" RETROSPECTIONS."

"I feel rejoiced in being able to repeat, withou fear of being successfully contradicted, that our noble order, at the present time, is in a healthy and prosperous condition. The returns from the several Divisions, together with the reports from the different deputies fully warrant this statement. During the past year fifteen new Divisions have been instituted, and seven reorganized." Extract from the report of the G. S., S. of T., for 1867.

Slow sinks the December sun 'Neath yon western hills of flame, And sixty-seven's sands are well nigh run ; What is the Temperance record fame ?

In the year so swiftly fled, What for humanity was done ? And does our star still shed Its soft light over victories won ?

Exerts our Order still the sway, And saving influence over men ? Or passes it from earth away, While temperance weeps with fallen man ?

O muse of Temperance, answer me This anxious heart and throbbing brow ; Speak and from gloomy doubt set free, And fan anew the Temperance flame.

When hope and faith were nearly dead, " Old Turk " arose with saving power, Flung out the flag and onward led The temperance van in that dark hour.

The story we need not repeat, Or how they fought the fiendish foe, Where everywhere they did defeat, Fell cause of misery and woe.

The trumpet's note rang loudly out, The Temperance force were fire again ; King Alcohol they put to rout, And broke the inebriate's chain.

In many a rural village fair Our guiltless banners wave, The brotherhood our emblems viewed, " And rushed to conquer and to save."

O, brothers we have struggled long To hold the ground, the cause maintain, With faith in God and truth we're strong, And in the future shall not wane.

But often when some generous heart Would dare to battle for the cause, went away feeling somewhat disheartened, only as I closed the door I heard Johnny coaxing: "Mayn't I go, pa? I want to go awful bad !" Johnny gained his point in this as in most cases, and on the following Sunday he was one of the first to greet me as I entered the ball. His sister Mary was with them, looking every whit as pleased as he, only more quiet about it.

"This is my new jacket," said Johnny, "and I've got a new cap to wear to your Sunday-school, and we are coming all the time, me and Mary, if I want to. I made pa say that I might come." Johnny was a very bright, intelligent boy for his years. He soon became deeply interested in the school, and no matter what the weather was, he was always present with his little hymn perfectly learned. I continued to call often on the family, and was pleased to find that Mr. Winter took some interest in Johnny's lesson, although he still said that he did not like either church or Sunday-school, and if he had his way, the children would not be seen inside the walls. "That is the way he always talks," said his wife one evening, following me to the door with a light, ' but Johnny and Mary never would have gone if he had not given them leave. I wouldn't have dared to let them, but O, I am so glad that he was willing," and tears sprang to her eyes.

The next Sunday John marched into the hall triumphant, and whispered in my ear :

"I'm going to learn Bible verses like Benny Frank. Pa says I may. I teased him till he told me yes." Another point gained. It may be supposed that I watched the progress of events with much interest. Our anniversary was approching. Johnny and Mary had each a hymn to repeat, and of course they were anxious that their father and mother should be present to hear them. Johnny began to "coax pa" three weeks before hand, but I confess I had my doubts in regard to his success, for Mr. Winter had positively declared that nothing would tempt him to enter either a church or the Sunday-school room. The evening came at length; the children began to gather in the hall at an early hour, but I missed Mary and Johnny. Can it be possible, I thought, that their father, wearied by their importunity, had refused to let them come to-night? The exercises had begun, it was ten minutes past the time, and Johnny had never been late before. I was beginning to feel quite anxious, when I heard the patter of little feet on the stair, and in a moment he appeared, his bright face all a-glow with smiles, and holding fast his father's hand, while Mary and her mother followed close behind. The hall was already well filled, but you may be sure we found seats for Mr. and Mrs. Winter. Early in the following week I

By jealousy is made to smart; Agrees it with our noble laws?

Yet there's a joy in doing right That will amply for this atone; A zeal that nerves the heart to fight For those in slavery who groan.

To Father Heustis, honored name, A debt of gratitude we owe; His native land now him does claim, Where broadly he the seed will sow.

And now my muse ceases to sing, The Uhristmas bells begin to chime, I drink your health from crystal spring, And wish you all a happy time.

The most gratifying proof of the expansion of the business is exhibited in the one following fact-that the increase alone of the last three years exceeds the entire business of some of the existing and of many of the recently defunct fire insurance companies of this kingdom.

While the Premiums for the year 1558 are 196,148 Showing an actual increase of 66,088 or upwards of 50 per cent. in three years.

The recent returns of duty made by Government for this atter year (1858) again show the "Royal" as more that maintaining the ratio of its increase as stated in former years. Only one among the London insurance offices exhibits an advance to the extent of one-half the increase of the Company, while all the others respectively fall far short of the molety of its advance.

The amount of new Life Premiums received this year is by far the largest received in any similar period since the ncement of the business, and must far exceed the that you don't believe in Sunday-schools, for I hoped hall by little Mary, that Johnny was very sick with average of amount received by the most successful offices that you would let your little ones come to ours next scarlet fever. ULCERATED CANCER CURED !

Who needs better proof than the following voluntary testimony of Mrs. HANNAH BALMAIN, of Wickham, N. B. : Some four years since there came a lump in my breast, in connection with their Manufactory, where we will keep and at the time 1 did not know what it was; but on show-ing it to three Doctors, they told me it was a "CANCER," and for which the knife would have to be applied; then which we will sell at as low Prices as can be found in St. again, I went to a female Doctor, who has been in the habit of curing Cancers by drawing them out, but she informed me that it was deep in the flesh and too long seated, and therefore could not help me. Knowing that something must be done, I concluded to try your medicine, which I s w advertised in the VISITOR. Accordingly, I sent for a can of Ointment and Powders for making the Syrup, which I used without the slightest change at the time, I began to think it was a failure, but concluded to give it another trial; consequently I procured another can of Ointment and Powders, and from its use it gathered and broke in two places, and discharged very freely for about six months, after which time it broke again in another place, and one of the old Ulcers healed up, the remaining two still remaining, one of which ran for two and a half years, the other deadly mixtures so common to be found amongst other healing up in about two months after it broke, during which time I used your medicine regularly. I may here if you want ease, comfort, and economy in washing, which state, that the last Ulcer healed up about thirteen months ago, since which time I have enjoyed good health ! Yes, I may say better health than I have enjoyed for years. 1 remain yours, respectfully

MRS. HANNAH BALMAIN. Wickham, Q. C., February 11, 1867.

EXTRACT OF A LETTER.

FIVE ISLANDS, Nova Scotia, October 21, 1867. MESSRS. ROGERS & Co .- Gents : My daughter is nicely, and you have done wonders, for I never thought you would make a cure as you have done. Her leg appears to be quite strong, but it itches a little. EDWARD CORBETT. Yours, &c.,

The above was a very severe case of Scrofula of four or five years standing, and after having baffled the skill of the best Physicians and almost every other Patent Medicine, and the child appeared to be on the verge of the grave, and the parents having lost confidence in every thing in the nedical line, we undertook the cure for a certain sum, and change upon Washing Days.
