THE RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCER

The violet beds were wet with dew, Which filled each heavy cup; The little sunbeam darted through, And raised their blue heads up, They smiled to see it, and they lent The morning breeze their sweetest scent.

A mother 'neath a shady tree, Had left her babe asleep; It woke and cried, but when it spied The little sunbeam peep So slyly in, with glance so bright, It laughed and chuckled with delight.

On, on it went, it might not stay; Now through a window small It poured its glad but tiny ray, And danced upon the wall. A pale young face looked up to meet The sunbeam she had watched to greet.

And now away beyond the sea The merry sunbeam went; A ship was on the waters free, From home and country sent; But sparkling in the sunbeam's play, The blue waves curled around her way.

But there was one who watched them there, Whose heart was full of pain; She gazed and half forgot her care, And hope came back again; She said, "The waves are full of glee: There may yet be joy for me !"

And so it travelled to and fro, And glanced and danced about; And not a door was shut, I know, To keep that sunbeam out: But ever as it touched the earth, It woke up happiness and mirth.

I may not tell the history Of all that it could do; But I tell this, that you may try To be a sunbeam too. "A sunbeam too!" perhaps you say: Yes, I am very sure you may.

For loving words, like sunbeams, will Dry up a falling tear, And loving deeds will often help A broken heart to cheer. So loving and so living, you Will be a little sunbeam too.

Old Bill moved uneasily in his chair, and the muscles around his mouth twitched occasionally; but unmindful of this, the lady kept on in the same low,

" Many and many were the hours," so father used to say, "that Willie and I used to pass under the shadow of that old apple tree, playing at hide and seek, or lolling on the grass, and telling each other the great things, we meant to do, when we became big men, while Willie's blue eyes would sparkle with hope and happiness; and when the sunset laid a crown of gold on the top of the oaks on the hill, Willie's mother might be seen standing in the portico, with her snowy cap and checked apron, and we would hear her cheerful voice calling: 'Come, boys, come to supper!"

And Willie would draw up his slight form, lift his blue eyes proudly to his mother, and say, "Never fear, mother, I will make a good man, and a great one, too," and then, after we had said our evening prayers, we would go contented and happy as the bird that nestled in the old appletree, to rest. Then just as we were sinking into some pleasant dream, we would hear a well-known footfall on the stairs, and a kind face bending over us would enquire if we were nicely tucked up. It is a long, long time," father would say, "since I heard from Willie, but I am very sure he has never fallen into any evil ways. The words of his mother would keep him from that." Rap! rap! rap! went the words of the lady at the

The lady could only see the subdued man bury his face in his clasped hands, and while his frame shook like an aspen leaf, she heard him murmur amid childlike sobs, "My mother, O my mother !" and she felt as though the tears that were washing those wrinkled cheeks, were washing out a long, dark record of old Bill's past life; so hand." with a silent prayer of thankfulness, she resumed: "But there was one thing my father loved to talk of better than all the rest. I remember how clear and confident William's voice sounded through the old church, as he promised to love, protect, and cherish the bright, confiding creature at his side; and I knew he thought, as he looked down upon her, that the winds of heaven would never visit her face too roughly." DR. J. W. POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND!

