"SON, GO WORK TO-DAY IN MY VINE-YARD.

"Go, work in my vineyard," I claim thee as mine ; I bought thee with blood, thee and all that is thine; Thy time and thy talents, thy loftiest powers, Thy warmest affections, thy sunniest hours. I willingly yielded my kingdom for thee, Left the song of archangels to hang on the tree; In pain and temptation, in anguish and shame, I paid thy full price, and my purchase I claim.

"Go, work in my vineyard," there's plenty to do; "The barvest is great, and the laborers few;" There is weeding, and fencing, and clearing of roots, And ploughing, and sowing, and gathering the fruits; There are foxes to take, there are wolves to destroy; All ages and ranks I can fully employ; I have sheep to be tended, and lambs to be fed; The lost must be gathered, the weary ones led.

"Go, work in my vineyard," O "work while 'tis day." For the bright hours of sunshine are hastening away, And night's gloomy shadows are gathering fast; Then the labouring time shall forever be past. Begin in the morning and toil all the day, Thy strength I'll supply, and thy wages I'll pay; And blessed, thrice blessed, the diligent few, Who shall finish the work I have given them to do. LEARNING TO SMOKE.

One day Joe became the joyful possessor of two new clay pipes, bought for a cent at the village store. Seating himself upon a stone, he played complacently with his treasures, (?) admiring their whiteness, and wishing that he had at least a bushel of tobaccostored up for his winter's supply, when suddenly an intimate four-legged friend of his, named "Trip," dashed past him, knocking one of the pipes from his

Every body knows what happens to a clay pipe when it falls upon hard ground. Joe looked dismally at the pieces for a moment, but being, as I have that curl and writhe out at the corners of her eyes. said before, a good-natured boy, he soon picked up the little stump of a pipe that was left, and called out to his dog: "Trip, you rascal, do you see what you

Trip, bounded back, wagging his tail, and seemed to think that on the whole he had done rather a fine thing, and he was not far from right, in my opinion. "Now, sir," said Joe, starting up and throwing the pieces of broken pipe-stem over the fence, for fear they might cut his little sister's feet, "now, sir, you must learn to smoke." So Joe commenced to give Trip his first lesson in dog was willing enough, for the pipe was new and clean. Before an hour had past, his master had the great satisfaction of seeing Trip standing on hind-legs, pipe in mouth, and looking as solemn as any judge. Now just hold up a minute and I'll get some tobacco, and have you smoking in earnest in less than no near by, where Ed. Hunckley spent his leisure hours, and obtained from him a "bit of tobacco." After making all needful preparations, Joe lit the pipe and returned to the fence where Trip was still playing. Ed. went with him to see the fun.

Trip, like a good pupil (a good dog pupil, I mean,) stood erect on his hind-legs at Joe's approach, and held up his mouth to receive the pipe. Alas! for Joe's hopes. No sooner did the odor of tobacco reach the dog's nostrils than he dropped the pipe in disgust, and no threats or comman's could induce him to have it inserted between his teeth again. Just then the boys spied Jack, the cat, winding up the long lane with slow and graceful movement. sister's big grey cat! Let's make him smoke." No sooner said than attempted; but Jack liked to-scratched for their pains.

"I say, Joe," persisted Hunckley, "my goat's down there by the stable; I shouldn't be one bit surprised if she'd beat your cat and dog all to pieces at

"Well," laughed Joe, who did not realize, poor boy, what bad company he was keeping, "let's see." So they tried to make the goat smoke, but the goat kicked and butted at such a rate whenever she smelt the burning tobacco near her nose that the boys were soon glad enough to give up their plan.

Ed. roared with laughter. "I declare, Joe, you're enough to kill anybody, you looked so blue. But keep it from going out.

In a moment the tame creature came toward them, and was soon eating the thistles. He devoured them with a relish until he came to the one with tobacco upon it. The boys watched the result anxiously, but The plant was left untouched.

to try, and that's the pig!" Hunckley was now getting rather tired of the fun, but Joe walked off so resolutely toward the hog-pen that he followed, sullenly muttering, as he shuffled

"Well, Joe Conner, if you ain't the queerest chap, when you take a notion, that ever I did see !" The old pig was rooting away at the swill and dirt when the boys reached the pen; but as soon as she spied them, her long snout was pressed greedily against the rough boarding where they stood. "There!" exclaimed Joe, "the pipe has gone out. "Well, I'll give her a taste of the tobacco anyhow, and see how she likes it." With these words, he leaned over, and holding the contents of the pipe in his hand, offered it to the dirty, greedy creature in grunts, and then turned contemptuously away. She would not touch the tobacco!

