HOW TO LIVE.

He liveth long who liveth well! All other life is short and vain ; He liveth longest who can tell Of living most for heavenly gain.

He liveth long who liveth well ! All else is being flung away; He liveth longest who can tell Of true things truly done each day.

Waste not thy being; back to Him Who freely gave it, freely give; Else is that being but a dream; 'Tis but to be, and not to live.

Be what thou seemest! live thy creed! Hold up to earth the torch divine; Be what thou prayest to be made; Let the great Master's steps be thine.

Fill up each hour with what will last; Buy up the moments as they go; The life above, when this is past, Is the ripe fruit of life below.

Sow truth, if thou wouldst reap; Who sows the false shall reap the vain; Erect and sound thy conscience keep; From hollow words and deeds refrain.

Sow love, and taste its fruitage pure ; 4 Sow peace, and reap its harvests bright; Sow sunbeams on the rock and moor, And find a harvest-home of light.

Miscellaneous.

(From the Provincial Wesleyan.) SEVENTEEN REASONS WHY MR.

OF HALIFAX, GAVE UP SMOKING. 1. When he saw Church members paying from $6 to $12 for Tobacco, and only from $2 to $4 for the Gospel per year, he thought that if a man will rob of his tithes and offerings from love to his pipe, it was high time to cast to the moles and bats the "idol" that claimed such a supremacy.

2. It often seemed to him that smoking beclooded the light of God's countenance in christian experience, and dampened the fire of love and zeal in God's

8. When he saw professors of religion smoking while going to and coming from meeting-he felt a disgust at the practice both in them and in bimself. When he saw preachers seeking a secret place to "puff," he would think if the deed were justifiable, why not do it publicly; or was it that they felt guilty and ashamed to be seen.

4. Every time he saw the pipe and tobacco in the window of a grog-shop on one side, and the decanter and glass on the other, his conscience would smite and cooling to water and fit for mon," and Mr. Elake,

5. When he saw boys and young men and women, too, smoking the pipe, he felt he could not consistently say aught against it; and when he beheld the drunkard and the profanc likewise, he would say, " I am the brother and companion of these characters in the pipe, at least," and then again his conscience would smite him.

6. When he read and heard so much against smoking be would feel that he ought to give it an.

impossible to keep temperate, it was better to abstain medicinally, but it was questionable with him, if the remedy in most cases was not worse than the disease; that if it did good in one part of the body, it did

9. When the Provincial Wesleyan would denounce shot their eyes, or if they read the article, they would man forsake all that he hath-deay himself-he cannot be my disciple," it seemed to him that he ought temple.

11. When he saw professors on their dying bods street who will believe that. with the pipe on the table beside them, the thought ate us from the love of the pipe. Is there no other Saviour, and must I die a smoker P

12. When he read of the millions of dollars expended by Methodists in the States on Tobacco, he was astonished and felt the righteous force of the affectionate and fervent appeal to abandon its use and devote that amount to the cause of God in this their

13. As it appeared evidently to be now the duty of the Church to set up a standard of total abstinence against the floods of intemperance, which is annually destroying its hundreds of thousands, it also appeared to him, to be the duty of the Church now that smokance to set up a like standard against it.

14. That for the Church wholly to abandon both smoking and drinking and setting an example of total abstinence to the world, it seemed to him that it of a more general outpouring of the Spirit of God, and hasten the latter day of glory.

15. Often when smoking he would ask himself, "If Victoria were here now could I smoke in her presence? and is not a greater than England's Queen | Some travel o'er the world for sordid pelf, here, and shall I respect her more than the King of

16. Then when he smelt his own smoky breath when at his devotions-he wondered if God would accept the incense of tobacco. 17. That " if it be as hard (he would say) for the drunkard to give up drinking as it is for me to give up smoking then I should have more feeling for the poor drunkard"-and now he asked, can I consistently advocate total abstinence from drinking while I Those who, like thee, my fr end, uprear the cross am intemperate in smoking? After duly weighing all these facts and arguments

he determined to try if he could not abandon the pips. When the appetite would cry for " the pipeand nearer communion with God and his Church. There is nothing like trying .- Dr. Chalmers. And now he says to all, "If I have conquered, so may you, only try and rely upon Divine strength, Good Manness.-A c vil respectful way of treat-

LESSONS FROM THE ANTI-It was a great event, when a new ding was erected in our village. As its timbers were being hewed and placed in position, many inquired what it was for. The delight of the boys knew no bounds when informed that it was to be a blacksmith's s'iop, and that it was to be occupied by a living, blowing.

and striking blacksmith, as soon as it was finished. The shell of a building was put up in a few lays, the forge was built, and the bellows put in place. The fire was kindled, and the blacksmith, with his leather apron and bare, brawny arms, began his work. The boys gathered around him in sile it admiration, as the red iron was laid on the anvi and hammered into the shape desired.

It happened that as the glowing iron was placed on the anvil with one hand, and the hammer was uplifted by the other, something in the street arrested his attention, and he stood in that peculiar attitude for some little time. When about to bring down the he mmer, he saw that the iron had cooled, and seeds' to be placed again in the forge. He placed it at. the coals, and commenced blowing. One of the boys, anxious for the honor of speaking to the blacksmith, said to him, "That heat was lost!" The blacksmith

"Strike while the fron is hot !" said another boy. "What is the meaning of that saying?" said u.e.

"It means that you should strike before he iron gets cold, or you will be obliged to heat it over again," " It means that you should do things at the right time. In regard to many things, if you don't do them at the right time, you can't do them at all. If you don't improve your minds when you are young. you can never improve them. You can't graw young again, as I can heat the leon again. You must learn to love and serve God while your hearts are tender. They grow harder every day, and you ean't soften them when you oboose."