A member of my family was afflicted with an irritation of the throat, attended with a disagreeable have been carefully selected by one of the firm in the best cough. I had for some months previous thought that a preparation, having for its basis the inside bark of white pine, might be so compounded as to be very useful in the case of the throat and lungs. To test the value of it in the TICKS, Rolled Linings, Cotton FLANNELS, Dressed and case alluded to, I compounded a small quantity of the edicine that I had been planning, and gave it in teaspoonful doses. The result was exceedingly gratifying. Within two days the irritation of the throat was removed, the cough subsided, and a speedy cure was effected. Soon after this, I sent some to a lady in Londonderry, N. H., who had been suffering for some weeks from a bad cough, occasioned by a sudden cold, and had raised mucus streaked with blood. She soon found relief, and sent for more. She took about ten ounces of it, and got well. S. B. Clark, Esq., editor of the Manchester Daily Mirror, made a trial of the same preparation in the case of a severe cold, and was cured immediately. He was so highly pleased with the esults, and so confident of success attending its sales, if laced before the public, that he finally persuaded me to give it a name and send it abroad to benefit the suffering. In November, 1855, I first advertised it under the name of White Pine Compound. In two years from that time there had been wholesaled in Manchester alone one hundred dolrss' worth, where it took the lead of all the cough remedies in the market, and it still maintains that position. There is good reason for all this. It is very soothing and ealing in its nature, is warming to the stomach, and pleasant withal to the taste, and is exceedingly cheap. 'As a remedy for kidney complaints, the White Pine compound stands unrivalled. It was not originated for that purpose; but a person in using it for a cough, was not only cured of the cough, but also cured of a kidney lifficulty of ten years' standing. Since that accidental discovery, many thousands have used it for the same complaint, and have been completely cured."

The above was written by Dr. Poland in 1860. Since Castor Oil. then, as in Manchester, the White Pine Compound has taken the lead of all cough remedies, as well as preparations for the cure of kidney difficulties, in every city, town, village, "I was always at home at Willie's," father would | and hamlet throughout the New England States. The past year has given great opportunity to test the virtue of the White Pine Compound. It has been an unusual time for colds and coughs, and very large quantities of the White Pine Compound have been sold and used with he happiest effects. It speaks well for the Medicine; and One bottle of the Compound is generally sufficient to re-> to have a cold entirely removed in two days, by using less nan half a bottle. From one to two teaspo arge dose. I sometimes put a little white sugar and hot water with it when taken on going to bed. The limits to which I purposely confine myself in this Circular, will not allow of that full expression which I would like to give in favor of the White Pine Compound t is universally admired by all who use it: it has attained such a popularity among those whose opinion is valuable ndeed, that VANITY may probably in part prompt me to record more here than hurried people will have patience to read; so I will stop, by merely recommending it to all who need a rough or kidney remedy, to test the virtues of the

TESTIMONIALS. A very large number of important testimonials have already been received from Physicians, Clergymen, Apothe caries, and indeed from all classes in society, speaking in the most flattering terms of the White Pine Compound. Several of our friends have also received much benefit rom the Compound. We intend to keep it always on

Rev. H. D. Hodge, Of West Randolph, Vt., who is a practising physician, as well as preacher, in a letter to Dr. P., dated May 21, 1863, says,-"I find it an excellent medicine in kidney disease. From a Boston Pastor. Boston, January 16, 1862.

Not only do I consider it a safe an efficient remedy for all diseases of the throat.

BREWSTER, Mass., March 19, 1863. Dr. Poland-I feel it my duty to inform you of the very great benefits which I have received from the use of your White Pine Compound. In August, 1861, I took a very severe cold, which continued to afflict me, increasing in severity, attended with a very hard cough, night sweats, and some bleeding, probably from the throat. Through the fall and winter my cough was very distressing, reducing my flesh and strength, and rendering me unfit for labor. I tried medicines of various kinds, but none of them, how ever valuable, gave me any relief. In March 1862, as you may remember, I wrote to you, stating my difficulties, and asking advice. You sent me some of the White Pine Com-I commenced taking it, and immediately began to mend. At the time of writing to you, my weight was only 185 pounds. In five weeks I was out in active labor, and in a few months gained up to 160 pounds. I know that it was the White Pine Compound which did all this for me. I soon began to have persons apply to me for the medicine, and, as you know, I ordered it for sale. In eight months though without making much exertion, I disposed of 540 MOTHERS! MOTHERS! MOTHERS! I would add that several persons of my acquaintance whose case was as hopeless as my own, have been cured by the White Pine Compound. The White Pine Compound, advertised at length in our mus, is not only as to its name inviting, but is a highly approved medicine. Dr. J. W. Poland, the inventor, has confidence of the many who know him, a confidence make experiments, which issued in his medical discovery.
