the imported article no duty levied upon it. Flax cultivation, too, is being developed, and with flax cultivation the manufacture of oil, bagging, sheeting, &c., all of which is a perfectly natural outgrowth from the soil.

The export of square timber this season has been, for the most part, very satisfactory, both to the manufacturers and merchants. The Ottawa lumberers are understood to have added very considerably to their capital, and the manufacturers from the Lake Ontario district have done fairly, if not quite so well as they expected at the commencement of the season. The importing trade, as most of our readers know, has been very active during the year; and if it had not been somewhat overdone during the fall, in the dry-goods branch, there would have been nothing but prosperity to chronicle. As it is, forced sales have had to be restorted to, and the profits of the year have been seriously trenched upon thereby.

In speaking of farmers' produce, we omitted to mention the heavy deliveries of pork now taking place. The "crop" promises to be the largest ever known.

TWO THOUSAND DEATHS IN ENGLISH COAL MINES IN TEN YEARS.—A report issued by the select committee of the British Parliament, appointed at the last session to inquire into the operation of the acts for the regulation and inspection of mines, and into the complaints contained in the petitions from miners of Great Britain, gives some interesting facts. According to a return prepared by the Government inspector of South Durham, it appears that the deaths from explosions of fire-damp in Great Britain in the ten years, 1856 to 1866, were 2,016. Out of this number 415 occurred in South Wales, 340 in Yorkshire, 238 in North and East Lancashire, and 126 in South Staffordshire and Worcestershire. The total number of explosions from fire-damp in Great Britain was 237 in 1856, and 337, 215, 82, 363, 119, 190, 163, 94, and 168 successively in the nine following years.

The London Times publishes the following from a correspondent:—

The Delegates from the British North American Provinces, in session for several weeks at the Westminster Palace Hotel, have succeeded in revising the Quebec Scheme so as to secure a unanimous vote of all the Provinces represented—that is to say Upper and Lower Canada, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick. The resolutions passed at Quebec in their revised form have been forwarded to the Earl of Carnarvon for consideration. All the knotty points and difficulties which presented themselves, so far as colonial interests are concerned, have been successfully combatted. Provision is made for enabling the colonies of P. E. Island, Newfoundland, the North-West territory, and British Columbia, to enter the Confederation on equitable terms hereafter. A draft bill based on these resolutions, it is expected will be prepared and submitted to Parliament early in the ensuing season.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION of youth will soon be the order of the day in England. Manchester is moving earnestly in the matter, and England feels that in this age of intelligence and needle-guns, the law of self-preservation requires her not to permit an ignorant, not to say a criminal population to grow up without providing for their education.

THE LIQUOR DEALERS OF LONDON.—The London Directory shows that there are in that city about 4,700 keepers of public houses, not including 300 hotels, taverns or coffee houses of a superior class, which are ranged by themselves, and 100 private hotels not licensed. Of beer retailers there are no less than 1700, of wine merchants an equal number. Even this estimate by no means exhausts the list of those whose business it is to supply London with stimulants more or less gentle. Some 150 brewers are in the list; and then the brewers' agents, the distillers and spirit merchants, the dealers in liquors, cider, and perry, have still to be reckoned. It is probably below the mark to say that 10,000 persons in this Directory are shown to be engaged, wholly or partially, in what teetotalers call "the liquor traffic." Of course this does not include a whole army of brewers' men, draymen, waiters, barmen and barmaids, tapsters, cellarmen, potboys, and hangers on of all sorts, whose interests are bound up in this traffic.

Emigration from Liverpool is on the increase, but not much. During the last year the increase to the United States was 2,337 over that of the previous year. It seems that during 1866 a total of 606 ships, carrying an aggregate of 12,338 passengers, left the Mersey for foreign countries and the colonies. The year of the great exodus was 1852, and the emigration of the last twelve months was only about a third of what then took place.

The New York World says the emigration for the present year will be largely in excess of that of last year. Up to date, over 260,000 emigrants have landed at that port, and the total for the year will probably reach 250,000. The emigration to the Southern ports has been larger this year than usual.

