GOD ON THE OCEAN.

We were crowded in the cabin ; Not a soul did dare to sleep ; It was midnight on the waters, And a storm was on the deep.

'Tis a fearful thing in winter To be shattered in the blast, And to hear the rattling trumpet Thunder, "Cut away the mast !"

So we shuddered there in silence, For the stoutest held his breath, While the hungry sea was roaring, And the breakers talked with death,

As we sadly sat in darkness, Each one busy at his prayers, "We are lost !" the captain shouted, As he staggered down the stairs.

But his little daughter whispered, As she took his icy hand, "Is not God upon the ocean, Just the same as on the land ?"

Then we kissed the little maiden, And we spoke in better cheer ; And we anchored safe in the harbor When the morn was shining clear.

end is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two-edged sword. Her feet go down to death, her steps take hold on hell." "Keep thee from the evil woman, from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman. Lust not after her beauty in thy heart, neither let her take thee with here yelids : for by means of a whorish woman a man is brought to a piece of bread ; and the adulteress will hunt for the precious life. Can a man take fire in his bosom, and his clothes not be burned ? Can one go upon hot coals, and his feet not be burned ? So is he that goeth in to his neighbour's wife; whoseever toucheth her shall not be innocent."

"But whose committeth adultery with a woman lacketh understanding : he that doeth it destroyeth his own soul."

"For at the window of my house I looked through the casement, and beheld among the simple ones, I discerned among the youths a young man void of unstanding; and he went the way to her house, in the twilight, in the evening, in the black and dark night: and behold, there met him a woman with the attire of a harlot, and subtle of heart. So she caught him, and kissed him, and with an impudent face said unto him, I have decked my bed with coverings of tapestry, with carved works, with fine linen of Egypt. I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon. Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning : let us solace ourselves with loves." " With her much fair speech she causeth him to yield, with the flattery of her lips she forced him. He goeth after her straightway, as an ox goeth to the slaughter, or as a fool to the correction of the stocks; till a dart strike through his liver ; as a bird hasteth to the snare, and knoweth not that it is for his life. Heark. en unto me now therefore, ye children, and attend to the words of my mouth. Let not thy heart decline to her ways, go not astray in her paths. For she hath cast down many wounded : yea, many strong men have been slain by her. Her house is the way to hell, going down to the chambers of death." "Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither." "She saith to him, Stolen waters are sweet, and bread eaten in secret is pleasant. But he knoweth not that the dead are there, and that her guests are in the depths of hell."

we find the same awful denunciations against those who violate this Commandment. "Out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications ; these are the things which defile a man." "Be not deceived ; neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind, shall inherit the kingdom of God." "Whoremongers and adulterers God will judge." "Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God ; neither fornicators, nor adulterers ?"

Moreover, there is no sin more generally punished in this life than this. According to the Jewish laws, which were based upon this Commandment, all that handed down as such till the end of time.

But this, like the other commandments, is broken every day in thought and desire. The Saviour has taught us that it does not require the actual crime of adultery to make us guilty before God of breaking this Commandment; for he says, "Whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart." And here, my dear children, is where the crime begins. Indulging unholy and impure desires leads to the commission of unholy and impure actions. We have one noble example recorded in the Bible. which the young should fix in their minds, and never forget. It is the case of Joseph. When he was tempted by that base woman Potiphar's wife, he said, "How can I do this great wickedness, and sin against God !" And he fled from her, and left his garment in her hands. And although he seemed to suffer for like the letting out of water. Vile habits and prachis virtue for a time, yet God abundantly rewarded him in the end. If he had been in the habit of indulging vile thoughts previously, he might have committed this sin, and God would never have conferred on him the high honors he did. Base and licentious and words. When any temptation arises, call to mind thoughts lead to the lowest and basest conduct, and prepare the way for the total destruction of both life and character. I have no doubt but there are thous- think not, the Son of man cometh." Would you be ands of our youth that are brought to an untimely | willing to die and pass into the presence of God with grave, as well as an awful hell, every year, by indulging in unholy practices. The more you indulge them, the stronger those habits become, till all pow- knowing at what moment you may drop into eternity ? er to resist evil desires is gone, and you are driven before these base passions of your lower nature like guish for a moment of unholy gratification ? Liberchaff before the wind. I do beseech every child and youth to put all vile thoughts and desires out of their minds and hearts. Let them never be admitted there, or they will fast become so deep-rooted as to pirations. Oh shun the very entrance into the path lead you into some outward violation of this Commandment,

