LORD JESUS! I BELONG TO THEE. "O Lord truly I am thy servant; I am thy servant" (Ps. exvi. 18.) "I am thine" (Ps. cxix. 94.)

Lord, from the depths to thee I cry; To thee I lift my tear-fill'd eye; My Saviour let me feel thee nigh ; Lord Jesus! I belong to thee.

No home have I in this wild waste, O'er which with trembling steps I haste, The joys at thy right hand to taste. Lord Jesus! I belong to thee.

Yes, wholly thine; for thou hast paid The claims which justice on me made; To buy my life thine low was laid. Lord Jesus! I belong to thee.

O then, be thou each hour my guide ; Ne'er let my faithless footsteps slide : But keep me by thy wounded side. Lord Jesus! I belong to thee.

In dark temptation's trial-hour, When Satan bends his utmost power, My Saviour! be my refuge tower. Lord Jesus! I belong to thee.

And if in grief tears fast should fall, And gathering woes the soul appal, May this sweet thought full peace recall : Lord Jesus! I belong to thee.

And should at length life's pulses fail, And weary feet tread death's dim vale, Breathe to my heart thine oft-told tale, And whisper, "I BELONG TO THEE."

What God says in the Bible of evil company, swearing, strong drink, revelling, &c.

1 .- Of Evil Company. Go not in the way of evil men. (Prov. iv. 14.) If sinners entice thee, consent thou not. (Prov. i. 10.) Evil communica. man so drunk that he could not stand alone. tions corrupt good manners. (1. Cor. xv. 36.) Come out from among them, and be ye separate. (2 Cor. vi. 17.) A companion of fools shall be destroyed. (Pro. xili. 20.)

2. - Of Swearing. Swear not at all. (Matt. v. 34.) Above all things, swear not. (James v. 12.) Because of swearing the land mourneth. (Jer. xxiii. assembly, and as soon as order was restored, Mr. 10.) As he loved cursing, so let it come unto him. (Ps. cix. 17.)

3 .- Of Strong Drink. Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine and strong drink! (Is. v. 22.) Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging. Look not upon it-it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder. (Prov. xx. 1; xxiii. 31, 32.

4. - Of Revelling, &c. The works of the flesh are manifest, which are these: Adultery, uncleanness, witchcraft, wrath, strife, drunkenness, revellings, and such like; they which do such things shall not inher- | still." it the kingdom of God. (Gal. v. 19, 20, 21.)

Reader, you know there is a God. His eye is upon you; his ear is open to all you say. His dreadful wrath is revealed against all ungodliness of men. Hunt. (Rom. i. 18.) Stop! Take not another step in the downward road to death and hell. Shun it. Turn and repent, that through the blood of the Lamb of God you may be pardoned and live for ever.

RULES OF CONDUCT. 1st .- Do nothing of which you doubt, in any degree, the lawfulness.

2d .- Consider everything as unlawful which indisposes you for prayer, and interrupts communion with 3d.-Never go into any company, business, or situation, in which you cannot conscientiously ask and accept the Divine Presence. Before engaging in anything doubtful, consider, -1st .- Is it lawful? May I do it and not sin?

2d .- Is it becoming a Christian? May I do it, and not disgrace my profession?

3d .- Is it expedient? May I do it, and not wound the conscience of a weak brother? Go to no place where you cannot ask God to go

Engage in no business which you cannot ask God to bless.

Indulge in no pleasure for which you cannot on your knees return thanks to God. When alone, guard your thoughts.

When in the family, guard your temper. When in company guard your words.

It was to to think; that is, to be considerate in regard to the bearings and consequences of what he did. Hence he often, without any bad motives, did things which were annoying to those around him, and made his presence much less welcome than it had otherwise been.

On the present occasion, Henry was sitting with "jack stones." Of course, these bits of iron, as they struck each other, gave out a sharp, clinking sound.

Henry at once ceased making this noise when he heard his father's words, and sat conversing with his little friends, in a low tone of voice. But gradually the impression of his father's command faded from his recollection. Soon, without any intention whatever to annoy his mother, or disobey his father, the clinking sound went up to the sick chamber as before. A moment after, Henry's father appeared. He dismissed the other boys to their homes, then, taking Henry by the hand, led him into an apartment where they were entirely alone.

"Henry," said he, "did you designedly disobey me, by making that noise again after I had forbidden

"No, father," said Henry, "I did not. When you spoke, I laid my jack-stones at once aside, and they began to go again when I was talking, and only because I did not think. I did not mean to disobey

"I fully believe you, my son. But I wish to impress your mind now with this idea, that a failure to think is not a good excuse for doing what we ought not to do, or for not doing what we ought to do. God has given us thinking faculties. Every one is bound to use those faculties. That we fail to think is no excuse which either God or man can accept. No human law would accept it. Should you light a match and unthinkingly throw it where it set fire to your neighbor's house, the law would require you to pay the damages. Multitudes of sinners die in impenitence, and perish forever in hell because 'they will not consider.' Now, my boy, try to remember hereafter that it is your duty to think; to consider the uature, and quality, and probable consequences of part from them to go on a journey, and speak to them your actions. TEMPERANCE ANECDOTE.

