint that the State passes laws on education and on marriage, affairs over which the Church of Rome claims absolute control to the exclusion of all State legislation. The allocution studiously avoids a recognition of the Kingdom of Italy, and gives to the Government of Italy the name of "Sub-alpine Government." It is especially severe on "those frenzied voices" which declare that "the city of Rome must share in the unhappy Italian perturbation and rebellion-nay, become its capital." The Church, it says, will never be overpowered, but one particular nation, like Italy, may lose the true faith. In conclusion it adjures the sovereigns to prevent with all their strength, "the torch" of faith from being extinguished from among them .- Methodist.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.

SYNOPSIS OF THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE. The President opens his message with proper thanks to Providence, who has preserved the land from pestilence, and then proceeds direct to the consideration of the national situation, opposing, as will be seen, the making of any conditions precedent to restoration except those known to the Constitution. and favoring the immediate admission of duly qualified loyal representatives to Congress. He asks nothing more, he concedes nothing less.

After reviewing the progress of reconstruction as developed by the appointment of Provisional Governors, etc., the inauguration of the Revenue, Judicial, aiding Ireland. and Postal systems of the Government throughout the South down to the close of the last session of Congress, the President concludes in his message all he has to say on the subject of restoration in the loilowing language :--

It would have been consistent with the express provisions of the Constitution, that each State shall have at least one Representative, and that no State, without its consent, shall be deprived of equal suffrage in the Senate.

These provisions were intended to secure to every State the right of representation in Congress, and so important was it deemed by the framers of the Constitution that the equity of the States shall be pre- Zylobalsamum, without any faith in its virtues; but by calling at the Book Store of served in the Senate, that not even by an amendment to the Constitution can any State without its consent, be denied a voice in that branch of the National Legislature.

Arrival of Dr. Lewis La'Mert in St. John, N. B.

TO THE NERVOUS AND DEBILITATED .- DR. L. LA'MERT, of 37 Bedford Square, London, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons of England; Doctor of Medicine of the University of Rostock, &c., begs to inform his Patients, and others seeking confidential Medical Advice, that he has arrived in St. John, on a Professional visit, and may be consulted on all cases of Nervous and Physical Debility, and Local or Constitutional Weakness, daily, for a limited period only, at 182 St. James' Street, (corner of Wentworth street,) St. John. On the 4th inst, after a lingering illness, Isabella, wife whilst assisting Dr. Samuel La'Mert, of London, in his extensive Practice, and in the various Hospitals of Continental Europe, affords an ample guarantee, to those seeking advice, of being under the care of a legally-qualified Practitioner. Dr. L. La'Mert's name is to be found in the 'Medical Register,' published under the Authority of the Medical Council of Great Britain, and is, consequently, not to be classed with the names-in many cases assumed-of a orde of adventurers, who, through the public press seek to impose upon the credulous and unwary, by the publication of pretended qualifications and the advocacy of specifics, that are never beneficial, and in most cases positively

DR. La'MERT'S Work on " Nervous and Physical Debility, its Causes, Consequences, Treatment and Cure," with an Essay on "The Physiology of Marriage," is intended to enlighten thousands on important subjects, in regard to which they are entirely ignorant, and may be had in St. At North Branch Oromocto, on the 17th ult., Mr. John Chubb & Co., Prince Wm. street, or from Dr. La'Ment. ollock, aged 67 years. Consultation fee (either personally or by letter) $5. November 29.

Prince William Street. THE PERFECTED SHIRT. THIS SHIRT possesses real advanta and i mprovements over all those bitherto used. It is open at the back instead of in front, and therefore can be put on with the same facility as other garments, requiring only to be drawn on, and avoiding the very un-pleasant process of passing it over the head and disarrangng the hair. The Studs, if used, can be fastened on the front before the shirt is put on, and need not be taken out previous to undressing, the opening being at the back and thereby obviating this as well as the unavoidable crushing of the well starched front. Great economy being obtained in the manufacture of this Shirt, by superseding all unnecessary gathers or folds, the price will be found as moderate as the ordinary Shirt All seams are flat, which is likewise conductve to comfort, and an easy fit.

From the above statement, it is evident that the "Per-feet Shirt" is the most comfortable, convenient, and best fitting shirt ever introduced. MANCHESTER, ROBERTSON & ALLISON. 48 Prince Wm. street. TO THOTOGRAPHERS .- Photographic Stock at Reduced Rates.—1-9 Ferro Plates, (Eggshell) 40c. per box;
