Yet dare not push the demon back.

Who loves the temperance cause? Not he Who in its favor lectures long, And by himself, all stealthily, Drinks cider, beer, or porter strong; Who makes the poison that he sips, Who puts it to his neighbor's lips.

Who loves the temperance cause? Not be Who prays to God to take away "The accursed thing;" yet smilingly Gives patronage to those who slay The body and the deathless soul, Who spurns at man's and God's control.

Last eve I saw the drunkard fall, And staggering rise, and fall again; I listened to his maniac call Until my heart was wrung with pain; Who lured him to a course of sin? Who fanned the quenchless fires within?

Was it the drunkard? No, too plain Upon his pimpled, bloated face, Carbuncled nose and vacant brain, Are written ruin and disgrace; The drunkard's visage warning gave-It told of death—the drunkard's grave.

Who offers pleasure, but instead Leads thousands to an early tomb? Who steals the hungry orphan's bread? Who shrouds the mother's hopes in gloom? Who fills the widow's cup with gall? Who is a blighting curse to all?

The poison maker sees unmoved The hideous working of his hand; The poison vender, oft reproved, Still spreads a mildew o'er the land; Both bear a weight of guilt untold, Both peril their own souls for gold.

Men smile upon them; temperance men, Who inwardly despise their ways, And Christians look upon the scene, With apathy and listless gaze; Will they not tremble when they meet The drunkard at the judgment seat?

vain to conquer his appetite. I knew one that would go over to the House of Correction at South Boston, and ask Capt. Chandler to take him in and keep him from liquor. If he remained outside he could not resist the temptation to take it. I have known him to ask the family where he boarded, to lock him into a room in the third story of the house, to keep him from drinking; but after he had done this, he would tie the hed clothes together and lower himself down, unable to endure the awful cravings for his accustomed stimulants.

I was called at midnight, in Boston, to pray in the family of one who was supposed to be dying. He was chained to the bed and was raving with madness. His wife and his mother were weeping and praying by his bed-side. All this was caused by drinking. They said he was a good son, a good husband, and a good father of his little children, except when he had been drinking. He would try to leave off the dreadful habit, but his desires for intoxicating drinks had become so strong, that when he saw them or breathed their odor, or was asked by his bad companions to drink, he could not resist. It was a terrible night and a frightful scene.

I once took the vial, containing poison, that a young man had just purchased out of his hand, as he a hotel good-bye, and was going up into his room to take his own life. He was crazy from the effects of the liquor he had taken, and would have rushed into eternity unprepared, if he had not been hindered and confined until the effects of his drinking had passed

Dear little readers, never for a moment lay aside the pure garment of temperance; and let me entreat the girls that read this, never offer a wine cup to a young man, or encourage him in the use of any form of intoxicating drinks. Never forget how easy it is to injure ourselves permanently and even forever, and how hard it is to recover ourselves after we have gone astray. CHILDREN OF THE SABBATH SCHOOL.

DEAR FRIENDS :- In reading the life of an English nobleman, I found this anecdote recorded of him : When he passed through his parks and forests in the autumn, he used to pick up the acorns, and fill his pockets. His servants wondered what he wanted of so many acorns. They were not good to eat, nor could they be used for ornament. So they watched to find out was done with them. They noticed that this great lord, as he passed over his estate, watched every nook and corner where a tree could grow for ornament or shade. In all such places he thrust in his cane, made a hole, and planted an acorn. After a few years, this nobleman's grounds were adorned with beautiful young oaks, shading the paths, and adding greatly to the beauty of the landscape. The

DR. J. W. POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND!