The iron had new become thoroughly heated, and when placed on the anvil, and struck with the hammer, brilliant scintillations were thrown in every direction. Some of the boys ran out of the abop for fear of being hursell.

"What makes the sparks fly off to?" said one of the boys, who had a habit of asking questions-someimes when he wanted to know, and songetones when

" Because the iron was very bot. If you with to become a brilliant man, you must have your heart very warm with the love of God and of your fellow-

A CANNON BALL IN THE HAT.

An annonymous wrise, generally supposed to be the Rev. Henry Ward Seether, after describing how, when a boy, he cto's a cannon ball from the Navy 7. That as in drinking so in smoking, it was almost Yand at Charles's we, Mass, and with much treplication and more headache, carried it a cay in that uni-8. It might be justifiable like fiquor when used following reflections—reflections which, though philesophically trite, are in this means: conveyed with much force and freshness :

"When I reached home, I had no hing to do with harm in another; and generally ended in a habitus! my shot. I did not dare to show it in the house, nor life-long indulgence, and in some cases shortened that | tell where I got it, and after one or . a solitary rolls, I gave it away on the same day to a Prince-streeter.

"But after all, that aix-pounder; olied a good deal "smoking," he often observed that smokers would of sense into my skull. I think it was the last thing that I ever stole (exceptio," a little matter of a heart, feel annoyed, and justify themselves in the practice, now and then), and it gave me a co-ion of the folly of and so smoke on in spite of all the arguments against coveting more than you can enjoy, which has made my whole life happier. It was rat ser a severa mode 10. That when he read in the Bible, " Except a of catechizing, but ethics rubbed in with a sixpounder shot are better than none at all.

"But I see men doing the same thing-going into to deny himself of the pipe, and when he read- underground and dirty waults, and gathering up Your bodies are the temple of God-defile not the wealth which will, when got, roll around their heads temple, &c., he feared that the pipe might defile that like a ball, and be not a whit softer because it is gold lostead of iron, though there is not a man in Wall

The Royal Insurance Company is one of the largest At the Annual Meeting held in August 1859, the following highly satisfactory results were shown:

FIRE DEPARTMENT. The most gratifying proof of the expansion of the business is exhibited in the one following fact—that the increase alone of the last three years exceeds the entire business of some of the existing and of many of the recently defunct are insurance companies of this kingdom. The Premiums for the year 1855 being £180,060 While the Premiums for the year 1558 are 196,148 Showing an actual increase of 66,088 or upwards of 50 per cent, in three years.

The recent returns of duty made by Government for this latter year (1858) again show the "Royal" as more than maintaining the ratio of its increase as stated in former years. Only one among the London insurance offices exhibits an advance to the extent of one-half the increase of the Company, while all the others respectively fall far short of the mo ety of its advance. LIFE DEPARTMENT. The amount of new Life Premiums received this year is commencement of the business, and must far exceed the werage of amount received by the most successful offices in the kir gdom. The number of policies issued in the year was 832, the sum assured £387,752 6s. 8d., and the premium £12,854 8s. 4d. These figures show a very rapid extension Years. No. of Policies. Sums Assured. JAMES WILLIAMS, East side Simonds' Street, Portland CAUTION! CAUTION! CAUTION! THE Proprietor of PICKSTONE'S WASHING AND CLEANSING CRYSTAL, deems it his duty to caution the public against spurious imitations of his highly celebrated Washing Crystal, which is the most harmless compound extant. It is free from Lime, Vitriol, and all other deadly mixtures so common to be found amongst ber Coats, warranted not to crack or stick; Rubber Dress washing compounds. Try Pickstone's Washing Crystal, Shields, Nipples and Stationers' Gum; Rubber Driving if you want ease, comfort, and economy in washing, which washes every thing, and has rapid sale. It will be found invaluable for the following domestic purposes, viz.:—It washes all fine things, such as Muslin Lace, Crotchet Work, Baby Linen, &c.; cleaning Sponges.

by dissolving a teaspnonful of the Crystal in a quarter of a pint of water; and for cleansing the Mouth, Teeth, and Gums, it is quite a luxury, by adding a teaspoonful to a tumbler of water. It renders linen beautifully white, and unlike other preparations, at the same time preserves the fabric. It contains nothing injurious to life. A child eating it by mistake, will not be injured. If you have not used this Cleansing Crystal, lose no ING, and CLOTH DRESSING business, at the old stand, time in obtaining it. Nothing has ever been introduced snown as Humphrey's Mills; that they have two Fulling | into this country which has effected such a wonderful Mills in operation, and having had long experience in the | change upon Washing Days. It saves your time-saves your clothes-saves your money; and it does not injure the most delicate hands, Pickstone's Cleansing Crystal makes washing a pleasure, reduces the cost of fuel, the wear and tear of labor, and improves every article washed. For Linens, and heavy washes, it cannot be surpassed; for Laces, and fine fabries, it is unequalled. It does not injure the color of Prints, but strengthens and improves them -- by its use they retain their original brilliancy. Flan-

it immediately removes all condensed perspiration from the skin. A small quantity should also be used in the foot pan. It forms a cooling and cleansing wash for the head, on a Washing Day, with Pickstone's Cleansing Crystal. Agents for Saint John: JOHN ARMSTRONG & CO. EAGLE IRON FOUNDRY, STEAM ENGINE and MACHINE SHOP, Albion and Saint David Streets, St. John, N. B.