A small temperance society had been started in a community very much under the control of a rich distiller; commonly called "Bill Myers." This man had several sons who had become drunkards on the facilities afforded by their education at home. The whole family was arrayed against the movement and threatened to break up any meeting called to promote the object. Learning this, Mr. Hunt went to a neighboring district for volunteers for that particular occa- OLIVE of nov 9. sion. He then gave out word for a meeting, and at the time found his friends and enemies about equal in numbers. This fact prevented any outbreak, but could not prevent noise.

Mr. Hunt mounted the platform, and by a few noise except the sturdy "Bill Myers," the old Dutchman crying out "Mishter Hunt, money makes the mare go." To every shot that seemed ready to demolish him, the old fellow presented the one shield,

"Mishter Hunt, money makes the mare go." At last Mr. Hunt stopped and addressed the imperturable German: "Look here, Bill Myers, you say that money makes the mare go, do you 2"

"Yes, dat ish just what I say, Mr. Hunt." "Well, Bill Myers, you own and work a distillery, don't you ?" inquired Mr. Hunt.

"Dat is none of your business, Mishter Hunt. But den I'sh not ashamed of it. I has got a still, and

"And you say, 'Money makes the mare go;' do you mean that I have come here to get the money of Skirts these people?"

"Yes, Mishter Hunt, dat is just what I mean." "Very well; you work a distillery to make money, and I lecture on temperance to make money; and as you say 'Money makes the mare go,' Bill Myers, bring out your mare, and I'll bring out mine, and we'll show them together."

By this time the whole assembly was in a titter of for Goods. delight; and even Myers' followers could not suppress their merriment at the evident embarrassment of their oracle. In the meantime we must premise that Mr. Hunt knew a large number of the drunkards present, and among them the sons of Myers himself.

"Bill Myers, who is that holding himself up by that tree?" inquired Mr. Hunt, pointing to a young

The old man started, as if stung by an adder, but was obliged to reply: "Dat ish my son; but what of dat, Mishter Went?"

"Good deal or that, Bill Myers; for I guess that son has been riding your mare, and got thrown too!" Here there was a perfect roar from all parts of the Lead; 1 cask Sulphur Vivum. Hunt proceeded, as he pointed to another son :

"Bill Myers, who is that staggering about as if his legs were as weak as potato vines after a frost?" "Well, I suppose dat is my son, too," replied the old man with a crest-fallen look.

"He has been riding your mare, too, and got a At this point the old man put up both hands in a most imploring manner, and exclaimed: " Now, Cloves; 160 ozs. Nitrate Silver. Mishter Hunt, if you won't say any more, I will be This announcement was received with a roar of applause and laughter, and from that moment Mr. Hunt had all the ground to himself. - The late Rev. T. P.

THE DISCONTENTED GIRLS.

Mary Millar went out to take a walk in the fields, one Saturday afternoon. She had been to school all the week, and she was very glad to have a nice ramble. She soon left the dusty road, and roamed about on the hills. Sometimes she watched the brook, and listened to the singing of the birds. which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay all pain and spasmodic action, and is SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS. Dependupon it mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS. We have put up and sold this article for years, and can say, in confidence and truth of it, -NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter " what we do know," after thirty years' experience and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is ad-

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS AND WIND OHO LIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily re medied, end in death. We believe it the best and sures remedy in the world in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhea in Children, whether it arises from teething er from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints, Do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, CAUTION! CAUTION! CAUTION! THE Proprietor of PICKSTONE'S WASHING AND CLEANSING CRYSTAL, deems it his duty to caution the public against spurious imitations of his highly celebrated Washing Crystal, which is the most harmless compound extant. It is free from Lime, Vitriol, and all other deadly mixtures so common to be found amongst washing compounds. Try Pickstone's Washing Crystal, if you want ease, comfort, and economy in washing, which washes every thing, and has rapid sale.

It will be found invaluable for the following domestic purposes, viz.:—It washes all fine things, such as Muslin Lace, Crotchet Work, Baby Linen, &c,; cleaning Sponges, Combs, and Brushes; removing stains from the hands, and grease from Carpets, Cloth, Flannel, &c. It makes Hard Water Soft, and may be used with good effect in Baths, as it immediately removes all condensed perspiration from the skin. A small quantity should also be used in the foot pan. It forms a cooling and cleansing wash for the head, by dissolving a teasphonful of the Crystal in a quarter of a pint of water; and for cleansing the Mouth, Teeth, and Gums, it is quite a luxury, by adding a teaspoonful to a tumbler of water. It renders linen beautifully white, and unlike other preparations, at the same time preserves the fabric. It contains nothing injurious to life. A child eating it by mistake, will not be injured.

time in obtaining it. Nothing has ever been introduced into this country which has effected such a wonderful change upon Washing Days. It saves your time-saves your clothes-saves your money; and it does not injure the most delicate hands. Pickstone's Cleansing Crystal makes washing a pleasure, reduces the cost of fuel, the wear and tear of labor, and improves every article washed. For Linens, and heavy washes, it cannot be surpassed; for Laces, and fine fabrics, it is unequalled. It does not injure the color of Prints, but strengthens and improves them--by its use they retain their original brilliancy. Flannels become white and soft like new. White things are much improved, and keep their color, even if put by for months. Thousands of Families made happy! No misery on a Washing Day, with Pickstone's Cleansing Crystal.