This was enough for Joe. He looked at Ed. Hunckley for an instant, his cheeks flushing; his eyes filling with tears. "Ed.," said he, flinging the old stump of a pipe almost out of sight, " I, for one, don't intend to be the only beast on this farm who ises tobacco; so never ask me to smoke again."

fortable little laugh, turned on his heel, never to be an intimate friend of Joe's any more, for somehow that day made a kind of distance between them. It had opened Joe's eyes, and made him see a great many things as he had never seen them before.

His good nature grew, but with it his strength of will; and Joe was loved more than ever by his friends though some of the crowd of old playmates dropped away, because they learned to un erstand and respect his "No."-M. E. D. in Well-Spring.

MOTHERS AND CHILDREN.

The manners of the mother mould the child. There is no disputing the fact; it shines in the face of every little child. The coarse, bawling, fighting woman, will have coarse, vicious, bawling, fighting children. She who cries on every occasion-" I'll slap your jaws-I'll break your neck," is known as thoroughly through her own children as if her unruly manners were openly displayed in the public

These remarks were suggested by the conversation in an omnibus-that great institution for the students of men and manners-between a friend and a schoolmaster. Our teacher was caustic, mirthful, and sharp. His wit flashed like the polished edge of a diamond, and kept the "bus" in a "roar."

The entire community of insiders—and whoever is intimate with these conveyances can form a pretty good idea of our numbers-inclusive of the "one more" so well known to the fraternity, turning their heads, eyes, and ears one way, and finally our teacher said: "I can always tell the mother by the boy. The urchin who draws back with doubled fist and lunges at his playmate if he looks at him askance, has a very questionable mother. She may feed him, and clothe him, and cram him with sweetmeats, coax him with promises, but if she gets mad she fights. She will pull him by the jacket; she will give him a knock in the back; she will drag him by the hair; she will call him all sorts of wicked names, while passion plays over her red face in lambent flames And we never see the courteous little fellow with smooth locks and gentle manners-in whom delicacy does not detract from courage or manliness, but we say that boy's mother is a true lady. Her words and ways are soft, loving and quiet. If she reproves, her language is "my son"-not "you little wretch -you plague of my life-you torment-you scamp !"

She hovers before him as a pillar of light before the wandering Israelites, and her beams are reflected in his face. To bim the word mother is synonymous with every thing pure, sweet and beautiful. Is he an artist? In after life that which with holy radiance the manly art of making a chimney of one's self. The | shines on his canvas, will be the mother's face. Whoever flits across his path with sunny smiles and soft low voice, will bring "mother's" image freshly to his heart. "She is like my mother," will be the highest meed of his praise. Not when the hair turns "Hurrah!" cried Joe, "you're a bully dog, Trip! silver and the eye grows dim, will the majesty of aug 8. that life and presence depart from him.

But the ruffian mother-alas, that there are such ! -will form the ruffian character of the man. He in With the e words the boy rushed to the stable | turn will become the merciless tyrant, with a tongue sharper than a two-edged sword, and remembering the brawling and the cuffing, seek some meek, gentle victim for the sacrifice, and make her his wife, with the condition that he shall be master. And the master he is for a few sad years, when he wears a widower's weed till he finds a victim "number two."

We wonder not that there are so many awkward, ungainly men in society-they have all been trained by women who neither knew nor cared for the holy nature of their trust. They had been made bitter to the heart's core, and that bitterness will find vent and lodgement somewhere. Strike the infant in anger. and he will, if he cannot reach you, vent his passion by beating the floor, the chair, or any inanimate "Hallo!" cried Ed. Hunckley, "if there ain't your thing within reach. Strike him repeatedly, and by the time he wears shoes he will have become a bully, with hands that double for fight as naturally as if bacco as little as Trip did, and the boys only got special pains had been taken to teach him the art of > Mothers, remember that your manners mould the child. Who will not say that mothers ought to be thoroughly educated whether their sons are or not.

A GENTLEMAN in the city of Boston, who was in the habit of using wine, was asked by one of his promising boys, if he might go to one of our meetings, "Yes, my boy, you may go; but you must not sign the pledge." Her father saw her, and asked her what she was going to do. She told him; and he said, "What good will it do? The crumbs will not be enough to feed one in a hundred of the birds." "I know it, dear father," said she; "but I shall be glad to save even one in a hundred of them, if I cannot save them all."

The father thought a moment. He knew that many poor persons were suffering in the village, and he had refused to he!p any because he could not help them all. His conscience struck him; and he told his little daughter to break a loaf of bread into crumbs for the birds while he went to scatter loaves among the poor villagers.

ONE FIFTY CENT BOTTLE Will cure more complaints, and prevent the system against sudden attacks, or epidemic and contageous diseases, than One Hundred Dollars expended for other Medicines, or Medical attendance.

the Word!