Poverty, disgrace, and death have been brought on men and women in their worst forms by this sin. The Rev. John Owen, in a sermon to the young, after adverting to the peaceful death of a little girl, mentions, by way of contrast, the awful end of a youth who had been seduced from the paths of virtue by wicked associates. "Scarcely," says he, "had the turf been spread over the mortal remains of this young disciple, when the ground was opened to receive another of our youth, who-awful to relatedestroyed his life with his own hand. This deluded youth had received the benefit of a Christian education, and like the happy subject who preceded him into eternity, had been carefully instructed in the house of God on matters which concerned his salvation. But he fell into the snare of evil company, and became a licentious profligate. Disease and disgrace followed. Without any religious hope, he yielded to the temptations of the destroyer, and completed the measure of his sin and disgrace by taking his own life. Behold then this victim to his youthful lusts cruelly mangled by his own violence, and weltering in awful publicity in the stream of blood which his own suicidal hand had spilled."

If we could get a history of all the sufferings, mur-would be the blackest pages in the world's history.

that a troop of boys or girls that you saw in the street had the small-pox or yellow fever, you would not go near them; and I tell you that neither is half so dangerous as a vulgar-tongued boy or girl. Those diseases might take you to the grave ; and thus, if yeu were a christian, they would take you to heaven.

But if you join the company and learn the vile language of vile persons, it will lead you to indulge in vile habits and practices, which, if they do not acta-to hell, where no desires are gratified. One of the most beautiful women that I ever saw, though sunk to the very lowest depths of degradation, when she was making an earnest effort to reform her life, said the first fatal step she made towards ruin was in listening to the conversation of some low, vulgar children. Her curiosity was awakened to know what they were talking about; and the lesson she learned there had brought her into her present state of degradation. If the history of all the youth whose ruin has been brought about the same way were written ing polluted by it.

out, the world itself could not contain the books.

This is an illustration of the fearful truth, "The wages of sin is death." The world is full of such awful occurrences, brought about by a violation of this law. If all the records of murder trials in our land were searched for the past fifty years, it would be appalling to find how many were in some way connected, either directly or indirectly, with the violation of passions that ever found place in the human heart, and nothing but blood can satisfy it.

From false modesty or the refinement of the age, this awful sin is too seldom touched on either by the pulpit or the press, while it is piling up hecatombs on earth, and crowding hell with its degraded victims, perhaps to a greater extent than any other crime in our land.

Conscience will not let me conclude without hinting at another breach of this Commandment-the sin of seduction. I have known young men who have made a boast of their success in this soul-damning practice. I should respect a young man more to hear Ready Relief. him boast how many horses he had stolen. That young man who can seduce and deceive a young female, and leave her in disgrace, has a heart black enough to become a pirate on the high seas ; and if public sentiment was not at fault on this subject, he would be driven from all respectable society, and kept in confinement. I have marked with care for nearly forty years all the seducers with whom I have been acquainted-and they have not been few-and I know of no case that has not been punished by the hand of God in some form or other : sometimes by severe dis-And when we come down to the New Testament, ease; at other times by loss of property and disappointment in business; but in more than half the cases they have been paid in their own coin-by the vices and ruin of their own children.

