

THE OLD YEAR AND THE NEW.

Believing it may be useful to be reminded of our past delinquencies, and of our obligations in the future, the writer has been impressed to give this little beart has been blessed by them, it will ever give him pleasure that he has done so.

Adieu, old year ! with all thy cares and woes ! While thousands, sorrowing, lament thy close ! Welcome the new I with gratitude and praise To Him whose mercy lengthens out our days.

Back o'er the past, as here we stand and view The devious paths our feet have travelled through, Porgiveness of the wrong may we implore, And firm resolve that we will sin no more.

Have we to any spoken a harsh word, By which the unhallowed passions we have stirred The indiscretion may we ne'er repeat, But kindly look or speak to all we meet.

Have we to any an injustice done, By word or deed ! May we the wrong atone By making RESTITUTION-if we can,-According to the heavenly Teacher's plan.

Have we sought wealth by some unrighteous means, Thinking by some false guise our guilt to screen ? Let us reflect that God the motive saw, And branded us the breakers of His law.

Have we been blessed with plenty in our store, And turned the hungry empty from our door ? Let us remember He cognizance took, And noted the " oxission " in His book.

Have we spent time and means to pamper pride, While conscience for the sin did often chide ? May we the folly of such conduct see, And in the future each more humble be,

Have any suffered 'neath the world's cold scorn, And wished, like Job, we never had been born ? May it His friendship teach us to secure, Whose love, undying, ever shall endure.

Have we been called the loss of friends to mourn, Who have from our embrace by death been torn ? May it remind us we are mortal, too-That we should ever live with death in view,

Have we not trained the young with proper care. And sought to guard them 'gainst each sinful snare ? May we more faithful be in future days, To guide their tender feet in wisdom's ways.

Whatever duty we have left undone, In THE OLD YEAR-which now its course has run

"All the crimes on earth," says Lord Bacon, " do not destroy so many of the human race, nor alienate so much properly as drunkenness."

Drunkenness expels reason-drowns the memory -defaces beauty-diminishes strength-inflames the blood-causes internal, external, and incurable wounds-is a witch to the senses, a devil to the soul, poem to the world. If any of its readers shall be a thief to the purse-the beggar's companion, the half as much benefitted by its sentiments as his own wife's woe, and children's sorrow-makes a strong man weak, and a wise man a fool. He is worse than a beast, and is a self-murderer, who drinks to others' good health, and robs himself of his own. He is worse than a beast, for no animal will designedly intoxicate itself ; but a drunkard swallows his liquor. well-knowing the condition to which it will reduce him, and that these draughts will deprive him of the use of his reason, and render him worse than a beast, By the effects of liquor his evil passions and tempers are freed from restraint ; and, while in a state of intaxication, he commits actions, which, when sober, he would have shuddered to have thought of. Many an evil deed has been done, many a murder has been committed, when those who did these things were in> toxicated. Tremble then, if ever you touch the intoxicating draught. Reflect, before you put the cup to your lips. Remember that you are forming a habit which will lead to the commission of every crime to which the propensities of your nature, rendered violent by indulgence, can urge you. Before you are aware, you may find yourself awakening from a fit of infoxication, guilty of offences against the laws of your country which will draw down just vengeance upon your head; abhorring yourself, and an abhorrence in the sight of heaven.

Drunkenness, persisted in, will assuredly destroy your soul, and consign you to everlasting misery. Hear what the word of God declares.

"Awake ye drunkards and weep."-Joel 1 : 5. "Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contention ? who hath wounds without cause ? They that tarry long at the wine, they that go to seek mixed wine. Look not upon the wine; at the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder."-Prov. 28 : 29-32.

"Woe unto them that rise up in the morning, that they may follow strong drink ; that continue until night, till wine inflame them. - Isa. 5 : 11.

"Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink."-Isa. 5:22.

"The works of the flesh are manifest, which are these : uncleanness, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like ; of the which I tell you, that they which do such things, shall not inherit the kingdom of God."-Gal. 5: 19, 21.

These are awful declarations, and they will certainly be fulfilled upon him who continues to delight in

The recent returns of duty made by Government for this atter year (1858) again show the "Royal" as more than aintaining the ratio of its increase as stated in former years. Only one among the London insurance offices exhibits an advance to the extent of one-half the increase of the Company, while all the others respectively fall far short of the lety of its advance.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

The amount of new Life Premiums received this year is of far the largest received in any similar period since the commencement of the business, and must far exceed the average of amount received by the most successful offices n the kingdom. The number of policies issued in the year was 822, the sum assured £387,752 6s. 8d., and the premiu £12,354 3s. 4d. These figures show a very rapid extension f business during the last ten years. CAUTION! CAUTION! CAUTION ! THE Proprietor of PICKSTONE'S WASHING AND CLEANSING CRYSTAL, deems it his duty to caution the public against spurious imitations of his highly celebrated Washing Crystal, which is the most harmless compound extant. It is free from Lime, Vitriol, and all other deadly mixtures so common to be found amongst washing compounds. Try Pickstone's Washing Crystal, if you want case, comfort, and economy in washing, which washes every thing, and has rapid sale. It will be found invaluable for the following domestic purposes, viz :- It washes all fine things, such as Muslin ince, Crotchet Work, Baby Linen, &c.; cleaning Sponges, Combs, and Brushes; removing stains from the bands, and grease from Carpets, Cloth, Flannel, &c. It makes flard Nater Soft, and may be used with good effect in Baths, as t immediately removes all condensed perspiration from the skin. A small quantity should also be used in the foot pan. It forms a cooling and cleansing wash for the head, y dissolving a teasphonful of the Crystal in a quarter of a pint of water ; and for cleansing the Mouth, Teeth, and Guins, it is quite a luxury, by adding a teaspoonful to a trambler of water. It renders linen beautifully white, and unlike other preparations, at the same time preserves the fabric. It contains nothing injurious to life. A child eat-

THE REWARDS OF DRUNKENNESS.

We have just read a little tract which puts these words in a very impressive aspect. The paragraphs. are short, but full of point and force. Here is the argument as drawn out by the author of the tract. We commend it to the prayerful reflection of our readers. He says :--