The moment Radway's Ready Relief is applied externally-or taken internally, according to directions-pain, from whatever cause, ceases to exist. In 1849 Radway's Ready Relief cured over 10,000 persons, seized with Asiatic Cholera, and by its timely use as a preventive, saved over one million of lives. YELLOW FEVER. In 1858 Radway's Ready Relief cured thousands of perons seized with Yellow Fever. As a preventive of this terrible disease, Dr. Frederick B. Page, of Mississippi, urged its use to the medical boards of the Southern States, and publicly recommended it as the most certain safeguard in the world.

DURING THE WAR More lives were saved by the use of Radway's Beady Reief than from the best efforts of the medical staff. We have hundreds of letters proving this fact. We have the evidence to prove that in cases where men, by exposure to malarious swamps, bottom lands, rice fields, etc., used Radway's Ready Relief, invariably escaped sickness; those who did not, were seized with Dysentery, Swamp Fevers, Billious Fevers, Diarrhœa, Cholera, Rheumatism, &c., and those only who, when thus seized, used the Ready Relief,

It cures the worst diseases incidental to all climates. It has been tested in Asia, Africa, South America, Europe, East and West Indies, and cured the worst forms of Cholera, Dysentery, Fluxes, Fevers, Yellow Fever, Swamp Marsh, Ship and other Fevers—and never failed in protecting persons who used it as a preventive against attacks.

WHY NOT? If Radway's Ready Relief possesses such remarkable disinfecting, neutralising, strengthening, aperient, suodo-rific, anodyne, and other properties, as to cure the worst forms of disease as they exist, in the most sickly climates of the world, and where the poisonous malaria is so thick that you may almost "cut it with a knife," why not cure, with the great ease it does, all sorts of fevers of the milder type, in our own climate? Diarrhœa. Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Billious Fever, Influenza, &c., are but the milder and weaker forms of the more terrible diseases. If i cures the worst forms as they exist in the most sickly climates, it will readily cure the less as they prevail amongs

DOMESTIC PURPOSES. Every family should be provided with a bottle of RAD WAY'S READY RELIEF. One bottle costs only 25 cents and this bottle can be used for various purposes, with the assurance of doing more permanent good than one hundred dollars expended for other medicines and physicians' prescriptions. If suddenly seized with sickness, the use of the Relief will instantly arrest the disease, and afford immediate ease to the patient.

TEN YEARS' RHEUMATISM CURED by rubbing the Spine with Radway's Ready Relief. Robert Elv, Esq., aged sixty, had been afflicted with Rheumatism for ten years. For the past welve months he was confined to his room, perfectly hely were distorted, swollen, and mishapen; his hands cramped, so that he could neither move his fingers nor open nor shut his hands; rheumatic pains ran riot all over his body; moving him from his bed involved the most intense suffer ing. Pe was induced to have his spine rubbed one hour, morning and night, with Radway's Ready Relief. The first rubbing gave him ease; a few successive rubbings relieved him of pain; one month's application of the Renef, and a few doses of Radway's Pills cured him. He is now a well and hearty man, and uses the Relief and Pills occasionally

A FAMILY MEDICINE. As a family medicine, it is the most useful remedy known to the world. If seized with pain or sickness, or threatened with any malignant disease, its use will quickly cure the patient and protect the system against attacks. In a few minutes after the application of the Ready Relief externally, or its administration internally, the patient, seized with the most excrutiating Pains, Aches, Cramps, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Fever and Ague, Spasms, Sore Throat, Influenza, Diptheria, Congestion or nflammation, will enjoy ease and comfort. IMPORTANT .- To Farmers and others residing in sparsely settled districts where it is difficult to secure the services of a physician, Radway's Ready Relief is invaluable. It can be used with positive assurance of doing good in all cases where pain or discomfort is experienced, or if seized with Influenza, Diptheria, Sore Throat, Bad Coughs, Hoarseness, Billious Colic, Inflammation of the Bowels, Stomach, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys; or with Croup, Quinsy, Fever and Ague, or with Neuralgia, Headache, Tic Doloreux, Toothache, Earache, or with Lumbago, Pain in the Back, or Khematism, or with Diarrhoea, Cholera morbus, or Dysentery, or with Burns, Scalds, or Bruises, or with Strains, Cramps, or Spasms. The application of Radway's Ready Relief will cure you of the worst of these omplaints in a few hours.

It is the most dithcult of diseases to treat—yet RADWAY'S REA-DY RELIEF has never failed in affording immediate relief to the sufferer; and in all cases of Acute, Inflammatory or Nervous Rheumatism, to effect a permanent cure. Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, RADWAY'S CLEANSING SYRUP, called Renovating Resolvent, should be taken as an adjunct with the Ready Relief. Sold Ly Druggists everywhere. DR. JOHN RADWAY & CO.,