The internal revenue of the United States from July 1st, 1866, to Jan. 12th, 1867, amounted to $175,471,174,90, leaving over $100,000,000 to be collected during the balance of the fiscal year to meet estimates.

During the last nine months of 1866, 236,496, immigrants arrived in the United States from foreign countries.

A VALUABLE LOAD OF BRICKS.—The San Francisco Times of Nov. 29th says: "Quite a crowd of people were collected in front of the Bank of California yesterday, watching the struggles of a powerful team of horses, in their attempts to move a wagon load of silver bricks. The load was so heavy that the wheels sunk into the cobble stones nearly to the hubs. After a long struggle, and the assistance of several of the bystanders, the team started the load, which consisted of about one hundred large silver bricks from the State of Nevada."

ROMANCE OF A YOUNG MAN.—American papers chronicle the brief history of a young man, which graphically illustrates the old adage that "fools and their money are soon parted." The story is as follows:—

In 1864, widow McClintock died from the effects of burns received while kindling a fire with crude oil. At this time the average daily income from the landed interest of her farm was $2000, and by her will the property, with all her possessions in money, was left to her adopted son, John W. Steele, then about 20 years of age. In the iron safe was $150,000, two thirds of the amount in greenbacks, and the balance in gold. Mrs. McClintock was hardly cold in her coffin before young Steele was surrounded by a set of vampires, who clung to him as long as he had a dollar remaining. The young millionaire's head was evidently turned by his good fortune, and he was of the impression that his money would accumulate too rapidly unless it was actually thrown away—and throw it away he did. Many of the stories concerning his career in New York and Philadelphia savor of fiction, and would not be credited were they not so well authenticated. Wine, women, horses, faro, and general debauchery, soon made a wreck of that princely fortune, and in twenty months, Johnny Steele squandered two millions of dollars. Hon. John Morrissey, M. C., "went through" him at faro to the amount of $100,000 in two nights; he bought high priced turnouts, and after driving them an hour or two, gave them away; equipped a large minstrel troupe and presented each member with a diamond pin and ring, and kept about him besides two or three men who were robbing him day after day. He is now filling the honorable position of doorkeeper for Skiff & Gaylord's minstrels, the company he organised, and is, to use a very expressive but not strictly classical phrase, completely "played out."

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

The Irish Militia will be called out this year, as usual, for training; the government being of opinion that there is no danger of disloyalty, and that the men will obey their officers who are above suspicion.

The Globe urges the Conservative statesmen at the head of the Government to sympathize with the prevailing temper of the public mind on the question of reform, and declares that at the end of a fortnight after the meeting of Parliament the character of the Government and its fate will be irrevocably decided.

The London magistrates, finding that the infliction of fines on butchers who send to market meat unfit for human food fails to lessen the evil, are changing their tactics, and they are now sending the offenders to prison without the option of a fine.

The financial policy of Mr. Gladstone seems likely, according to the revenue returns to the end of the year, to leave his successor a surplus of a million and a half or two millions. Will this be applied to a reduction of taxation, or will the bloated armaments which Mr. Disraeli has denounced swallow it up?

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 9.—The universally intense cold of the season has so aggravated the distress of the poor in this city, that it resulted to-day in a bread riot in the streets; but the disturbance was not of a serious character.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—The Emperor Napoleon has issued an important decree. It orders that the address of the Chambers in reply to the speech from the throne shall be continued, and grants to the Legislative body the right of questioning the Government, and proposes that offences of the press be tried in Convictional Courts. That the stamp duty be reduced, and that the right of the people to meet in public be limited only by those regulations necessary for the public safety. The decree concludes by declaring that these reforms will crown the edifice of a state founded on the national will. The members of the Cabinet have tendered their resignation to the Emperor.

TRIESTE, Jan. 20.—Reports from Miamar state that the Empress Carlotta has quite recovered from her severe illness.