"It was early in the spring of 1855 that this Compound was originated. A member of my family was afflicted with an irritation of the throat, attended with a disagreeable cough. I had for some months previous thought that a preparation, having for its basis the inside bark of white pine, might be so compounded as to be very useful in the case of the throat and lungs. To test the value of it in the case alluded to, I compounded a small quantity of the medicine that I had been planning, and gave it in teaspoonful doses. The result was exceedingly gratifying. Within two days the irritation of the throat was removed, the ough subsided, and a speedy cure was effected. Soon after this, I sent some to a lady in Londonderry, N. H., who had been suffering for some weeks from a bad cough, occasioned by a sudden cold, and had raised mucus streaked with blood. She soon found relief, and sent for more. She took about ten ounces of it, and got well. S. B. Clark, Esq., ditor of the Manchester Daily Mirror, made a trial of the same preparation in the case of a severe cold, and was cured immediately. He was so highly pleased with the esults, and so confident of success attending its sales, if placed before the public, that he finally persuaded me to ive it a name and send it abroad to benefit the suffering. November, 1855, I first advertised it under the name of White Pine Compound. In two years from that time there ad been wholesaled in Manchester alone one hundred dolworth, where it took the lead of all the cough remehes in the market, and it still maintains that position. here is good reason for all this. It is very soothing and ing in its nature, is warming to the stomach, and pleasant withal to the taste, and is exceedingly cheap 'As a remedy for kidney complaints, the White Pine mpound stands unrivalled. It was not originated for that purpose; but a person in using it for a cough, was not only cured of the cough, but also cured of a kidney fliculty of ten years' standing. Since that accidental disovery, many thousands have used it for the same comlaint, and have been completely cured."
The above was written by Dr. Poland in 1860. Since hen, as in Manchester, the White Pine Compound has taken the lead of all cough remedies, as well as preparations for he cure of kidney difficulties, in every city, town, village, and hamlet throughout the New England States. had taken a sheet of paper and a pen with ink, to write his last letter home; had bidden his friends in hetel good had been an under the write his last letter home; had bidden his friends in the white Pine Compound. It speaks well for the Medicine; and he people where it is prepared are high in its praise.

One bottle of the Compound is generally sufficient to remove a bad cough, and trequently I have known persons to have a cold entirely removed in two days, by using less than half a bottle. From one to two teaspoonfulls is a CAUTION! CAUTION! THE Proprietor of PICKSTONE'S WASHING AND CLEANSING CRYSTAL, deems it his duty to caution the public against spurious imitations of his highly celebrated Washing Crystal, which is the most harmless compound extant. It is free from Lime, Vitriol, and all other deadly mixtures so common to be found amongst washing compounds. Try Pickstone's Washing Crystal, f you want ease, comfort, and economy in washing, which washes every thing, and has rapid sale.

It will be found invaluable for the following domestic purposes, viz.:-It washes all fine things, such as Muslin Lace, Crotchet Work, Baby Linen, &c,; cleaning Sponges

Combs, and Brushes; removing stains from the hands, and grease from Carpets, Cloth, Flannel, &c. It makes Hard The "CANADIAN VOYAGER," the most com- Water Soft, and may be used with good effect in Baths, as fortable Travelling Coat for cold weather the skin. A small quantity should also be used in the foot pan. It forms a cooling and cleansing wash for the head, by dissolving a teasphonful of the Crystal in a quarter of a pint of water; and for cleansing the Mouth, Teeth, and Guins, it is quite a luxury, by adding a teaspoonful to a tumbler of water. It renders linen beautifully white, and unlike other preparations, at the same time preserves the in Scotch, English, and Canadian makes; fabric. It contains nothing injurious to life. A child eating it by mistake, will not be injured. If you have not used this Cleansing Crystal, lose no time in obtaining it. Nothing has ever been introduced into this country which has effected such a wonderful change upon Washing Days. It saves your time-saves your clothes—saves your money; and it does not injure the most delicate hands. Pickstone's Cleansing Crystal makes washing a pleasure, reduces the cost of fuel, the wear and tear of labor, and improves every article washed. For Linens, and heavy washes, it cannot be surpassed; for Laces, and fine fabrics, it is unequalled. It does not injure the color of Prints, but strengthens and improves them-by its use they retain their original brilliancy. Flannels become white and soft like new. White things are much improved, and keep their color, even if put by for months. Thousands of Families made happy! No misery on a Washing Day, with Pickstone's Cleansing Crystal.
