OUR FUTURE.—The New York Scottish American Journal offers the following sensible remarks on the great "question of the day:"—"Our British American friends are, doubtless, commercially more healthy; they have none of the great disturbing causes that operate here, to affect their trade; they suffer from no excessive taxation; they have had a fair harvest; they are inspirited and confident by the near prospect of Union; they have the thorough good will of the Home Government and people; they will be freely encouraged with means to enable them to complete their fortifications; they can reckon on a guarantee for the intercolonial railway loan; they have no disturbing sectional difficulties to harrass their tempers and disturb their minds. They progress slowly, but with sure and steady step; and if they are governed by pure and disinterested men, their future cannot fail to be one of great and enduring prosperity. Avoiding all causes of offence towards the United States, they cannot fail, in their new federated character, to win respect and regard from their powerful neighbour. The year on which we have entered, cannot fail to be the most notable in their history. Whether they look at the Union scheme in its larger and broader aspect or not, it is practically the founding of a new common-wealth which must play for all time a great part in the history of this continent. There ought to be (if the narrow-sighted policy of ultra-protectionists here would permit of it) a free exchange of all the great products of the two countries, as established by the liberal-minded framers of the treaty of 1854. That was a measure which had in it the elements of stability, as to commercial legislation, and of safety in the mutual interests of the two Governments to prevent frauds upon each other. It was essentially a measure of peace; the civil war overturned it, the protective aims and purposes of the high tariff party at Washington will prevent its revival, at least for some time to come; and in the meantime, all that can be done to migitate the evils of a mutually hostile tariff system should be done by concert of executive action in dealing with fraudulent frontier traders. The year will be one which will develop much of the new relations which the two communities are to sustain towards each other, and it should be improved from its opening forward by all good British Americans to remove existing causes of discontent, and to prepare for lasting peace henceforward."

The Halifax Journal says: "An Association has been formed in this city for the visitation and relief of the poor. A meeting for the purpose was held last week, composed of ministers and lay gentlemen of all the Churches—Bishop Binney in the chair—when a constiution was adopted. The city is to be divided into districts, with a committee of visitors to each district. All contributors of $4 or upwards annually, are members of the Association. His Worship the Mayor was chosen President, and Captain Lyttleton Vice-President."

☞ Theodore Tilton, editor of the N. Y. Independent, is on a lecturing tour out West. He writes racy letters to his paper from various points in his journey. Of the rising city of Leavenworth, in Kansas, he says:

What shall I say of Leavenworth? It is a chapter in the book of Western miracles. Twelve years ago, the spot had no human habitation. The Indians hunted over it, and fished by the side of it. To-day it is a solid city of 25,000 souls! It has fine houses, thrifty stores, half a dozen newspapers, two or three theatres, a score of churches, and about three hundred grog-shops—in fact, all the signs of civilization. For aught I know, it has a faro-bank, and is ready to send a prize-fighter to Congress. O nineteenth century! how you rush things.

A SAD STORY.—The report of a Coroner's inquest, brings to light some startling facts connected with the means by which a large class of London work-people strive to get a living. A man named Hone, and his four children, who followed the occupation of artificial flower makers, had an extensive order for wreaths of artificial flowers for one of the Christmas pantomimes. Night and day for ninety-six hours had these poor people stuck to their work so as to have it ready in time: and this the father states, he has been frequently compelled to do, in order to earn bread for his family. At the close of the fourth day their labours were suddenly put a stop to by the upsetting of a candle, which simple accident resulted in the burning to death of one of the unfortunate man's children, and the destruction of the whole fruits of the ninety-six hours' constant work.

SHOCKING OCCURENCE AT A BALL.—During a ball at Farmington, Minnesota, given on a recent Sabbath, on the occasion of the marriage of two Germans, one of the revelers broke through the floor of the temporary dance-hall, and falling into a well was drowned before he could be got out. After various unsuccessful attempts to restore him to life, one of the guests suggested a plan that he had known to bring a man to life in the fatherland. It consisted in burying the subject; so they scooped out a trench, laid the corpse in it, covered him up, except his face, and went on with their hilarious dancing. The musicians not liking the idea of fiddling for a funeral, wanted to go home, but the wedding guests insisted on having all the playing they had paid for, so they went on with the dance, and joy was unconfined till morning, when they went out to see the result of their experiment. The experiment was a failure, and the unfortunate man was probably buried again after the frolic.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

PARIS, Jan. 6.—The Patrie newspaper denies the truth of the widely circulated report that France had asked England for a conference on the Eastern question, and asserts that France has arrived at an agreement with Turkey, such as the preservation of the peace of Europe imperatively demands.