PARIS, Jan. 21.—All the members of the Cabinet have tendered their resignations to the Emperor, but six has not yet been accepted. The resignation of M. Fould was among those accepted. M. Rouher remains in the Cabinet and at present will preside over the Finance and State Departments. Geuonilly will take charge of the Naval and Laroquette of the Agricultural department. The rest of the Cabinet is unchanged. A majority of the journals of this city in editorials upon the subject declare the reforms announced by the Emperor as very liberal.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—It is said there is much excitement in Paris over the changes in the Imperial Cabinet and it is thought that they indicate a more warlike policy on the part of the Emperor. The French press applaud the reforms made by Napoleon. It is said that Lord Derby has concluded not to present the Government Reform Bill to Parliament.

AYERS CHERRY PECTORAL

℞ IS a Soothing expectorant prepared to meet the urgent need of a safe and reliable cure for diseases of the throat and lungs. A trial of many years has established the fact, that it is more efficacious in pulmonary affections, than any other remedy. Its efficacy has now become so generally known, that it is justly regarded in many countries as a medicine of indispensable necessity. In Great Britain, France, and Germany, where medical science has reached its highest perfection, it is prescribed in domestic practice, and constantly used in the armies, in hospitals and other public institutions, where it is regarded by the attending physicians as the most speedy and agreeable remedy that can be employed. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found where well known cases of diseased lungs, which had baffled the efforts of the most skilful and experienced doctors, have been prematurely cured by it. These results are the most convincing proofs of the superior curative properties of this preparation; and to them the authors point with peculiar satisfaction. While it is most powerful against confirmed diseases, it is extremely gentle as a medicine in infancy and youth, being quite harmless to even the youngest, when administered judiciously.

This health-restorer accomplishes even more by prevention than cure. If taken in season it heals all irritations of the throat and lungs, whether arising from Colds or Coughs, or from other causes, and thus prevent that long train of painful and incurable diseases, which would arise from the neglect of them. Hence no family should be without it. Influenza, Croup, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough, Pleurisy, Incipient Consumption, and other affections of the breathing organs, give way before this pre-eminent combination of medical virtues.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass. and sold by all Druggists and dealers in medicine everywhere.

SELEE'S HAIR LIFE

RICHLY merits the high praise the people of the Provinces now award it. It has proved superior to all other Hair preparations for restoring Grey Hair to its original colour. It is, also, a splendid Hair Dressing, cleaning the Head so perfectly from Dandruff, Scurf, &c.

It invariably stops the Hair from falling off, and is, decidedly, a Hair Restorer.

The money will be refunded in all cases where a thorough trial of two bottles fails to give entire satisfaction.

Sold by Druggists and other Dealers.

Arrival of Dr. Lewis La'Mert in St. John, N. B.

TO THE NERVOUS AND DEBILITATED. Dr. L. La'Mert, of 37 Bedford Square, London, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons of England; Doctor of Medicine of the University of Rostock, &c., begs to inform his Patients, and others seeking confidential Medical Advice, that he has arrived in St. John, on a Professional visit, and may be consulted on all cases of Nervous and Physical Debility, and Local or Constitutional Weakness, daily, for a limited period only, at 152 St. James' Street, (corner of Wentworth street,) St. John.

The great experience derived by Dr. L. La'Mert both, whilst assisting Dr. Samuel La'Mert, of London, in his extensive Practice, and in the various Hospitals of Continental Europe, affords an ample guarantee, to those seeking advice, of being under the care of a legally-qualified Practitioner. Dr. L. La'Mert's name is to be found in the 'Medical Register,' published under the Authority of the Medical Council of Great Britain, and is, consequently, not to be classed with the names—in many cases assumed—of a horde of adventurers, who, through the public press seek to impose upon the credulous and unwary, by the publication of pretended qualifications and the advocacy of specifics, that are never beneficial, and in most cases positively injurious.

DR. LA'MERT'S Work on "Nervous and Physical Debility, its Causes, Consequences, Treatment and Cure," with an Essay on "The Physiology of Marriage," is intended to enlighten thousands on important subjects, in regard to which they are entirely ignorant, and may be had in St. John, price 50 cents, or free by post for 60 cents, of Messrs. Chubb & Co., Prince Wm. street, or from Dr. La'Mert, who may be consulted daily from 10 till 1, and from 7 till 9.

Consultation fee (either personally or by letter) $5.