I beseech young men to consider this. God will not suffer the guilty to go unpunished. "Vengeance is mine; I will repay," saith the Lord. Sins committed against the rights of our fellow-men are usually puished in part in this life. The man that destroys the character of a female, and makes shipwreck of

Let every one obey the divine injunction, "Flee youthful lusts." Banish from your mind all unclean thoughts and desires; let them have no place there; for rest assured that every one you harbor will breed a thousand more, till the vile herd will drive you, like the swine possessed with devils, down into the raging violated it were stoned to death. David was severely sea of God's wrath, where the billows of fire will roll punished for his sin with the wife of Uriah, and it over you to all eternity. Shun all company and all has remained as a blot on his character, and will be places where you are likely to be exposed to temptation, as you would a den of midnight assassins. This I require to restore my system to order and regularity. is your only security :--How shall the young preserve their way From all pollution free? By making still their course of life With thy commands agree." My young friends, remember the word all. The ous McCheyne of Scotland remarks, " Eve, Achan, and David all fell through the lust of the eye;" and we need to be constantly using the prayer, " Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity." Satan stops the ears of sinners against the gospel ; and it is only by earnest prayer to God for the Holy Spirit, that they can be opened to receive it. Heaven is a holy place, and all there are holy. Their work is holy work, their joy is holy joy ; and an unholy man or woman can never enter there. Let it ever be borne in mind that 7th.—To all who are sick and in pain, use the RELIEF. It can do no harm, and will surely do good. Persons who are weak, nervous, and debilitated a teaspoorful of the Keady Rehef, in a wine-glass of water, will do you more good than all the Bitters in the world; keep your stomach clean and healthy, your breath sweet, your nerves strong, your spirits happy, your appetite good, and your digestion regular. A dose taken at bedtime will insure calm and pleasant sleep. This Remedy is truly a Family Medicine. It can be used with the positive assurance of doing good in all cases where pain or uneasiness exists.

It is the cheapest medicine in the world. One fifty cent bottle contains more medicine, as well as being a superior mrdicine, than one dollar's worth of the ordinary painkillers, liniments, &c., of the day. One fifty-cent bottle of Radway's Ready Relief will do more good, and can be used for more purposes, than ten dollars expended for any other medicine in use.

And as evil communications corrupt good man- iny wicked desires, and lost my soul."

"Those holy gates for ever bar Pollution, sin, and shame ;'

and always remember that the beginning of evil is tices once indulged are difficult to control. The lesson we wish to impress on your minds, if possible, is that you must guard both body and mind from all things forbidden in this Commandmentfrom all immodest conduct and all vulgar thoughts the noble reply of Joseph, "How can I do this great a mind polluted with unholy desires, and a body degraded by the effects of vice ? How dare you then indulge either body or mind in such debasing sins, not Who but a madman would risk an eternity of antines and sensualists are the very madmen that do it. Their motto is, A moment of joy at the risk of an eternity of sorrow ; please the flesh, and lose the soul ; gratify the basest desires, and crush the noblest asof sin. "Avoid it, pass not by it, turn from it, and pass away; otherwise you may at last have to say, in the language of a dying youth, 'I have obtained

Offices in the kingdom. At the Annual Meeting held in August 1859, the following highly satisfactory results were shown :--FIRE DEPARTMENT. The most gratifying proof of the expansion of the busi-ness is exhibited in the one following fact-that the increase alone of the last three years exceeds the entire business of some of the existing and of many of the recently defunct tire insurance companies of this kingdom. The Premiums for the year 1855 being......£130,060 While the Premiums for the year 1558 are... 196,148 or upwards of 50 per cent. in three years. The recent returns of duty made by Government for this atter year (1858) again show the "Royal" as more than maintaining the ratio of its increase as stated in former years. Only one among the London insurance offices exhibits an advance to the extent of one-half the increase of the Company, while all the others respectively fall far short of the moiety of its advance. LIFE DEPARTMENT. The amount of new Life Premiums received this year is by far the largest received in any similar period since the commencement of the business, and must far exceed the average of amount received by the most successful offices the noble reply of Joseph, "How can I do this great wickedness, and sin against God!" The Saviour saith, "Be ye also ready; for in such an hour as ye of business during the last ten years. Thus :-Years. No. of Policies. Sums Assured. New Premiums. .. 98 £48,784 17 0 £1,880 9 1 95,650 9 11 422 181,504 10 6 161,848 18 408 703 297,560 16 887,752 6 8 The remarkable ncrease in the business of the last four years is mainly consequent upon the large bonus declared in 1855, which amounted to no less than 22 per cent. per annum on the sums assured, and averaged 80 per cent. upon the premiums paid.