FLORENCE, Jan. 6.—Advices from Rome state that Signor Tornelli has so far progressed in his negotiations with the Papal Government that he is enabled to make a verbal agreement on certain religious points.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The American yachtman, by royal invitation, went to Windsor Castle to-day. The doors of all the London Clubs have been thrown open to the yachtmen, and they are warmly welcomed wherever they appear in this city. Great preparations are being made by the Royal Thames Yacht Club for the banquet which they will give to their brother yachtsmen to-morrow.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 4.—Great interest is felt here in the recent ocean yacht race. The Imperial Yacht Club proposes to extend an invitation to the adventurous yachtsmen to visit Russia.

ROME, Jan. 4.—The Pope in his address to the corps diplomatique on New Year's day, significantly dwelt on the hypocrisy of the pretended friendship

BRUSSELS, Jan. 4.—The effort of Napoleon to form a quadruple alliance has failed. England favors an alliance with Prussia, provided the independence of Belgium is guarrenteed.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—There has been a great snowstorm here. The highways and railroads are blocked up, the snow having drifted badly; vessels have been delayed, the fisheries suspended, and the poor are suffering.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—Despatches received this morning announce the occurence of a terrible earthquake in Algeria. Many villages were destroyed, and a large number of lives were lost.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—A grand demonstration in behalf of Reform is projected for the first Monday of the meeting of Parliament by the presentation of petitions for reform by individuals in person.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Times of this morning says, upon good authority, that Sir Frederick Bruce, the British Minister at Washington, has been instructed to ascertain whether the U. S. Government will submit the Alabama claims to arbitration, provided certain points for arbitration are agreed upon previously.

The Daily News of this morning, in a leading article, denounces the project for a reform demonstration by the presentation of a mass petition.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Reports from Hong Kong state that the French fleet in Corea is about to leave those waters for the winter, without being able to obtain redress from Cochin China.

MANCHESTER, Jan. 8.—The manufacturing interests are dull, and orders limited.

ROME, Jan. 8.—The Italian Ambassador, Tonelli, has finally settled the question. The Papal Cabinet agreeing that the appointment of Bishops hereafter shall be made by the Pope, and receive the sanction of the Emperor and Government of Italy.

UNITED STATES.

AN INDIAN MASSACRE is reported from the great plains, under circumstances which compel us to put more faith in it than such stories usually get. Fort Philip Kearney is a new post just established in the Rocky Mountains, at a point where they are very low, sinking indeed to low hills, such as may be found all over the Eastern States. For some weeks it had been in almost a state of siege, and at length the officers selected a time when the Indians were near by, and marched out with eighty-four men to meet them. The troops were gradually drawn on until at a point four miles from the fort, when they were surrounded and slaughtered. Not a man escaped to tell the story of the disaster. The bodies were stripped of every article of clothing, scalped and mutilated. Thirty bodies were found in a space not larger than a good-sized room. Nearly all the bodies were recovered and buried in the fort. Such is the telegraphic account, and it has been confirmed by official despatches. Other despatches say that twelve tribes have confederated against us, counting 11,000 warriors, which is certainly an exaggeration. The thing which most gives color to these reports is, that the Indians are known to be in a state of hostile feeling, caused by the construction of the Pacific Railroad, which they say will spoil their hunting-grounds. At one of their councils a native sage gave it as his opinion that "you might as well knock an Indian on the head as make a railroad in his land."

A SINGULAR AFFAIR has taken place in New Orleans. A young girl was found murdered under circumstances which seem to prove that that the deed was the work of a robber, and a woman. Nothing was taken but a few articles of woman's dress, though there was also a man's clothing in the room. There were also tracks of a small narrow lady's gaiter in the brick-dust of an adjoining alley-way.

The Governor of Maine is greatly alarmed at the prospect of Confederating the British Provinces of America, and calls upon the people to remonstrate against it.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.

At a Fenian Convention last night, the astounding disclosure was made, that James Stephens had retired from Fenian Brotherhood, and that he is still in New York. His conduct is attributed to cowardice. Brig. Gen. Gleason is appointed his successor.

CITY OF MEXICO, Dec. 27th.

An Imperial decree has been issued ordering a new enrolment of property to be taxed for the support of the Government, embracing every known description of property within the jurisdiction of the Empire. The taxes are to be paid every other month of the year under penalty of compulsion and payment of costs. Gen. Dorai commands the French forces at Puebla, where Maximilian was living in a most private manner. The City Council welcomed him in an address, praying for the prosperity of the Empire and the consolidation of the nation. Col. Bravo and three of his chiefs (Mexicans) have been shot by the Imperialists.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.

At a meeting of the Fenian Centres and Delegates this evening, a letter was read from Mr. Stephens, stating that he was surprised and indignant at recent action of Centres and Delegates and reports in daily papers of his defection. He denies having deserted the organization, refuses to be deposed, and means to fulfil his promise before long. He promises an explanation.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 9.
